Senate Votes to Repeal Embargo On Sale of Arms

Action Clears Way For Neutrality Bill Passage
67 TO 22 BALLOT

House Leaders Hope to Complete Vote Week From Tomorrow

Washington—(AP)—The senate went on record for repealing the arms embargo 67 to 22 today, but a fighting opposition promptly demanded one more ballot on the controversial issue before permitting a final vote on the administration neutrality bill.

Leaders on both sides agreed the 67 to 22 ballot was a vote to repeal the embargo, but subsequently Senator Clark (D-Mo.) said he would seek one more ballot on this key issue.

The repeal vote, reached on the twentieth day of the senate's history-making neutrality debate, came on a proposal by Senator Nye (D-N.D.) to discard the administration measure and substitute a bill similar to that of the administration, except that it would maintain the existing ban on arms sales.

The vote by which the senate voiced its approval of arms embargo repeal by rejecting the Nye motion to substitute for the administration neutrality bill his bill retaining the embargo (22):
Democrats—Bulow, Chavez, Clark of Idaho, Clark of Missouri, Donahue, Holt, Overton, Reynolds, Walsh, Wheeler—10.
Republicans—Capper, Frazier, Holman, Johnson of California, Lodge, McNary, Nye, Vandenberg, Wiley—9.
Farmer Labor—Shipstead and Lundeen—2.
Progressive—LaFollette—1.

Against the Nye substitute (67):
Democrats—Adams, Andrews, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Browder, Burke, Byrd, Byrnes, Cawley, Chandler, Connally, Ellender, George, Gerry, Gillette, Green, Guffy, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, Kerr, Hill, Hughes, Johnson of Colorado, King, Lee, Lucas, Maloney, McKellar, Mead, Miller, Minton, Murray, Neely, O'Mahoney, Pepper, Pittman, Radcliffe, Russell, Schwartz, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Slattery, Smathers, Smith, Stewart, Thomas of Oklahoma, Thomas of Utah, Truman, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner—54.
Republicans—Austin, Barbour, Bridges, Danaher, Davis, Gibson, Gurney, Hale, Taft, Tobey, Townsend, White—12.
Independent—Norris—1.

Repeal of the embargo was recommended by President Roosevelt when he called congress into special session last month. Although it was but one of his recommendations for revising the neutrality law, it immediately became the crux of the entire foreign policy fight in the senate.

Aid to Allies
All sides agreed the effect of repeal would be to give aid to England and France in their war with Germany, but many repeal proponents argued the present embargo is unneutral. Opponents of repeal, on the other hand, argued that action would be unneutral.

Driving toward the passage of the administration's neutrality bill by the senate, the Nye substitute (D-Mo.) lost out 65 to 26, the heavy preponderance of votes which supported the administration being in line with voting on other controversial amendments earlier in the week.

Administration leaders predicted final passage of the measure—with its provision for repealing the arms embargo—late in the day.

On the house side, it was learned that leaders at a long meeting last night tentatively agreed on proceeding to page 25 col. 8.

Pontiff Assails Governments Assuming 'Absolute Autonomy' As He Issues First Encyclical

Hopes End of Present War in Europe Will Result In Treaties Assuring Lasting Peace; Offers Consolation to Dismembered Poland

Castel Gandolfo—(AP)—Pope Pius XII today condemned governments which assume "that absolute autonomy which belongs exclusively to the Supreme Maker" and offered consolation to dismembered Poland.

In the first encyclical of his reign, the pontiff, after recounting the failure of his efforts for peace, also pleaded for settlements at the end of the present European war which would avoid the errors of past treaties which failed to bring lasting peace.

He blamed denial of "the authority of God and the sway of His law" for the rise of governments which make the state "the last end of life."

The war, he said, would fail to impose a decisive change in conditions—unless followed by treaties of peace "animated by justice and by equity toward all."

He warned "there is danger lest settlements be born in such conditions" as "sacrifices and sufferings."

At the same time, he said, respect for treaties was indispensable to peace.

"As we write these lines," the pope said, "the terrible news comes to us that the dread tempest of war is already raging in spite of all our efforts to avert it."

He said "new errors" added to the "doctrinal aberrations of the past" have pushed these "to extremes which lead inevitably to a drift toward chaos."

"Once the authority of God and the sway of His law are denied in this way," Pope Pius declared in his letter of more than 11,000 words to all Catholic bishops, "civil authority as a negotiable result tends to attribute to itself that absolute autonomy which belongs to the Supreme Maker."

Forbids Appeal to Reason
"It puts itself in the place of the Almighty and elevates the state or group into the last end of life, the supreme criterion of moral and juridical order, and therefore forbids appeal to reason."

Salen Denies He Obtained Funds Or Promised 'Fix'

Says He Represented Association Only During Organization

Waukesha—(AP)—Herman R. Salen, on trial charged with perjury and false swearing, today denied from the witness stand three of the state's accusations that he was connected with a purported attempt to obtain gambling protection.

Salen, former Waukesha district attorney, was the first defense witness. He told a circuit court jury that:

He had never represented the Automatist Merchandisers' association, a group of Waukesha county slot machine operators, except in preparing its organization papers as a legal association.

He had never handled the association funds.

He had never told anyone that he could "fix" the district attorney or the sheriff so that slot machines could operate without interruption in the county.

Testifying about a preliminary organization meeting, Salen said: "No one said anything about slot machines in my presence. There were nothing said about protection at that or any other meeting."

Denies 'Fixing'
"I stated, of course, the association must be limited to legal machines to be covered by a legal association and slot machines could not be covered."

"Then you didn't hear anything about 'fixing' the district attorney and sheriff?" asked Lawrence Brody, La Crosse, chief of defense counsel.

"There were a lot of strange men there and no one knowing me would be foolish enough to accuse me of saying anything like that," Salen answered. "No one gave me any money and none was collected in my presence."

Salen declared the only money he ever received was $300 in attorney fees "later on."

The prosecution began its cross-examination shortly before the noon recess, questioning Salen on the details of the association's organization.

Joblessness Nearly As Bad as Dread of War, Landon Asserts

Mount Vernon, Iowa—(AP)—Alfred M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, today declared unemployment in the United States has left almost as many persons homeless and hungry "as has the ruthless force of Hitler and Stalin."

In a speech at the inauguration of the University of Iowa, Landon pointed out that Americans have watched the shifting and regrouping of European populations "with something akin to horror."

"But what of the great shifting of population in this country?" he asked. "A shift from steady jobs to makeshift existence in unemployment?"

"Has not the ruthless force of economic displacement left almost as many people homeless and hungry as has the ruthless force of Hitler and Stalin? The dread of unemployment may be as demoralizing as the dread of war."

"The weakness in our system, in that part of us are living in plump comfort and part of us almost as outcasts, must not be overlooked."

Flint Off for Reich, Germans Say; Reds Mum

American Freighter Reported to be Nearing British Blockade Zone

PRIZE CREW ABOARD

U. S. Envoy Fails to Get Appointment at Soviet Foreign Office

Washington—(AP)—Secretary Hull said today he was completely baffled in his efforts to get adequate information from the Russian government of the City of Flint, which to the state department has become a veritable mystery ship.

State department officials were unanimous in criticizing the Soviet government for giving information on the City of Flint through the Soviet news agency some hours before it was delivered to the interested government, the United States.

Berlin—(AP)—Official advices received here tonight said the United States steamer City of Flint was being sailed from Murnansk to Germany under command of a prize crew from the German pocket battleship Deutschland.

The freighter was reported somewhere along the Norwegian coast, near the British blockade area. The vessel, seized as a contraband ship and taken to the Russian port of Murnansk, was released last night by Soviet Russia.

Advices reaching Berlin said the Germans lost no time in lifting anchor for Hamburg where a prize court was planned to decide on the fate of the ship and her cargo.

Germany's seizure of the Flint assumed growing importance today as a possible precedent in future naval policies of sea warfare against Great Britain.

Germans generally contended that the sea patrol which boarded the American freighter was within its rights.

Released Last Night

(The City of Flint was released last night by Soviet Russia from the port of Murnansk—where a German prize crew had sailed her. But where she was bound or who was in command, the American crew or her German captors—was not clear.)

Germans submarine commanders said they would have no trouble conveying her from Murnansk down the North sea and through the British blockade to Hamburg.

A spokesman of the United States embassy here said last night that questions involving international law in the City of Flint issue and ultimate disposition of the vessel still were "way up in the air."

Germany had announced no decision.

The authoritative commentary service, Dienst aus Deutschland, however, disputed what it called a widely-raised argument in the United States that it was illegal to commandeer the freighter because less than half of her cargo was contraband.

Federal Debt Now Tops 41 Billion

Treasury Brought Within 4 Billion of Its Borrowing Limit

Washington—(AP)—The federal debt went over the $41,000,000,000 mark today, bringing the treasury within $4,000,000,000 of its borrowing limit.

The daily treasury statement disclosed the debt total had reached $41,023,872,434 as a result of a $51,055,840 increase in one day due to borrowing on short term bills and to baby bond sales. A year ago, the debt was $38,424,932,579.77.

The new peak caused a revival of discussion in fiscal circles of how and when the administration should ask, as it has said it would, for congress to boost the limit from the present $45,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000.

Mention of such legislation caused some congressional criticism last session, and is expected to bring more debate at the session beginning in January.

The federal debt was $16,026,087,087, or an average of $129 a person, on Dec. 31, 1930, but since then has risen almost month by month to its present record level, which equals about $311 a person.

Plans for Flying Torpedo, Explosive Enough To Sink Large Battleship, Sent to Capital

Chicago—(AP)—Specifications for a flying torpedo operated remotely by television and "so explosive it could destroy even a large battleship" have been submitted to the war department by the American Television Institute, U. A. Sanabria, chief of staff, disclosed today.

Sanabria, who with Dr. Lee De Forest, pioneer radio engineer, operates the institute, chiefly as a training school, said the television torpedo interested army officers at a West Point demonstration last May. At the suggestion of military experts, he added, he turned over the plans to the war department.

In design the flying torpedo is a small streamlined, radio-controlled airplane, the guiding transmitter being installed in a larger plane. Besides the radio receiver, Sanabria explained, the remote controlled torpedo would carry a load of explosives in the fuselage, capped by the ordinary mechanism which sets off the blast upon contact with its target.

"This torpedo," he continued, "has been successfully demonstrated and can function at present. However, it has one great disadvantage in its present form—the master plane and its transmitter must remain in close contact with it at all times. This has been shown to be necessary in order effectively to steer the projectile to its target, because the control engineer must be able to see where it is going."

"In our television torpedo, however, we mount an iconoscope or similar television tube, equipped with a large focusing lens which constitutes the nose piece of the plane. Now we can transmit an image through the iconoscope in the nose of the flying torpedo to the screen in the cabin of the master plane several miles in the rear."

"The control engineer sees the image of the countryside exactly as

Publication of Names 'Sordid,' Roosevelt Says

LEAGUE IS SCORED

Committee Charges Peace And Democracy Body Violated Law

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt branded as "sordid procedure" today publication by the Dies committee of the names of more than 500 government employees on the "membership and mailing list" of the American League for Peace and Democracy.

The committee charged that the league was a "front" for communist activity.

Asked to comment on publication of the list this week, the president told a press conference he had not read enough of the details of that rather "sordid procedure" to comment.

He agreed to a reporter's request that direct quotations of the phrase be permitted, a departure from the usual press conference procedure.

Committee's Charges
The Dies committee linked with national defense today its charge to the justice department that the American League for Peace and Democracy was guilty of a "flagrant violation" of federal law.

A committee letter to the department, bearing the signature of Chairman Dies (D-Texas), said there was "ample evidence" that the league was an agency of the communist international in Moscow.

Therefore, the committee contended, the league was violating the law requiring agents of foreign principals to register with the state department.

"The case of the American League for Peace and Democracy," formerly known as the American League Against War and Fascism, clearly requires attention in connection with the strengthening of our national defense," the letter added.

An effort by Representative Schafer (R-Wis.) to insert in the Congressional Record the "names appearing on the Dies committee report" was blocked by Representative Geyer (D-Calif.).

Schafer asked unanimous consent to include the list of what he termed "New Deal public officials belonging to the communist-created, controlled, and dominated American League for Peace and Democracy."

Hospital Head Says Former Employee Tried To Abduct Ruth Judd

Phoenix, Ariz.—(AP)—Dr. Louis J. Saxe, superintendent of the Arizona State Hospital for the Insane, charged today that a former employee "attempted to kidnap" Ruth Judd, trunk murderer, last July.

The mad slayer fled from the woman's ward of the hospital Tuesday night and still remained at large today, Dr. Saxe did not elaborate on the charge. He hinted, however, it might have been a political move to embarrass him.

"I questioned Mrs. Judd regarding the attempted kidnapping," Dr. Saxe said, "but she denied it, adding that she would never think of such a thing as kidnapping."

He returned last night, abandoning his vacation in California, to assist in the investigation.

He said he had no idea where Mrs. Judd might have gone, but named Mexico as a logical place. Mrs. Judd, he said, "spoke good Spanish."

State Officers Raid 3 Watertown Homes

Madison—(AP)—State beverage tax division agents raided three homes in Watertown yesterday and arrested three men on charges of violating the state liquor law.

Chief Enforcement Officer John W. Roach said those arrested were Charles Kraehne, Anton Branz and Frank Odgers.

Roach said a quantity of wine, alcohol, home brew and empty whiskey bottles was found at Kraehne's home, that agents discovered un-stamped liquor and wine at the Branz home and found Odgers in possession of unstamped "cut" alcohol.

Attorneys Charge 'Uterior Motives' Forced Bank Trial

Move for Dismissal in Leopold Case; Judge Delays Ruling

Shawano—(AP)—Counsel for eight former officials and stockholders of the closed Leopold State bank charged in county court yesterday that "ulterior motives" had prompted criminal action against the bankers.

The charges were made at a preliminary hearing for the defendants, who are charged with embezzlement and fraudulent banking practices. The defendants are A. N. Brunner, former cashier, his wife, Elsie; Victor L. Soucek, former assistant cashier; C. O. Fols; Adams Grosskopf, Alfred Schmidt, F. W. Schmidt and J. C. Rutte.

Moving for dismissal of the charges, the defense lawyers declared that the criminal action was being used to force settlement of a civil lawsuit brought in connection with liquidation of the bank's assets.

John W. Byrnes, Green Bay lawyer and special deputy banking commissioner in charge of the liquidation, is the complainant.

Asks for Proof
Judge C. B. Dillett continued the hearing without acting upon the motion for dismissal and instructed defense counsel to submit proof of their charges on Nov. 7.

"These charges are serious," the court asserted, "and I would like to know who is playing the leading role in this apparent travesty upon this court."

Louis J. Brunner, attorney for A. N. Brunner, declared under oath that he had been approached several times by a representative of the banking commission and reminded of the necessity of settling the civil case for a certain cash consideration. He said he was told that if a settlement could be made, the criminal charges would be taken care of separately.

H. E. Koehler and O. S. Luckenbach, of defense counsel, said they had been approached several times, by a representative of the commission, in regard to a settlement. Such proposals were made, they said, "at least twice in Madison, once or twice at Leopold, and three or four times at Green Bay."

Conrad Verbrick Dies at 69 Years

Was Officer of W. S. Patterson Co. for Nearly 40 Years

Conrad Verbrick, who began work with the W. S. Patterson Co. as a steamfitter helper 46 years ago, and was secretary and treasurer of the company for more than 20 years, died about 7 o'clock this morning following a stroke suffered Wednesday.

Funeral services for Mr. Verbrick, who was 69 years of age and lived at 1309 S. Oneida street, will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Sacred Heart church. Burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery chapel.

The body has been taken to the Schommer Funeral home.

Mr. Verbrick was a native of West Point, Neb., where he lived with his parents until they brought him to Appleton about 61 years ago. He entered the employ of the W. S. Patterson company when he was about 20 years of age; in 1901 he became vice president of the company, retaining that position until the death of the late W. S. Patterson about 20 years ago when he was made secretary-treasurer.

For many years Mr. Verbrick was active in affairs of Sacred Heart parish and was treasurer of the Appleton Apocrypha from its reorganization until his retirement this year. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Holy Name society.

Survivors include his widow; four daughters, Mrs. William McGinnis, Effie and Florence Verbrick, Appleton; Mrs. Donald Meyer, Neenah; four sons, Norbert, Menasha, Conrad, Kaukauna; Emmet and Edward, Appleton; one sister, Mrs. Kate Crowe, Appleton.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock Saturday evening by the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters at the funeral home, at 7:30 Sunday evening by the Catholic Order of Foresters and at 8:15 Sunday evening by the Holy Name society.

Ohio Woman Confesses She Killed Her Husband

Youngstown, Ohio—(AP)—A woman telephoned police headquarters today: "I've murdered my husband."

A cruiser squad sped to the address and found the body of Henry Smythe, 41, his head battered. Police Captain Charles Richmond said Smythe's widow confessed striking her husband with a hammer as he slept. Mrs. Smythe told the officer she and her husband had been estranged.

"I should have done it long ago," Richmond quoted her.

Shawano—(AP)—Marjorie June Koehler, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Koehler of Cecil, died in a hospital here last night of burns suffered while playing with matches earlier in the day.

Parents of Triplets

LaCrosse—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Green today became the parents of triplet sons, 17 months after the birth of twin boys. Green is unemployed.

Milwaukee Coed Is Candidate for 'Prom King' at University
Madison—(AP)—Lois Warfield, a junior student from Milwaukee, startled the University of Wisconsin campus crowd today by announcing she would be a candidate for "king" of the junior prom on Feb. 2.

She filed notice with the dean of men's office that she would oppose John Howell, Milwaukee, who otherwise had the field to himself by withdrawal of all other candidates. Howell has appeared as a female impersonator in campus musical shows.

The students tried to figure out how a girl could be elected "prom king" and who would be "prom queen" if she were successful.

Her grandmother, Mrs. Ben Hooper, Oshkosh, once ran for United States senator against the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Sr.

Walter Mehl, Wauwatosa, a member of the track team entered the senior class president race against George Robbins, Glidden, and Dorothy Boettger, Seattle.

Car Turns Over After Driver Loses Control in Fog

PROBE DROPPED

Third Occupant of Machine Escapes With Minor Injuries

In a tragic aftermath of a wedding dance, one Appleton resident was killed instantly and another died of injuries received in an auto accident on a fog-laden highway early this morning.

The victims are Miss Florentina Anna Behnke, 24, and Ernest K. Witzke, 34, both of whom resided at 518 N. Richmond street. Mrs. Witzke, the third occupant of the car, was injured about the head and back.

Mrs. Behnke was killed instantly when the car she was driving slid off the right side of Highway 114 between Hilbert and Sherwood, traveled about 100 feet along the shoulder, and overturned in the ditch.

Witzke, owner of the car, died at 7:55 this morning in Appleton. Both victims suffered skull fractures. The accident occurred some time between 1 o'clock and 1:30 this morning.

Dr. J. J. Minahan, Chilton, Calumet county coroner, who was called to the scene of the crash, said today there would be no inquest.

Returning From Dance
The car bearing the three Appleton people, who were returning from a wedding dance at Charlesburg in Calumet county, overturned on about a half-mile south of the intersection of Highway 114 and Highway 55, south of Sherwood. The victims were brought to Appleton.

Relatives said today that Miss Behnke had gone to the dance with another couple. When the dance was over, Mrs. Witzke asked her to drive the Witzke car home and she consented. The couple with whom Miss Behnke had come to the dance was driving ahead when the accident occurred.

Miss Behnke was born in West Bloomfield June 2, 1915, and lived in Appleton the last nine years. She roomed at the Witzke home on Richmond street. She was a member of St. Paul Lutheran church and was employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Behnke, West Bloomfield; a brother, Louis, West Bloomfield; three sisters, Edna, Appleton; Ione, Arcyle, West Bloomfield.

Funeral Sunday
Funeral services will be conducted at 12:30 Sunday afternoon at Wichmann Funeral home by the Rev. F. M. Brandt and at 2 o'clock at St. John Lutheran church in East Bloomfield by the Rev. A. E. Schneider. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Mr. Witzke was born in Appleton Dec. 7, 1905, and lived here all his life. He was employed at the Appleton Wire Works the last 16 years and was a member of St. Paul Lutheran church.

Surviving are the widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Witzke, Appleton; four brothers, Otto, Green Bay; Albert, August, Paul, Appleton; four sisters, Mrs. Walter Boehme, Chicago; Mrs. Guy Manning, Sheboygan; Mrs. Walter Blohm, Appleton, and Mrs. George Grey, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:45 Monday afternoon at Wichmann Funeral home and at 2 o'clock at St. Paul Lutheran church by the Rev. F. M. Brandt.

Finns Told They Will Have Final Voice in Agreement With Russia

Helsinki—(AP)—The Finnish people have been assured that theirs will be the final decision on any bargain with Soviet Russia.

Foreign Minister Elias Erko, addressing a patriotic meeting last night in the state theater, appealed for confidence and courage, saying, "the people of Finland must decide their own future and choose their own path."

Finland's aged President Kyoesti Kallio, seated in a box in the balcony, brought the meeting to a close by rising and calling for "three cheers for Finland."

Seated in the audience was the delegation headed by Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, which returned from its second trip to Moscow and reported yesterday on Russian demands which Finland has found unacceptable.

Paasikivi's group expected to go to Moscow again Sunday.

Erko's speech, the longest exposition of the situation since Russia started the negotiations, referred to countries "wiped off the map of Europe," but mentioned no names.

The foreign minister said "relations between Finland and the country which inaugurated these questions are capable of improvement."

HAIR WORTH ITS WAIT IN GOLD

If you're a healthy young man, says a gland expert, you may expect to grow 886,950 hairs between your 20th and 30th year. Elsewhere we read that a wisp of 16 hairs from the head of Admiral Nelson was sold at auction for $55. At that rate, young man, you'll have grown 3,048,870 dollars' worth of hair by the time you're fifty—and a famous admiral. So keep shampooing and wait for it. The time will pass pleasantly and usefully if you read The Post-Crescent classified wanteds. This one interested many and brought an immediate sale:

Neutrality Foes 'Shameless Fakes,' Roosevelt Says

Denounces Speakers Who Claim Intent to Send Soldiers Abroad

Washington—President Roosevelt, striking out at critics who charge his foreign policy may lead the United States to war, accused them last night of perpetrating "one of the worst fakes in current history."

In and out of congress, he said, orators have been "beating their breasts and proclaiming against sending the boys of American mothers to fight on the battlefields of Europe."

This, he asserted in a radio address, is "a shameless and dishonest fake." No persons in any post of responsibility anywhere in the United States, he said, has ever suggested American boys be sent to fight abroad.

The president's speech, made as the senate neared final action on his proposal to repeal the arms embargo, was delivered from the White House under auspices of the New York Herald Tribune forum on "The War's Challenge to the United States."

Press Praised

The president also praised the "loyalty of the press and the radio for 'objective reporting' of the international situation. He said this had worked so well he wished for more of it in the field of domestic news."

After repeating this country is neutral and does not intend to get involved in the war, the President said:

"That we can be neutral in thought as well as in act, as I have said before, is impossible of fulfillment because again, the people of this country, thinking things through calmly and without prejudice, have been and are making up their minds about relative merits of current events on other continents."

Minds Sharp

"It is a fact increasingly manifest that presentation of real news has sharpened the minds and the judgment of men and women everywhere in these days of real public discussion—and we Americans begin to know the difference between the truth on the one side and the falsehood on the other, no matter how often the falsehood is iterated and reiterated. Repetition does not transform a lie into a truth."

Discussing propaganda, he said it was perhaps a good thing congress had been "deluged" with it from time to time in behalf of various causes. He explained:

"Members of the house of representatives and the senate begin to discriminate nowadays, unhesitatingly, between the honest, spontaneous, unadorned expressions of opinion on the part of voters and the propaganda type of mass appeals."

In another portion of his speech, the President said there were two distinct dangers to democracy—the "peril from those who seek the fulfillment of ideals at a pace too fast for the machinery of the modern body politic to function—people who by insistence on too great speed foster an oligarchic form of government such as communism, or Nazism or Fascism. He said:

"The other group, which presents an equal danger, is composed of that small minority which complains that the democratic processes are inefficient as well as being slow, people who would have the whole of government put into the hands of a little group of those who have proved their efficiency in lines of specialized science or specialized private business."

"They equally, and in most cases unconsciously too, are in effect advocating the oligarchic form of government, communism, or Nazism, or Fascism."

Extreme rightists and extreme leftists, he said, should not be taken out and shot against the wall "for they sharpen the argument and make us realize the value of the democratic middle course—especially if at that middle course, in order to keep up with the times, is just a little bit left of center."

He gave four definitions as follows:

"A radical is a man with both feet firmly planted—in the air."

"A conservative is a man with two perfectly good legs who, however, has never learned to walk."

"A reactionary is a somnambulist walking backwards."

"A liberal is a man who uses his legs and his hands at the behest of his head."

There still was no official word that the City of Flint actually had departed but well informed quarters said last night that she had left, flying the American flag.

"Running Start"

Unofficial British quarters expressed belief that the Russian government was keeping silent to give the German prize crew "a running start" toward a German port. This was predicated on a belief that the German crew, released from internment, was back in control of the freighter.

Further international complications in the case were foreseen if the City of Flint was unable to get through the British blockade in the North Sea.

It seemed probable that British warships would be lying in wait for her and just as likely that she would be under the guard of German submarines—assuming she is in German hands and headed for Germany.

The Soviet Russian announcement last night that the ship had been ordered out of the Arctic port of Murmansk after inspection of her cargo did not clarify whether she was in control of a prize crew of 18 or her American crew.

Report Cargo Removed

Whether she still carried her cargo of tractors, grain and other shipments consigned to Britain likewise was in doubt. (The Danish radio, announcing release of the ship, said the cargo first had been taken off.)

United States Secretary of State Hull had demanded that Russia hand over the vessel and cargo to the American crew.

In informed quarters here it was said the City of Flint flew the American flag as she sailed out into the Arctic ocean—a denial of German reports that the nazi swastika flew from her staff.

Swiss President Guards Neutrality With Cigarettes

Basel, —President Philipp Etter guards Swiss neutrality—even when it comes to free cigarettes.

Visiting Swiss frontier posts today, he gave cigarettes to his soldiers, passed the pack across the line to French troops guarding the pass, and then made the same gesture to Germans patrolling their section of the border.

French Expecting Strong Drive by German Troops

Report Nazi Tanks and Rapid-Fire Artillery in Attacking Positions

Paris —(AP)—The Germans have moved tanks and rapid-fire artillery into attacking positions on the Siegfried line, French military observers reported today.

French patrol reports indicated that the Germans facing the Maginot fortifications were in "hurried" spots along the northern flank, but an intense cold snap proved an ally of the French, who said they were all set for a German offensive.

The cold and flooded regions in some parts of the front caused French observers to doubt that a German drive would be immediate, but they said they expected it as soon as a rift in the weather appeared.

Reconnoitering units skirmished in snow, sleet and icy rain along the 100-mile northern flank last night, getting some artillery support as they wallowed in the ice-crusted mud.

The sudden rigid control of German communications with Belgium and the Netherlands also led the French to suspect a big German push was imminent.

The French have estimated that Germany now has 1,500,000 men either in front-line or supporting positions.

French reports also said huge numbers of nazi bombers and fighting planes were being brought up behind the Siegfried line, but the French were depending on the weather to keep them grounded, at least temporarily.

Premier Daladier meanwhile called the cabinet to meet with him and President Lebrun today to review events on the military and diplomatic fronts and to discuss the new provisional budget for 1940, which has been set at 349,000,000 francs (about $8,000,000), nearly six times that for 1939.

In addition to this regular budget, there will be an extraordinary budget for next year.

vocating the oligarchic form of government, communism, or Nazism, or Fascism."

"A liberal is a man who uses his legs and his hands at the behest of his head."

There still was no official word that the City of Flint actually had departed but well informed quarters said last night that she had left, flying the American flag.

"Running Start"

Unofficial British quarters expressed belief that the Russian government was keeping silent to give the German prize crew "a running start" toward a German port. This was predicated on a belief that the German crew, released from internment, was back in control of the freighter.

Further international complications in the case were foreseen if the City of Flint was unable to get through the British blockade in the North Sea.

It seemed probable that British warships would be lying in wait for her and just as likely that she would be under the guard of German submarines—assuming she is in German hands and headed for Germany.

The Soviet Russian announcement last night that the ship had been ordered out of the Arctic port of Murmansk after inspection of her cargo did not clarify whether she was in control of a prize crew of 18 or her American crew.

Report Cargo Removed

Whether she still carried her cargo of tractors, grain and other shipments consigned to Britain likewise was in doubt. (The Danish radio, announcing release of the ship, said the cargo first had been taken off.)

United States Secretary of State Hull had demanded that Russia hand over the vessel and cargo to the American crew.

In informed quarters here it was said the City of Flint flew the American flag as she sailed out into the Arctic ocean—a denial of German reports that the nazi swastika flew from her staff.

ESCAPED HAMMER SLAYER VISITS HER PARENTS

Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted trunk murderer, paid a brief visit to her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, after she escaped from the Arizona State hospital for insane at Phoenix. The McKinnells are shown here in their home after they had told of her visit. Rev. McKinnell, aged and ailing, was reported near death.

Lack of 'Oomph' Indicates European Conflict Is Apt to Wind Up in Political Peace

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(AP)—British Premier Chamberlain has accepted German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop's challenge of war to a finish, and Berlin has indicated that bombs will begin to crash soon.

Well and good, if they like it that way, but neither of these gentlemen has told us what sort of finish to expect, and it's mighty obscure.

However, it wouldn't be rash to make a small bet that the war won't die with its boots on, but that some day it will just turn its face to the wall and pass out because of lack of will to carry on.

One can't escape the haunting belief that the end will come from a crack of public morale somewhere—a breakdown due to want of sufficient inspiration to struggle on indefinitely under the burden of privation and death.

The allies are using all their wiles to bring this to pass in Germany. And from the nazi front lines loud-speakers blare out across no-man's land—"Frenchmen, lay down your arms and shake hands! The Germans don't want to fight!"

"Lacks Oomph"

The trouble with this unwanted war is that it lacks both oomph and soul.

To date, this scrap hasn't even produced a slogan with half the punch of "We want a touchdown" to justify its existence.

A fellow can fight for a banner-line like "Remember the Maine; to hell with Spain!"

But it's hard to get really blood-thirsty over invitations to go out and "Crush Hitlerism" or smash "British Imperialism." A man's heart cannot burn for long over such abstractions, especially when they total up to mean that the conflict is to settle the question of who is to be big boss of Europe.

I visited all the big countries involved in this war within the year. I believe that as a whole their people at this juncture are loyal to their governments and are determined to win.

It has seemed to me, however, that the general public are impelled by a sense of duty rather than by any spiritual or emotional urge. That is to say, enthusiasm is lacking.

None of the peoples of Europe want war. They hate it.

Average Man Peaceable

The average man over there—from Piccadilly to the wilds of the Balkan mountains, both of which I know—wants to be peaceable and friendly, even as you and I.

Least of all does he wish to go out and kill a fellow being. It takes a lot to give a chap the guts to ram a bayonet through the throat of one who never did him any harm.

You may recall that the first Christmas after the start of the World war the German and allied soldiers took a recess from slaughter and fraternized. They shook hands and shared their boxes of food from home and even played football on this birthday of the gentle Apostle of Peace.

When the plush-chair officials heard about this horrible breach of discipline they burned up the wires to the front. It was made clear to

England Expects Air Attacks and Intensified Raids at Sea

London—(AP)—Great Britain, grimly tuning her war machinery for the winter campaign against Germany at sea and at home, opened her lists today for volunteers in the first general call since the war began Sept. 3.

Enlistments only of specialized classes have been asked previously. Age limits were set at 22 to 35 in Great Britain and 20 to 35 in Northern Ireland. Those accepted will be ordered to report Nov. 15.

Hints in the nazi press of broadening air attacks, which so far have been confined to warships at anchor or on convoy, and intensification of surface and submarine raids on allied shipping were regarded by the British as pointing the direction winter warfare will take.

In the belief war on the western front would continue unabated by mud, rain and cold weather, British experts said Germany naturally would be expected to hammer at Britain by bombing raids and action against shipping.

May Escape Blockade

Naval sources said it was probable that German surface craft other than the pocket battleship Deutschland and whatever other raiders are already at sea could slip through the North sea blockade.

Visibility in that area even on the clearest winter day is only five miles.

A wrecked German submarine containing between 50 and 60 bodies was found wrecked on the treacherous Goodwin sands, six miles off the Kentish coast in the straits of Dover.

Gunfire was heard at nearby Deal on Wednesday, but nothing could be seen until the eb tide yesterday revealed the wreck of the coast at about 1 p. m. (6 a. m. C.S.T.).

The battle was reported continuing an hour later.

(Seiero island is in the Cattegat, the narrow bottleneck between Denmark and Sweden linking the North and the Baltic seas).

Swedish Telegraph Agency reports said activity of the German fleet in Baltic waters had increased in the last few days.

They said three German cruisers accompanied by airplanes had cruised in waters between the Gotland and Oeland islands—in the Baltic sea on the east coast of Scandinavia—but reported no violations of Scandinavian neutrality.

Gotland is of great strategic importance, lying on the main north-south route of Baltic trade. Its harbor, Visby, is a Swedish naval base and its topography is well adapted for airfields. It is only 45 minutes by air from the new Soviet Russian air and naval bases in Estonia and Latvia).

Warns Job Seekers to Keep Requests Active

F. R. Gehrke, manager of the Wisconsin State Employment Service, today reminded applicants for jobs to keep their requests active by calling the employment office every 30 days. If nothing is heard from an applicant for 30 days, it is assumed he has a job and his name is dropped from the files.

Prize Crew Changed Name Of City of Flint and Flew Danish Flag, Radioman Says

Bergen, Norway—(AP)—James McConnochie, radio operator of the American freighter City of Flint, declared today the ship's German prize crew took her through ice-strewn waters with explosives planted in the engine room while they flew the Danish flag and repainted the ship's name to "AIF."

McConnochie, a Scot, gave the German captors the slip when they stopped at Tromsø, Norway, to unload survivors of the British ship Stonegate, sunk by the raider that took the Flint captive.

Mixing with the British sailors, he managed to get ashore undetected and came to Bergen with them.

His story to the Bergen newspaper Aftenbladet after his arrival here said the City of Flint sighted a foreign warship Oct. 9 which at first was assumed to be British or French but proved to be the German pocket battleship Deutschland.

The raider halted the freighter, placed the survivors of the torpedoed British ship aboard, and then proceeded to check the cargo, finding "a considerable quantity of oil."

Prize Crew Aboard

Declaring this was serious, the German commander said he would not sink the ship, McConnochie related, but placed 18 Germans on board to take possession.

The Scottish radio operator, who had been the first man to pick up the distress signals from the ill-fated British liner Athenia, said that the City of Flint thereupon began a slow, "unpleasant trip northward through 'terribly cold' seas."

Enroute, he continued, the German crewmen planted a heavy charge of explosives in the engine room, prepared to blow up the ship if they encountered trouble. Later they entered an area of floating ice, and the Germans painted out the freighter's name, substituting "AIF" for "City of Flint," and painting the Danish flag on the side.

Denies Equipment Faulty

McConnochie said it was untrue there was anything wrong either with the engines or navigation facilities of the City of Flint.

The ship pursued a dodging course north and east, keeping a ship lookout for British or French warships but none was encountered.

McConnochie said a water shortage developed that forced the freighter to put in at Port Tromsø. There the British operator said that because of his manner of speech he was able to mix with them and land successfully.

McConnochie said that the American crew members, although worried by their plight, were not treated badly by their German captors and that nothing untoward had happened to any at the time he slipped off the ship at Tromsø.

'Air Scout' Unit to Be Set Up in Troop

Clinton Schmidt, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 8, sponsored by the Congregational church, will start an "air scout" unit in the troop.

Scouts will receive instructions on the fundamentals of flying, engine and plane construction. It is planned to encourage the building of model airplanes.

FUND OVER GOAL

Milwaukee —(AP)—The 1939 Milwaukee county community fund campaign went above its goal, it was disclosed today. The total pledged was $1,068,004, the goal having been $1,067,230. It was the first time in eight years that pledges surpassed the quota.

Russia Silent as Nazis Say Flint Is Sailing for Reich

traband under either the British or German conception.

The German view of blockade warfare, it said, was that a vessel carrying contraband, however small the quantity, might be brought in as a prize and that it was up to a prize court to determine what was to be done about the non-contraband portion of the cargo and the ship herself.

FAILS TO GET DATA

Moscow—(AP)—It was reliably learned today the United States Ambassador Laurence A. Scoville had been unsuccessful in repeated attempts to gain an appointment at the foreign office in his quest for information on the United States-owned City of Flint.

The ambassador went to the foreign office last night but failed to see any high official and his efforts still were unavailing up to 1 p. m. (4 a. m., C.S.T.) today.

The embassy had no information beyond that appearing in soviet Russian newspapers—that the American freighter had been freed at the port of Murmansk where she had been taken, the captive of a German prize crew.

The embassy spent two days trying to telephone the master of the Flint, or some other officer, at Murmansk. One call got through to the port city but was cut off a minute later without conversation between that embassy and any of the Americans.

Changes May be Made in Policies Of Institutions

New State Board Already Considers Lifting of Waupun Silence Rule

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The state public welfare department, in direct charge of public policy affecting more than 100,000 pensioners, recipients of other forms of public assistance, and public charges in the insane hospitals and penal institutions, today is formally under the control of new managers installed under the Heil reorganization program.

Besides the change in personnel in the top administrative brackets, one of the immediate results may be significant changes in policy, it was indicated on good authority today.

The new state board of public welfare, under the chairmanship of R. J. Eberhardt of Whitewater, has already considered the abolition of the silence rule for the inmates of the state prison at Waupun, it was learned authoritatively. At its next meeting Monday, the board will inspect the state prison, for the purpose of further discussion of the proposal to eliminate the rule which has already been dropped by more than half of the state prisons of the country, and for investigation of the proposed new prison hospital there.

Surprised at Selections
 Some surprise was occasioned in the capitol yesterday on the selection by Director Klode of persons who will be his principal assistants as division heads in the new department.

Observers speculated on the possibility that the reaction in some quarters to Klode's selection (some members of the legislature had criticized him as technically unqualified for the $7,500 post) influenced the selection of the subordinates, especially since there was a widespread report in Republican party circles that two of the jobs would go to prominent Republicans who had served on the old board of control under the Heil administration this year.

So general was the impression that Arthur Prehn of Wausau, and Mrs. Lila Burton of Eagle would be chosen that some sources had criticized the possibility of their selection.

Personnel Inspections
 Eberhardt announced that the new board has assumed its duties with the "layman's point of view"

Sixty Guides Will Conduct Visitors at Kimberly Mill

Kimberly—About sixty guides will be in charge of taking visitors through the Kimberly mill next Thursday when the Kimberly mill and Community safety day will be held. With hundreds of registration cards being returned to mill officials this week, indications point that about 2,000 plan to make the tour. This will be one of the largest group of visitors ever to visit the mill in one day.

The guides are receiving preliminary training trips through the mill and that one of its first projects will be personal inspections of each of the 17 state institutions under its care from "the cellar to the attic."

He said that the board is not worried about potential financial problems, and indicated confidence that the relief division of the department would not be embarrassed at the outcome of the current controversy over the $5,000,000 state relief appropriation. Governor Heil vetoed a section of the appropriation which exacted a condition on its disbursement, and Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman refused to publish the remaining provisions on the ground that it was invalid with the gubernatorial partial veto. He invited the governor to institute a court test. The supreme court is expected to consider the question next month.

mill this week so that visitors will be shown through the plant with all possible courtesy and safety. Each guide will be instructed not to take more than twenty persons on a tour at one time. The tours will be made at regular intervals from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. It is expected that the largest number will be present in the afternoon.

Rehearsals are well underway at the high school for the coming one act play, entitled "Coming Around the Mountain" which will be staged at Brillion the first part of November. The play is under the direction of Miss Jean Webster. Kimberly will compete with Denmark and Brillion with the winners competing in the Little Nine conference finals.

Miss Elaine Wyngaard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Wyngaard, Second street, celebrated her fifteenth birthday Tuesday evening at her home. Games were played and refreshments were served. Those attending were, Misses Marie Hankwitz, Jane Vanden Heuvel, Charlotte Brum, Carol Tiedeman, Lorraine Tiedeman, Rita De Wildt and Alberta Adams.

Eight Communities Represented at 'Big Eight' Conference Banquet

Chilton—About forty-five members of the Eastern Wisconsin High School league were entertained at a banquet at Hotel Chilton Wednesday evening for the "Big Eight Conference" as it is called consists of the male teachers of the following eight high schools: Valders, Plymouth, Kiel, New Holstein, Kohler, Elkhart Lake, Sheboygan Falls and Chilton.

Dr. C. H. Moore of Ripon college gave an address on "Democracy and Americanism." The thesis of his speech was that "the life of another is just as precious as your own." Following the banquet, an encore solo was played by Miss Madeline Kiesner of Chilton accompanied by Miss Shirley Layde of Chilton at the piano, after which a pantomime was presented by the following Chilton Boy Scouts under the direction of the Scoutmaster Leonard Macorrie: Richard Winch, Frederick Dempsey, Earl Ninnow, Charles Schumaker, Clifford Schaub, Royal Klofanda and Noel Pingel.

NO SECRET SERVICES

Knoxville, Tenn.—(AP)—There won't be much mysticism about the mystic rites of Greek letter societies at the University of Tennessee unless the girls find more private quarters for holding initiations. The rooms assigned to them at the dormitory for their ceremonies, they have complained, permit no secrecy.

Male Pedestrians Less Careful Of Oncoming Cars Than Women

Madison—The "man on the street" is less careful about oncoming cars than the woman pedestrian, while the woman driver keeps a closer watch for pedestrians than does the male driver, if state highway commission accident records tell a true story.

In the first comprehensive study of Wisconsin pedestrian accidents ever made by the state, the highway commission reports these findings:

The safest place to walk on a rural highway is on the left side, facing oncoming traffic;

The most dangerous place to walk on a rural highway is on the right side, with traffic coming from behind you;

The safest place to cross a city street is at a marked intersection, with the traffic signal;

The most dangerous place to cross is in the middle of a block.

Figures Prove Claims

Safety workers have been saying these things for years, confident they were true, but now the state highway commission has definite figures to back up these safety claims, based on complete pedestrian statistics for Wisconsin in the years 1938, 1937 and 1936. Since the complete study has been prepared only in typewritten form, it is not available as yet for general distribution. Arrangements to print and distribute it may be made later.

In each of the three years, men constituted 68 per cent of the pedestrians struck on Wisconsin streets and highways. In 1936, men constituted 75 per cent of the pedestrians killed, but in 1937 and 1938, this increased to 80 per cent of the fatalities.

The percentage of men drivers who hit pedestrians was 88 per cent in 1936, 89 per cent in 1937, and 89.5 per cent in 1938. The percentage of men drivers who drove vehicles that killed pedestrians was 85 per cent in 1936, 84.6 per cent in 1937, and 84.5 per cent in 1938.

The constancy of these percentages over a period of three years would indicate that Wisconsin has made little progress in protecting its pedestrians, or in educating pedestrians to safeguard themselves, the state highway commission points out. Yet the state for three years has given stress to pedestrian safety and has equipped several thousand school patrols.

Pedestrian Endangered

Your chances of being killed or injured if you are involved in an accident as a pedestrian have gone up each year. In 1936, out of every 100 pedestrian accidents, 19 were killed, 15 were seriously injured, 62 were slightly injured, and four escaped any injuries. In 1937, each 100 pedestrian accidents brought 19 deaths, 14 serious injuries, 64 slight injuries and three uninjured. In 1938, 16 were killed, 15 were seriously injured, 67 slight injuries, and only two escaped without any injuries for every 100 pedestrians struck.

Walking on the right side of rural highways was traveling on the "suicide" side of the road. While 164 persons were killed walking on rural highways in the three years studied, only 13 of them were walking on the left side of the road facing oncoming traffic.

In cities, crossing in the middle of the block brought death to 253 persons in three years. At street intersections, 102 persons were killed crossing where there was no traffic signal or officer, while only six persons were killed in pedestrian accidents while crossing with the signal at intersections.

THE CHARGE OF THE 539

It has been clearly established that the American League for Peace and Democracy was brought to life by the Communist party and fed by it through contributions from the Soviet chest, all as a mask to do Moscow's bidding when the critical hour struck but in the name of an American institution with a sugared tulle and attractive aims of sweetness, love and light.

This organization collected to do its bidding 539 scallied key members of the national government, a large share of them drawing from six to ten thousand dollars a year.

Why do they do the dirty work for the Reds?

We do not think the question is hard to answer. The Reds first do their dirty work for them. With noisy aggression Mr. Browder's mouthy agents extol the virtues of these officeholders and dam their critics or political enemies. They play the constant Sir Walter Raleigh act by dropping their velvet coats purchased with proletarians' dimes to keep the officeholders' feet dry. They are both orchestra and songsters, playing the bureaucratic tunes and singing his airs.

And then comes a day when he must pay by giving support to the enemies of his country by lending his influence to practices, plans and policies that may scuttle his own ship of state but clear the barnacles from that of Moscow.

If it is a villainous plan. But it is a plan. And it was created with a keen understanding of the weakest part in the entire structure of democracy, the vanity of these New Dealers, their love of cheers, adulation, and a halo of splendor.

BACK TO 1815

We are about to quote from Well's Outline of History because in much abbreviated form it shows Europe, the same yesterday, today, and forever.

But we hope that mankind will not always be as careless in forming conclusions as it has been in the past. For the war today is just another chapter of 1914. And that is just another chapter of the Crimean war. And that is just another chapter of the Napoleonic wars. One, in fact, is no more justifiable than another. And all are, in fact, ascribable to precisely the same reasons. The nations involved put on different costumes as actors may change their roles, but the audience should not be deceived by wigs and whiskers.

Mr. Wells in a short space told much of the story of the last 125 years:

"The congress of Vienna in 1815 (which wrote the Peace of Europe after Napoleon was in final exile) destroyed the Dutch republic, lumped together the Protestant Dutch with the French-speaking Catholics of the old Spanish (Austrian) Netherlands, and set up a kingdom of The Netherlands. It handed over not merely the old republic of Venice but all of North Italy as far as Milan, the German-speaking Austrians, French-speaking Savoy is combined with pieces of Italy to restore the kingdom of Sardinia Austria and Hungary already, suddenly, explosively mixture of discordant nationalities—Germans, Hungarians, Czechs, Slovaks, Yugoslavs, Rumanians, and now Italians—was made still more impossible by confirming Austria's Polish acquisitions of 1772 and 1795.

"After the middle of the 19th century this world of new powers and old ideas, this fermenting new wine in the old bottles of diplomacy broke out through the flimsy restraint of the Treaty of Vienna with a series of wars. . . . The game of great powers was resumed with zest and it continued until it produced the catastrophe of 1914.

"The Tsar of Russia, Nicholas I was the first to move toward war. He resumed the traditional thrust of Peter the Great toward Constantinople.

"The designs of Russia were understood to clash with the designs of France in Syria, and to threaten the Mediterranean route to India of Great Britain, and the outcome was an alliance of France and England to bolster up Turkey and a war, the Crimean which ended in the retreat of Russia.

"The next phase of interest was the exploitation by the Emperor Napoleon III and the King of the small kingdom of Sardinia in North Italy, of the inconveniences and miseries of the divided state of Italy, and particularly of the Austrian rule in the north. The king of Sardinia, Victor Emmanuel, made an old-time bargain for Napoleon's help in return for the provinces of Nice and Savoy."

And so, on and on and on. America should never again participate in this struggle for power unless it has a complete workable solution of the many angled puzzle.

"DO UNTO OTHERS—"

Among the safety proposals made at the conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators in New York is the recommendation that pedestrians be compelled to abide by stop and go signals the same as drivers.

No doubt such control is needed in the metropolitan centers, traffic being what it is and human nature what it is. But a sad commentary is the fact that no law would be necessary if pedestrians and drivers could remember one thing.

A great percentage of pedestrians are sometimes drivers, all drivers are sometimes pedestrians. This interchangeability should make each more understanding of the other's viewpoint, but it doesn't. There seems to be a never-ending feud between pedestrians and drivers even though both are first on one side of the embattled thoroughfare and then on the other. A driver who five minutes before was trying to cross the street on foot, and who may be trying it again five minutes later, will tool and rant at every pedestrian who gets in his way. He may even gain a certain sadistic satisfaction when he causes some hapless person afoot to jump from the path of his car like a scared jack-rabbit. On the other hand, a pedestrian who may at that very moment be en route to his parked car will cuss the recklessness and lack of consideration of all drivers. He may also try to dash across the street against the light and then show bitter resentment towards any driver who blows a horn at him.

And so the feud rages. Immediately a man gets behind the wheel of his car, he seems to forget he ever traveled afoot, and when he gets out of the car he seems to forget that he ever drove or ever will drive again. If everyone could only remember that he is both pedestrian and driver at different times, perhaps another law would not be necessary.

A BETTER KIND OF WAR

Some things about the war in Europe seem too good to be true.

If the construction of the titanic fortresses, extending several hundred feet down into the earth, means the practical elimination of battles between great masses of men, we should recognize a wondrous blessing to mankind.

The extension of this fortification system along all European boundaries would then be one of the greatest barriers to war because men go to war only after figuring out a successful termination.

Sinking a few great ships; distressful as is the loss of a thousand or more at a time, or shooting down scores of airplanes is but as a grain of sand in comparison to Gibraltar in the matter of human wastage that formerly attended war. The first 50 days of this war between Germany, England and France certainly didn't cost 10,000 casualties. The first 50 days of 1914 cost a million.

When Herr von Ribbentrop was speaking at Danzig English airplanes flew over Berlin and Hamburg. It is true they broke up public broadcasting of the foreign minister's speech at those places because the crowds scurried for the basements. But wasn't it polite and courteous of the English not to fly over Danzig and make Herr von Ribbentrop quit in the midst of some intricate explanation?

And yet, unless we support civilian bombing, what else could airplanes do at night so high up as to be out of range than just fly about?

WHAT! NO SERPENTS!

Notwithstanding the customary drought, the usual number of cases of sunburn and the annual farm war with insects, the summer was lacking in something. Considerable research was necessary to reveal the nature of the omission, but it has now been brought to light.

There have been no sea monster stories this summer, and what is so rare, or numdram, as a summer without at least one serpent. The publicists and tall tale tellers have been strangely and disappointingly silent. Each year as the temperature reached an appropriate height they would unlumber Soon picarescent horrible monsters would begin crawling and slithering out of the waves at various points. That the scenes of these appalling sea monsters were always conveniently near an enterprising tourist resort did not seem to detract from the fascination of the stories. There was always the arresting thought that perhaps—just possibly—the sea had really yielded up some hideous creature from its depths.

But alas this summer no serpent has even to much as waggled an eyebrow above surface. This is a more ominous sign than that there are not right with the world than all of the troubles of Europe. May it be hoped that neither has not claimed another victim in the realm of legend.

TOTS TO BE KEPT FIT

Austria is financing a five-year plan for the physical fitness and welfare of children below school age. The Government proposes to establish a training and research center in each capital to operate in conjunction with a central bureau at Canevara. The Commonwealth Government is contributing $1,000,000 to the project, of which $500,000 has been allocated to the physical fitness fund. All existing movements having physical fitness for their objective will come within the sphere of the federal campaign. Child welfare and nutrition research will begin at the special training centers early next year.

DALE HARRISON'S
In Old New York

New York—The moral to this one is: You Never Can Tell.

Edith Meiser, who writes for a living, used to sing in vaudeville. Reaching Chicago for an engagement, she found that the theatre had engaged as her pianist a 16-year-old girl from Milwaukee. Miss Meiser's original plan was to bring the girl on to New York where she was to play the Palace Theatre. "Instead," she relates, "I sent her home to Milwaukee. She was so young, and so completely unsophisticated."

So what? Miss Meiser now writes harmless little radio scripts for the housewife audience, and the little girl from Milwaukee, "so young and so completely unsophisticated," is the country's best known singer of sophisticated songs—Hildegarda.

An elevator which has been in existence for 25 years and which millions of Grand Central station travelers have passed without even being aware of its existence, is finally in daily use. It is the elevator which runs between the Grand Central concourse and the lobby floor of the Biltmore Hotel. The elevator heretofore has been reserved for Presidents, other high dignitaries and invalids.

Item: Alfred Wallenstein, the conductor, is currently the last male descendant of General Albrecht von Wallenstein who was the Big Shot of the Thirty Years' War. Alfred is a quiet, democratic fellow. His ancestor, the general, had a deep desire to create a great Hapsburg empire, including Germany, which would rule Europe by power—the Adolf—if Mr. Wallenstein will forgive my saying so—Hitler of his day.

Cats with nine lives are commonplace, so Peter Van Steeden has bobbed up with a cat with three names. When the cat was first acquired by his household, Peter named him Teddy. This was all right until they bought a dog named Tooty. When either animal was called, both responded. This was too confusing for Mr. Van Steeden's orderly processes, so Teddy's name was changed to Tommy. Through all this nomenclatural chaos the cat behaved in the best feline tradition, accepting the changes with good grace. He had just become acclimated to being called Tommy when the family employed a new houseman, and his name, unfortunately, was Tommy. There was nothing to do but to change the pet's name once more. This time Van Steeden decided to make it final and irrevocable. The cat's name is now Cat.

And if the Van Steedens should ever need to employ a new housekeeper, bet your bottom dollar her name won't be Mrs. Katz.

Rhesus monkeys—the penny-collecting, organ grinder kind—cost seven dollars apiece, but they're difficult to get now because ship captains would feel foolish being torpedoed with a cargo of same.

Ed East, the comedian, has just published a booklet entitled "How to Play Piano by Ear." (The best way to play piano by ear is to invite Eddy Duchin out to the house for dinner.)

When the Germans began bombarding Warsaw, some of New York's alleged rainmakers got busy trying to figure how much rain would fall, the theory being that heavy artillery fire causes rain. Result: the rains around Warsaw were later than usual this year.

The sound effects men who fire blanks to stimulate gunfire, or radio programs in New York have to have a pistol permit. It sounds absurd, but—

That's What the Man Told Me.

10 YEARS AGO

Friday, Oct. 25, 1929

Stock price levels were stabilized that day by huge buying orders attributed to powerful banking interests.

A jury foreman intoned the word "guilty" that day into the ears of Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior in the Harding cabinet, who was accused of accepting a bribe of $100,000 from E. L. Doheny, his friend of western prospecting days, for the leasing of the Navy's Elk Hills, California, naval reserve.

Plans for the annual Christmas opening of Appleton retail stores were to be discussed at a meeting of merchants Monday morning at the chamber of commerce.

Schultz Bros company of Appleton, who had been occupying a store in the Brin theater building at Menasha, since the structure was completed, had leased an additional store which was to give the firm about a third more floor space.

25 YEARS AGO

Friday, Oct. 30, 1914

May Robson was booked for the Appleton theater in February. She was to appear in "Martha by the Day."

Two Democratic meetings were held in the county the previous night, and the large attendances indicated a great deal of interest in the forthcoming election. John A. Aylward addressed a large gathering at Kaukauna while F. J. Rooney and Theodore Berg spoke at Black Creek. Senator LaFollette was to speak at Dalo and Neenah Saturday.

Lawrence college gridders were to close their home season Saturday against Marquette. The Appleton High school team was to play at Kaukauna.

British Ambassador Mallet had informed the grand vizier at Constantinople that if the Turks crossed the frontier it would mean war with the entente powers. The Germans were in a fierce hand to hand conflict with the allies between Lepo and Middlekirk.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

TWO LITTLE BIRDS

On the edge of a long abandoned nest. Two little birds held a conversation. Maybe they only paused to rest. Perhaps they were visiting a relation. Or did they remember the birds that flew From this very nest when their world was new?

Anyway there they paused and twittered. The sun was just at the yawning stage. Over the tree a brown squirrel skittered. The day was about to turn a page. And the little birds perched there and talked and fluttered. While I longed to translate the words they uttered.

Maybe they made a date for Spring. And spoke of the South where they were heading. Maybe they whispered of blossoming. And when was the best time for a wedding. For surely he paused on his journey here To ask her to share his nest next year!

A Bystander
In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—One of the methods by which President Roosevelt expects to aid South American countries with our hoarded gold has leaked out.

One of the primary troubles encountered by South American countries in trading in the United States has been the difficulty of getting dollar exchange. So what is more logical than to lift this difficulty?

Grover
In the case of Brazil it has been lifted within the past few days under an agreement which had been almost forgotten since it was entered into in 1937.

Ordinarily foreign nations get dollar exchange by selling goods here. If the flow of goods is steady the case of Brazil, most dollar exchange comes available all at once, when she markets her coffee crop. Between crops there is a scarcity of dollars.

A Guaranteed Milreis

Under the new transaction, Brazil bought $3,000,000 of U. S. gold, paying the U. S. with Brazilian milreis. Ordinarily that would be risky business for the U. S., because the value of milreis is unsteady at times. Brazil, however, agrees to make up to the U. S. any losses coming from devaluation of the milreis.

Now, with the gold in hand, Brazil can get dollars. She simply borrows them, and puts up the gold as security.

The system has one outstanding weakness. It does not provide new dollars. These come only when the U. S. buys Brazilian goods.

That is where the next step of the plan to assist South America will come in. Yankee gold, or credit, must be supplied so Latin nations can buy our manufactures. Before that can be started on a large scale, approval of Congress is necessary.

Stocks Situation

In spite of the war it has not been really necessary to apply, as yet, more than a touch of the emergency measures designed to meet excitement on the stock and security markets.

The treasury, the federal reserve, and the securities commission have the machinery in order but only a few wheels have turned.

When the war started, war stocks climbed abruptly, notably steel. Speculators and investors who had been shielding their money in government bonds dumped a number of the bonds on the market to get money to buy stocks. Banks also let loose some of their bond holdings, so as to avoid losses through the depreciation.

Promptly the federal reserve stepped in, buying about $400,000,000 of bonds to prevent a precipitous drop. The treasury also bought an additional $70,000,000 from its trust accounts. Peace talk quieted the use of "war" stocks, and the support for the government's war was withdrawn. That was virtually the whole show.

Think Trust!

Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury called into consultation his own "think trust" consisting of three economists and three big-time bankers. If real trouble arises from European rush liquidation of European assets, they will think hard, and advise Morgenthau.

Meantime their very presence in Washington annoys southpaw New Dealers. The bankers represent big business incarnate. The "big business" War Resources board went out the window recently. But Morgenthau's bankers haven't been touched.

Just a Step
Behind the News

By Dave Boone

Well, I see Hen Wallace, secretary of agriculture, is out for a third term for Roosevelt. Hen, being an agriculturist, knows when to plant ideas, and he may have picked the right season.

Henry says Roosevelt should get a third term because he has had 45 years' experience with foreign affairs. Of course, that puts Franklin out into foreign affairs when he was around the tender age of 10 and all the way up through the years when we thought he was in Groton and Harvard, but New Dealers don't have to stick to facts and figures. We don't even expect this of 'em any more.

Franklin could settle the matter with a little candor, but he's in no hurry to say yes or no. He likes being president, even when it's a nuisance. And, if the war continues and gets complicated, I'll bet you couldn't blast him out of the candidacy.

With the world in flames, Franklin will like the idea of clinging to the fire chief's hat, blowing the siren, ringing all the bells and having fun on the ladders. And I figure the people may stick to the old adage about never changing horses on the way to a fire.

The Republicans sure have hard luck. If it ain't one thing, it's another. And it's going to be tough if they ever have to see Roosevelt put into the White House as being "first in war, first in peace and last in simple bookkeeping."

PROSPERITY COMES

Huron, S. D. (AP)—Ducks, geese and pheasants fared well under the AAA program in South Dakota this fall. Small samples of grain farmers sent here for testing under the loan program piled up until 400 bushels were on hand.

The state AAA committee turned the grain over to game wardens for feeding at the Wau-bay game refuge.

THE UNWELCOME CHILD

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Governor Heil's veto of important provisions of some of the appropriation bills by the recent legislature show one significant thing: that the favors which local government organizations won from the legislature were against the wishes of the administration proper.

Heil vetoed the appropriation feature of the old age pension bill which the legislature passed, with the result that the counties' victory in the legislature in changing their burden of the pension cost from 20 to 15 per cent was lost. Then he vetoed that part of the relief appropriation which dictated that local governments should receive a uniform reimbursement from the state treasury for 10 per cent of their relief costs.

Private comments of administration leaders evince a bitterness toward the cities and the counties both of which have well-organized lobbying fronts with skillful legislative representatives for greater slices of state tax funds. Early in the last session, the situation became too big for the administration to handle, and the local units wangled one concession after another from the Republicans.

Now, with the legislature safely at home Heil is killing off some of those concessions by the simple act of vetoing sections of some of that legislation.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

FOOD FOR GOOD TEETH

Foods comparatively high in calcium content and therefore desirable in the diet for good teeth:

Milk, Cheese, Peas, String Beans, Dried Beans, Cabbage, preferably raw (cole slaw), Lettuce, Carrots, preferably raw, Plain wheat, Tomatoes or tomato juice, fresh or canned, Oranges or orange juice, fresh or canned, Nuts, Peanuts, Egg Yolk, Beets, Celery, Spinach, Turnips, preferably raw, Dates. All greens (leafy vegetables, cooked or raw).

Incidentally one gets more calcium (lime) from a glass of milk than there is in an equal quantity of lime water.

Probably a quart of milk a day furnishes fifteen grains of calcium, nearly or quite sufficient to supply the daily requirements of the adult; at least half as much more is necessary to supply the greater requirements (due to growth) of the young child.

While a liberal amount and variety of these high calcium foods should be included in every diet, one should remember that calcium is no more nor less important in building sound teeth than it is in building straight strong bones, healthy steady nerves and firm, resilient muscle.

Foods comparatively high in phosphorus and desirable in the diet for good teeth:

The high calcium foods are all more or less rich in phosphorus also, but plain wheat deserves greater emphasis as a source of phosphorus, as well as various products made from it. Even refined white flour contains a fair amount of phosphorus. In reference to wheat or other cereal in the child's diet, it is well to remember the Mellanby's well established observation that some factor present in cereals, notably oatmeal, interferes with the utilization of calcium in the body, so that additional rations of vitamin D must be provided to counterbalance this effect of "toxamin" when cereals constitute a considerable part of the diet—vitamin D being always essential for the normal assimilation, utilization and retention of calcium from food.

To the foods mentioned as high in calcium, add, as important sources of phosphorus, lean meat and potatoes—both poor in calcium but rich in phosphorus.

The assimilation, utilization and retention of phosphorus in blood, soft tissues, bones and teeth is regulated or controlled by vitamin D too, so that the calcium-phosphorus balance in the body is automatically adjusted and need give one no concern as long as the diet provides a fair variety of the high calcium, high phosphorus foods, such as milk, eggs, cheese, meat, potatoes, greens, wheat.

There are going to be some mutterings in Republican circles at the manner in which the big jobs in the public welfare department were disposed of this week.

There are still many of those in the party who insist on "cleaning house" in the capitol, and the fact that four persons who have been on the state payroll in similar positions were either retained or promoted by the new department board won't please them.

Incidentally, if those folks who have expressed alarm at Governor Heil's choices for the welfare board (including the women's clubs which have been openly hostile) could speak to Chairman R. J. Eberhardt, they may be reassured.

POT-POURRI
Joe Mason, Speaker Thomson's manager and secretary during the last year, is now at work in Gov. Heil's office. . . . Harlan Kelly, young G.O.P. leader from Sheboygan who came here six months ago for a "temporary" legal job in the banking department, has taken a house in Madison. . . . Gov. Heil went to see Attorney General Martin the other day. Generally, the executive summons those whom he wants to see to his own office, for the teeth. Wouldn't mind at all,

Answer—The man is in error. I do not advise chewing anything for the good of the teeth—except food.

Potassium Chloride
You recommend five grains of potassium chloride in a glass of water, three times daily, for allergic conditions. Druggist sold me potassium chloride which he said is the same thing. It burns. . . (J. A. C.)

Answer—Potassium chloride is NOT potassium chlorate. Five grains of potassium chloride in a glass of water is almost tasteless. Taken three times a day for a few weeks it brings considerable relief in many cases of chronic eczema, nasal polyp, sinusitis, hay fever, asthma, etc.

Canker Sores
Please repeat the directions for the use of iodine for white sores in the mouth canker sores, we call them. I suffer frequently from these painful little sores. Are they due to wearing false teeth? (E. P. S.)

Answer—Touch each sore once a day with a mixture of half glycerin, half tincture of iodine. It bites for a moment, then seems to bring prolonged relief and healing in a few days. Cause of canker sores conjectural. My belief is that they are often due to slight injury, by toothbrush, sharp or hard practices of food, and the like. Individuals whose nutritional condition is poor seem more susceptible.

Lutherans Will Observe Festival Of Reformation

Rural Churches to Join in World-Wide Celebration of Anniversary

Lutheran churches in the rural areas near Appleton will join with Lutherans throughout the world in celebrating Reformation festival. At St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, there will be two services, one in the morning and the other in the evening. The Rev. A. Werner, pastor, will preach at the German service at 9:30, his theme to be "Hold That Fast Which Thou Hast," and Frederick Werner, a student at the theological seminary at Thiensville, will preach in English at 7:45 in the evening on "Jesus Christ, the Only True Sacrifice for Sin."

Reformation service at Bethlehem Lutheran church, Hortonville, will be at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. This will be an English service with the pastor, the Rev. H. E. Wicke, in charge. Next Thursday the Ladies Aid society will meet at 2 o'clock in the church parlors, and the Young People's society will meet at 8 o'clock in the evening.

English Reformation service at Immanuel Lutheran church, Cicero, will be at 9:30 Sunday morning, with Sunday school following. St. John church, Cicero, will have communion at 9 o'clock. At St. John Evangelical church, Black Creek, the worship and holy communion service will be at 10:30 with Sunday school at 9:30.

English Services
Immanuel Lutheran church, Black Creek, will have English services at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The theme of the sermon will be "God is Our Refuge and Strength." Sunday school will be at 11 o'clock. Ladies Aid society will meet next Wednesday.

"Beverage Alcohol and Social Progress" is the subject of the Bible lesson for 10 o'clock Sunday morning at Community Baptist church. The sermon at the song and worship service at 11 o'clock will be entitled "A Hard Problem in Multiplication." The Rev. L. T. Foreman, pastor, will preach. At 7:45 in the evening the topic for the Sunday evening gathering will be "Rural Religion—Forgotten Americans," with Emmet Root as leader. A junior meeting will be held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the parsonage, adult choir rehearsal will be Wednesday night and junior choir practice Friday night.

Stephensville Churches
Services at the Methodist church at Stephensville will be at 8:45 Sunday morning with the Rev. R. R. Holliday in charge. At St. Paul Lutheran church, Stephensville, the Rev. Emil Redlin, pastor, will conduct services at 9:45 in the morning. Masses Sunday morning at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, Hortonville, will be at 6 and 9 o'clock. Mass will be celebrated at 8 o'clock Sunday morning at St. Mary Catholic church, Black Creek, and at 10 o'clock at St. Denis church, Shiocton. At St. Mary Catholic church, Greenville, mass will be at 9:30 Sunday morning, while at St. Patrick's church, Stephensville, it will be at 8 o'clock. The Rev. R. Schauer is pastor.

Martin Jarchow Buys Town of Center Farm

Martin Jarchow has purchased an 80-acre farm from Minnie Jarchow et al. in the town of Center. The real estate transfer has been filed at the office of Stephen Peters, Outagamie county register of deeds. The following transfers also have been filed.

William R. Heinrich to Henry Van Laarhoven, a parcel of land in the town of Ononda.

Edna Taylor et al. to Edward S. Gueling, 16 1/2 acres of land in the town of Grand Chute.

Louis Steffen to Herman Lueck, a lot in the old Sixth ward, Appleton.

Ellen Freeman to Abraham Guyette, a parcel of land in the town of Maunc.

To conform with the color scheme of one streamlined train, the engineers and his assistant are dressed in white instead of in the usual blue overalls.

Consider Pure Milk Program for County

George Kuehning, of the state department of agriculture and markets, discussed a pure milk program for Outagamie county at a meeting of the county agricultural committee Wednesday at the courthouse. Action on the proposed program has been postponed until Nov. 10 when a joint meeting will be held with a number of county farmers, according to J. F. Magnus, county agent.

Farm Prices Take Upturn as Winter Season Approaches

Agricultural Situation Better Than at Any Other Period This Year

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—After a rather bleak summer Wisconsin farmers are entering the winter season with encouraging upturns in prices available for their milk and other products, state agricultural economists noted today on the basis of September statistics.

Moreover, there is a comfortable lag between the prices received by Wisconsin farmers and the prices on the materials and products which they have to buy, it was said. In general, the agricultural price situation in Wisconsin today is better than at any other period this year with the price of milk for all uses, customarily regarded as the principal index figure, at $1.25 a hundred on Sept. 18, the highest point reached this year.

The advance in farm product prices was led by the livestock group with an increase of 17 points from its August index. The grain price index was up 13 points, poultry products averaged 12 points higher, and milk prices were up six points.

Cash Prices Up
Compared with a year ago, cash crop prices were up 18 points, and milk prices were up seven points. The price received for milk was seven cents a hundred higher than in August, and eight cents above September of last year.

In contrast to the sharp increase in the index of prices received by farmers, the index of prices of commodities bought by farmers rose by only one point during the last month, resulting in a favorable change in the purchasing power of the farm population of the state in recent weeks.

Changes in the prices received by Wisconsin farmers for their milk during the last year are shown in the following figures supplied by the Wisconsin Crop Reporting Service. The first figure is the average price paid for milk for all uses; the second the price paid for that portion of the state's milk production which goes into cheese manufacture, the most important single outlet for Wisconsin milk.

	All Uses	Cheese
January	$1.23	$1.11
February	1.10	1.08
March	1.12	1.01
April	1.06	.98
May	1.02	.95
June	1.11	1.05
July	1.13	1.05
August	1.18	1.09
September	1.23	1.16

Still Time to Wage Fight Against Weeds

One more blow this fall while plant life is at a low ebb will help assure victory in the 1939 offensive against various weeds, the state department of agriculture declares in a bulletin to J. F. Magnus, county agent, urging that farmers use chemicals in a final thrust of the season against weeds.

Chlorates applied to patches of field bindweed, (Crotalaria) will be efficient any time before the ground freezes to a considerable depth, according to Henry Lutz, state inspector in charge of seed and weed control. The fall application gives the chlorates a chance to act slowly on the soil during the winter while the plants are dormant, and they are unable to resist the toxic effects of the chlorates when spring comes.

Chemicals also should be applied to Canada thistles or quack grass at this time.

ENTER CALVES IN 4-H BULL SALE

Shown above are two 4-H club members and their calves which they will enter in the annual county 4-H bull sale in Appleton Saturday, Nov. 4. At the top is Gerald Mielke, Crystal Star club. His calf was born Jan. 8, and its dam's record is 11,430 pounds of milk containing 38.7 pounds of butterfat. The sire's dam has an 8-year average of 448 pounds of butterfat. Mark Krueger, Kau-Club club is shown in the lower picture. His calf was born Oct. 8, 1938 and the dam's record is 10,052 pounds of milk containing 335.8 pounds of butterfat in 305 days as a 2-year-old.

McMahon, Leverenz To Speak Over Radio

Chilton—O. H. Leverenz, chairman of the Calumet county agricultural committee, and A. L. McMahon, county agent, will discuss farm woodlot possibilities under the 1940 AAA program over Station WHBL, Sheboygan at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Conservation of farm woodlots has been handed down to him as a family tradition, said Mr. Leverenz, and woodlots that were preserved by his father have been so well managed that today they carry a heavier stand of timber than the majority of farm woodlots in Calumet county. Mr. Leverenz will explain the methods used by his father and himself and some of the many advantages accruing from these practices. He states that one of the important additions to the 1940 AAA program is the setting up of a separate allowance of $40 per farm for tree planting. The speakers will explain how the AAA, in this new phase of conservation, will try

Foremen for WPA to Confer on Procedures

WPA foremen and timekeepers of Outagamie county and several of Calumet county will attend a meeting at 7 o'clock this evening at the courthouse. Procedures will be discussed and work forms explained. About 40 are expected to attend.

Rilla Swamp Winner in Shuffleboard Tourney

Rilla Swamp defeated Mildred Dingledien yesterday to win the shuffleboard tournament, title conducted by the Girls Athletic association at Appleton High school. In the semifinals Miss Swamp won over Genevieve Storm and Miss Dingledien defeated Victoria Dunn.

To stimulate a wider interest in the 1940 AAA program is the setting up of a separate allowance of $40 per farm for tree planting. The speakers will explain how the AAA, in this new phase of conservation, will try

Rural Leadership School Is Planned For Nine Counties

Course Will be Offered at Allenville Oct. 31 To Nov. 3

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Winnebago county will play host to rural leadership delegates from Outagamie, Green Lake, Waupaca, Marinette, Waushara, Calumet, Dodge, Fond du Lac and Shawano counties, when the Allenville Grange holds the second annual rural leadership and recreational school.

The school will open Thursday, Oct. 31 at Allenville, and continue for four consecutive days, closing Friday afternoon, Nov. 3. Sessions will be conducted from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. each day.

Each county may send eight delegates to the training school and each delegate is required to attend all of the four day meetings. The leadership school is made possible through the cooperation of the United States Department of Agriculture, the University of Wisconsin Extension division and the extension agents of the various counties.

Women of the Allenville Grange will serve dinner to the delegates each of the four days. Miss Madeline Stevens, social recreation director, will be in charge of the school.

Winnebago county's delegates to the training school are: Chester Becker, Neenah; Mrs. Louis Jansen, Oshkosh; Lyle Mathison, Russell Gilbertson and Harley Rundbaug, Larsen; Mrs. Edwin Becker, Fremont; Mrs. Arthur Oleson and Mrs. Silverthorn, Omro; and Miss Dorothy Meltz, Oshkosh.

Two Farm Auctions are Scheduled for Monday

A farm auction will be held at 10:30 Monday morning at the Otto Bartlett farm, six miles north of Oshkosh on Highway 43, then a mile west on County Trunk GG. Colonel A. L. Schoenike, of Clintonville, will be the auctioneer.

A farm auction will be held at 12:30 Monday afternoon at the Elmer Scruton farm, 1 1/2 miles east of Royallton and six miles west of New London on Highway 54. The auctioneer will be Colonel Adam Schuder, Manawa.

Much Chemical Used in War on Creeping Jenny

Chilton—War on creeping jenny in Calumet county has been thorough, declares A. L. McMahon, county agent, if it can be judged by the amount of chemical used. New Holstein and Rantoul are the only two towns to report a portion of their 300 pounds of the chemical still on hand. The county agent has warned farmers who are planning on treating their creeping jenny to be sure to do so before the ground freezes up, because fall treatment is far more effective than spring, he says.

Cheaper Rates for N. Y. Fair in 1940

Closes First Season With Lesson in Finance, Mass Psychology

New York—The New York world's fair which thought there was pay dirt in top hats but found the real gold was in plain business suits and slacks, closes its first season Tuesday with a neat lesson in finance and mass psychology tucked beneath its ample belt.

There's going to be a lot of emphasis on fun next year, officials said today when the bustling phantasmagoria will be the "people's playground" at cheaper rates—a far cry from the cultural tail-coat-and-gold-braid aura draped over it when it started six months ago.

And food prices, which during opening days were on the caviar standards, have been brought down to hot dog and doughnut levels. The fair's finances aren't anything to chortle about, but it hasn't done so badly—principally because it knew it was sick and went to the doctor immediately. It was projected on approximately a 50,000,000 attendance at a cost of $150,000,000 (the cost was nearer $200,000,000 because of labor conditions and under-estimates on buildings in some quarters), but the actual attendance will be about 25,000,000 or 32,000,000 counting passes.

Budgets had to be revised at the half way mark to take care of slack crowds—scared away by the fair's original pompousness and high prices—and the corporation on Oct. 31 will have in round figures $500,000 cash, will owe $24,000,000 in debentures and $500,000 to bondholders who loaned it $1,200,000; has cut its contractor debt from $2,400,000 to $500,000; and all bank loans paid off. Maintenance during the winter will cost $3,300,000.

FIVE APPLETON WOMEN were elected to office at the twenty-fifth state convention of the Wisconsin branch of the International Order of King's Daughters and Sons Thursday at Green Bay. They were Mrs. P. A. Paulson, first vice president; Mrs. Herbert Hackworth, treasurer; Mrs. Karl Schuetter, Silver Cross magazine secretary; and Mrs. A. C. Denney and Miss Helen McGrath, state board members.

Other Appleton women who attended the convention were Miss Mary Zelle, Mrs. Frank Manier, Mrs. R. A. Peterson and Mrs. William K. Kolb. The other officers elected were Mrs. Peter Reiss, Sheboygan, honorary president; Mrs. Harry E. Thomas, Sheboygan, council member and president; Mrs. William Kohl, Sheboygan, second vice president; Miss Esther Barker, Janesville, third vice president; Mrs. Max Strehlow, Green Bay, finance chairman; Mrs. William West, Sheboygan, secretary; Miss Hattie Blocki, Sheboygan, state work treasurer; Mrs. A. V. Hoeftlin, Sheboygan, junior chairman; Mrs. G. B. Wiles, Sheboygan, cradle roll chairman; Mrs. C. H. Zoerb, Kohler, Bible study chairman; Mrs. A. Wayne Turner, Sheboygan, formerly of Appleton, publicity chairman; and Robert Markham, Manitowoc, Mrs. A. F. Zelm, Plymouth, Mrs. S. L. Spengler, Menasha, Mrs. Arthur Slaested, Racine, and Mrs. John Cunningham, Janesville, state board members.

The officers were installed by the Rev. Victor L. Thomas, Green Bay, who also gave the welcome at the morning session from the East Side Moravian church, where the meeting was held, and from the Be Ye Kind and Altheonian circles of the Green Bay King's Daughters, hostess circles for the convention.

Extends Invitation
Janesville extended an invitation to hold the 1940 convention in that city.

Teachers of Grade Schools Entertain At Halloween Party

Appleton grade school teachers of the public schools entertained at a Halloween party Thursday night at Morgan school, with Superintendent of Schools Ben J. Rohan and Mrs. Rohan and members of the school board and their wives as guests of honor. About 100 persons were present.

Huge figures of black cats, ghosts and straw witches greeted the guests as they came in, and on the tables were miniature farms with corn shocks and pumpkins in the field and owls and cats perched on the fences.

The evening's entertainment included card games, ping-pong, darts, fortune telling by Mrs. Caroline Warren, square dances and old fashioned circle 2-steps. Refreshments were served by candlelight.

On the decorating committee were Miss Carolyn Boettcher and Miss Loretta Deifel; on the cards and games committee, Miss Dorothy Schoengarth, Miss Elaine Jones and Rudolf Gauker; and on the serving committee, Miss Ruth Sherman, Mrs. Margaret Rouse and Miss Alice Neuwirth.

Supper, Bridge Party

Held at North Shore

About 30 persons attended the buffet supper and bridge party Thursday night at North Shore Golf club. The ladies' prize at bridge was won by Mrs. Charles Sage and the men's prize by Frank Turner. A buffet supper and bridge party will be held at the club each Thursday night until after the Christmas holidays. The weekly ladies' day luncheon and bridge, held during the summer months on Monday, is scheduled for Wednesdays for the rest of the fall.

Donald Dixon Concert to be Given Nov. 15

DONALD DICKSON, radio and opera baritone, will appear in Memorial chapel on the Community Artist Series Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, instead of on the night of Dec. 4, as originally scheduled, it was announced today. The change has been made necessary because of new radio contracts that Dickson has signed.

The popular young baritone, 28 years old, has had an exceptionally rapid rise to fame. At 17 he was singing in church choirs in Cleveland. Three years later he went to New York where within a few months he was singing on radio programs.

He ultimately joined the personnel of the Metropolitan Opera company and then became one of the most popular of radio singers. Dickson's liking for music is general. He enjoys swing music, semi-classical music, opera, anything—just so long as its music.

Halloween Dinner Is Scheduled by Lions

Auxiliary of V.F.W. to Hear National Head

MRS. JAMES BROWN, eighth district president of the auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a group of Appleton auxiliary members will go to Green Bay next Tuesday and Wednesday to honor Mrs. Ida S. Cohen, national president of the organization, who will be the guest of Clarence Noble, auxiliary of Green Bay. Mrs. Brown will attend all sessions which have been planned, and others from here will be present at various times during the two days. Reservations are to be made by Saturday with Miss Eleanor O'Siecki, 1053 Cherry street, Green Bay.

Mrs. Cohen will arrive at 2:40 Tuesday afternoon and will broadcast over the Green Bay radio station at 4 o'clock. After a press conference she will be guest of honor at the dedication and presentation of a flag to Tank school at 8 o'clock that evening. A department council meeting will take place at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at Hotel Northland, and a school of instruction for all members of the auxiliary in the state will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon.

A dinner in honor of the national president will be served at 6:30 Wednesday evening at Hotel Northland. Mrs. Cohen will be speaker. Juvenile court of Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will have a Halloween costume party at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at Catholic home. A prize will be awarded for the best costume, and the afternoon's program will consist of such typical Halloween entertainment as bobbing for apples, pinning the tail on the donkey and a ghost walk. Mrs. Arthur Sauter and Mrs. Ed. Massonette are making arrangements for the party.

Delta chapter, auxiliary to the Employees Mutual Benefit association, sponsored its annual bazaar and open card party Thursday afternoon at Odd Fellows hall. Twenty tables of cards and dice were in play, prizes at bridge going to Mrs. Ervin Volkman, Mrs. Louis Gressen and Mrs. Fred Stihl, and at schafkopf to Mrs. Fred Steckelberger, Mrs. Joe Griesbach, Mrs. Archie Kapp and Mrs. William Lee. Mrs. Judson Fowler and Mrs. Harold Werner won the prizes at dice.

Mr. Krantzsch and his bride will go to Chicago and Detroit on their wedding trip. They will be at home after Nov. 5 at 1740 N. Clark street. The bridegroom is employed at the Appleton Wire Works, and the bride, at the Pettibone-Peabody store.

Reykjal-Johaneson
Mr. and Mrs. Leif Johanneson, who were married Saturday night at Trinity Methodist church, Milwaukee, will make their home in Clintonville. The bride is the former Miss Carol Reykjal, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Theodore J. Reykjal, Milwaukee, formerly of Neenah and Weyauwega, and Mr. Johanneson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johanneson, Clintonville.

The bride was surrounded by members of her family during the ceremony, for her father gave her in marriage, here sister, Joyce, was her bridesmaid, and her brother, the Rev. Lowell Reykjal, Weyauwega, performed the ceremony. Dr. R. A. Bucholtz was the best man.

Senator, Mrs. William Harper Of California are Honored at Round of Dinners, Parties

ALMOST every spare moment since State Senator and Mrs. William Harper of San Diego, Calif., arrived here Oct. 16 has been taken up with dinners, teas and other entertainment in honor of the couple. Both of them are well known here, as Senator Harper was formerly dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, and his wife is the daughter of the late George F. Peabody, one of the founders of the Peabody-Peabody company.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. John Neller took them on a drive around the city to see familiar landmarks and also the changes that have taken place since the Harpers' last visit six years ago, and they took them to dinner. Today Mr. and Mrs. N. de C. Walker were to take Mr. and Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Frank Young on a drive to Ephraim if the weather was favorable. Otherwise they were to drive only as far as Green Bay, where Mrs. Harper planned to visit with her cousins, Mrs. R. C. Buchanan, Green Bay, and Mrs. J. P. Lanfesty, DePere.

Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows will entertain at tea for the Harpers Saturday afternoon, and that evening they will be guests for dinner at Miss Ellen Buckland's home, 218 W. Prospect avenue. Another guest at the dinner will be Miss Buckland's sister, Mrs. William Sweet, Waupun. Mr. and Mrs. Judson Roesch, N. Park avenue, will have Senator and Mrs. Harper as their Sunday dinner guests, and before the Gladys Swarthout concert Monday night Mrs. L. L. Alsted will entertain the couple at dinner at her home. That afternoon Mrs. Harper will be a guest at the Tourists meeting at Mrs. B. H. Russell's home, River drive. Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Orison, S. Rankin street, will entertain the Harpers Tuesday evening. They plan to leave Thursday, Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chizek, Sr., Kaukauna, were surprised last night at their home in celebration of their thirtieth wedding anniversary which occurred Wednesday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chizek and son, Raymond, Mrs. Rose Chizek, Manitowish, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heinritz and Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Gotschalk, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chizek, Jr., Kaukauna.

George Behrent was honored at a surprise birthday party given Tuesday night at the home, 1012 N. Lodi street. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Koepke, Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Sousek, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Behrent, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kneice, Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKeefry, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Passell of Marion, Mrs. Hugo Kenitz of Oak Park, Ill., Mrs. Charles Rowland, Charles Rowland, Jr., Miss Margaret Behrent, Lawrence Behrent, Miss Carol Kneice and Miss Angie Kneice.

Mrs. Joseph Lucia, president of Ladies auxiliary to Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association, was surprised at a housewarming last night at her home, 735 E. Washington street, by members of the auxiliary. Fifteen persons attended and games provided entertainment. The auxiliary will have its regular meeting next Thursday with Mrs. Esther Beilke, 333 W. Parkway boulevard.

A welcome party for the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Ziedler who were married recently was given by members of Trinity English Lutheran church of which the former is pastor. A dinner in the sub auditorium of the church was followed by a shower of canned goods and groceries for the newly weds. About 180 persons were present at the party which was sponsored by Ladies Aid society.

George E. Johnson acted as toastmaster and a duet was sung by Miss Ramona Roehl and Miss Lorraine Deoness. Short talks were given by the presidents of the various church organizations, namely: Mrs. George E. Johnson, president of Women's Missionary society; Mrs. Albert Roehl, president of Ladies Aid society; Wilbur Klahorst, Brotherhood president; and Harry Cameron of the church council. The Rev. Mr. Ziedler responded, and community singing took place. Movies of Mexico were shown by Mr. Johnson, and a reading was given by Mrs. Herbert Baer.

When Mrs. Henry Dachelet, 1202 W. College avenue, entertained the R. D. V. club at a Halloween party last night, the guests came dressed in Halloween costumes. Mrs. August Lorge received the prize for the best costume. The house was decorated in orange and black, and schafschopf provided entertainment during the evening. Winners were Mrs. John Vandermause, Miss Clara Lebat, Neenah, and Mrs. Gerald Berro. Eight members were present.

Oney Johnston post of the American Legion will sponsor a Halloween dance next Tuesday night at the Legion club house. The party is open to all legionnaires and their friends. The committee consists of Elmer Schabo, chairman, Joseph Heimerman, Harry Cunningham and Herb Farrand.

Georgia Damon will entertain her fellow classmates in the first grade at the Edison school at a Halloween party this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Damon, 921 E. Eldorado street.

Mrs. Ed Arndt, Mrs. Charles Goldbeck, Mrs. Oscar Kuhn and Mrs. Nick Schreiner will chaperon the dance for Sons of the American Legion tonight at the Legion club house. Men in charge will be Ed Arndt and Ralph Gertsch and the boys' committee includes Carl Goldbeck, Charles Benjamin, Kenneth Gertsch, Jerry Arndt, Richard Arens and Armin Scheurle, Jr.

Robert Zschaechehr is chairman of the Halloween dance which Appleton Elks lodge will give Saturday night at the club house. His assistants include Raymond Treiber, Norman Ehl, John Clark, Edward Byrne, Lyman Clark, Glenn J. Arthur, Charles Holmes, Merrill Hopkins, James Ellenbecker, Clyde Gabbert, and Alvin Piehl of Seymour.

One hundred twenty-five Evangelical young people from Neenah, Forest Junction, Ellsworth, Morrison, Bonduel, Center and Appleton gathered last night at Armory G for a roller skating party, the first of a series to be held this fall and winter. Officers of the Christian Endeavor society of Emmanuel Evangelical church were in charge of arrangements.

Miss Alyce Jane De Long, Appleton, will be toastmistress at the Kappa Delta founders' day banquet at 6:30 tonight at the Copper Kettle, and Miss Jane Houts, Chicago, president of the sorority, will be the principal speaker. The program will include a candlelight birthday service and a skit by the pledges under the direction of Miss Beatrice McNichol, Racine, pledge president.

Fifty-eight tables of cards were in play at the pillow case card party sponsored by St. Joseph's Ladies Aid society Thursday night at the parish hall. A prize was given at each table. The regular afternoon card parties will be resumed next Thursday.

A CLEAN SWEEP Carpet sweepers need constant care and watching if they are to work best. Empty them frequently, keep the brushes very clean and cut off any hairs or threads that cling to them. Oil them as the maker directs. When not in use, hang up the sweeper to save wear on the brushes.

Store up some entertaining helps for the rainy days when the youngsters must stay indoors. Select a large box and fill it with bits of ribbons, colored papers, yarn, gas pictures, small magazines, odd shaped boxes and other household odds and ends. Also keep on hand jars of paste and some blunt-tipped scissors. You will then have a wealth of adaptable play material on hand.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD FETES HEAD OF GREEN BAY UNIT

The 1-year-old Appleton branch of the Needlework Guild of America received some valuable advice from the president of a much older branch at the tea given yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows' home, S. Union street, in honor of Mrs. W. B. Guenzius, Green Bay, Mrs. Guenzius, who has been president of the Green Bay branch of the organization for 20 years, is shown in the center above. At the left is her daughter, Mrs. Charles Simpson, Green Bay, and at the right, Mrs. Barrows, who is president of the Appleton branch. Other guests were directors of the Appleton Guild and a few other women interested in the Guild's work. Members of the Guild are turning in their annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen these days, so that the donations can be placed on exhibit from 2 to 5 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. Barrows' home. Evansville Farmer Sets New Corn Husking Record

BY KENNETH HOPPING
Cuba City—(AP)—Dick Post, who operates a farm near Evansville, retained his state cornhusking championship on the Bartel Rasque farm yesterday in competition with 13 other contenders and established a new Wisconsin record of 2,480 pounds.

While 20,000 spectators milled about and five bands cheered the contestants under a bright sun, Post cleaned out his corn rows and remarked only that it was a "little tougher" than he expected.

He will go to the national contest at Lawrence, Kas., on Nov. 3 with Lawrence Hawk of Cassville, the Wisconsin runner-up who had a net of 2,373.3 pounds.

Post is a veteran in the husking bee business. He is 39 years old and rents his farm. The rain drowned him out when he went to the national meet in Saline County, Mo., in 1937, but he finished fourth at Sioux Falls, S. D., last year.

Works For Father
Hawk is 27 and single. He works on the farm of his father, William Hawk, and has been in state competition only two years. It will be his first trip to a national contest.

Post husked a gross of 2,570 pounds. His total deductions amounted to 89.9, including 18 pounds in gleanings. He surpassed by 135 pounds the state previous record established in county competition last week by William Weiss of Brownstown, the LaFayette county representative.

Weiss finished third yesterday. He had a gross of 2,615 pounds but the husks and gleanings cost him a deduction of 266.1 pounds. Even so he scored a net of 2,348, which was better than his county total.

While the bangboards were reverberating from the shower of golden ears the roadside part of Rasque's farm took a beating from castoff pop bottles and tramping feet. Beyond the weighing shed nearly 4,000

Three Menasha, Two Appleton Men Join Field Artillery Band

Five men were enlisted Monday night in the 120th field artillery band, according to Orville J. Thompson, warrant officer in command of the band. They are Gordon B. Wasinger, 506 Madison street, Menasha, William G. Hahnen, 228 Second street, Menasha, Royal L. Jackson, 306 S. Meade street, Loran J. Marmes, 365 Railroad street, Menasha, and Arnold O. Johnson, 1355 W. Summer street.

The men were outfitted at a rehearsal last night at 121 W. College avenue. Thompson said there is room for about five more men who play cornets or trombones. The band rehearses on Monday and Thursday evenings.

Start Monday on Roof Tile for New Church

Roof tile will be placed on the new St. Theresa church starting Monday morning, Raymond N. Lee-Vee, architect, reported today. The new building will be completely enclosed after the roof tile has been laid.

The exterior work is nearly finished, only a few details remaining. Interior rough work has been completed and workmen will start on plastering, flooring, and general finishing.

Price Fixing of Milk Fails to Aid Farmer, Consumer

Dairy Industry Secretary Cites Figures for Several Cities

San Francisco—(AP)—Artificial fixing by the government of prices paid to farmers for fluid milk is not helping farmers or consumers as intended, W. A. Wentworth, secretary of the Dairy Industry committee, said today.

Wentworth told the International association of milk price-fixing, paradoxically, have tended to reduce the farmer's volume of sales for his milk used for cooking and drinking.

He said consumers were turning to milk in forms that bring farmers less money because of the artificially-fixed higher prices paid to farmers for fluid milk. Among the cheaper forms are evaporated milk, ice cream and cheese.

"During 1937 milk prices to farmers selling in Chicago were determined by supply and demand, and Boston and New York prices were fixed by the government. For Chicago the premium for milk was 46 cents per hundred pounds as compared with 24 cents for Boston and ten cents for New York. ... In St. Louis where the same ordinance was in effect and farm prices fixed by the government, the premium in 1937 was eight cents lower than in Chicago.

"A comparison covering a 16-month period ending April, 1939, showed that the net farm price was only a small fraction of a cent more in Louisville, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, under control, than it was in the Chicago area without control. At the same time consumers paid one or two cents more per quart for store milk and about two-thirds of a cent more for home delivered milk in those control cities.

"The farmer produces so much more milk than is consumed as fluid milk that his net farm price does not reflect the higher consumer price."

Cooperatives Draw Heavily on U. S. Funds

Washington—(AP)—The St. Paul bank for cooperatives, operating in Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and North Dakota, leads among 12 such institutions in the United States in the number of cooperatives financed, according to Hutzel Metzger, bank president.

Metzger at a nationwide conference of farm credit administration officials, said the bank had loaned farmer cooperatives in the four states approximately $17,600,000 since it was organized.

By Oct. 1 repayments of cooperatives totaled $13,200,000, leaving $4,250,000 of current financing on the books. The bank's present loans number 115 to farmer cooperatives in Minnesota, in Wisconsin 82, North Dakota 91 and Michigan 44.

Rural Mail Carriers Would Welcome Another Mild Winter

Should a look of concern be noted on the faces of Appleton's four rural mail carriers, it may be explained that they probably are beginning to worry about the approaching winter season. This method of travel when their job often is made difficult by heavy snows and blocked roads.

Rural residents, accustomed to mail delivery service, often are apt to forget that several years back they did not have it. Then a system was used whereby one farmer was delegated to journey into town with his horse and cutter, and get the mail for himself and neighbors.

Because the last few winters have been on the mild side, the carriers are a bit worried that this year may bring one of those real Wisconsin winters that make traveling difficult for days on end.

The day of the horse is past as far as the rural mailmen are concerned, and they drive their cars through the winter. This method of travel has eliminated part of the winter's scourge of cold. Their cars are equipped with heaters and on most days they are able to travel with some degree of comfort.

Concern Has Plans For New Building

Transportation Firm Would Erect Structure On Wisconsin Ave.

O. F. Basche, Appleton manager of the Olson Transportation company, said today that his company has made plans for the construction of a building, 99 by 40 feet, at the corner of Wisconsin avenue and N. Meade street.

The project hinges on the decision of the Appleton city council whether to change the zone classification of that particular piece of property from local business to heavy manufacturing. The majority of the council has informally agreed to make the change, but it must vote officially at its next meeting Wednesday night, Nov. 1.

Action has been taken on bids for construction of the building, which will be used for storage and office purposes. It will be a 1-story structure.

The transportation company is moving from its present location at 845 E. Wisconsin avenue.

Accountants to Hear Talk on Examinations

A. W. Kimball, secretary of the Wisconsin board of accountants, will speak on "CPA Examinations" at a meeting of the Certified Public Accountants association at 6:30 Monday evening at the Hotel Athearn, Oshkosh. Kimball also will talk on the standards and rules to regulate practice of public accountancy in the state. A group of Appleton accountants will attend.

High School Will Open Homecoming Activities Tonight

Bonfire, Snake Dance Slated for Eve of E. Green Bay Game

A bonfire, a snake dance, yells and songs will be a part of the preparation tonight for Appleton's high school's homecoming grid battle with East Green Bay Saturday afternoon at Whiting field.

The bonfire will be built on Schneider field across Badger avenue from the high school and the student body is expected to gather to give the team a send off for the game tomorrow. Pop talks will be given by H. H. Helble, principal, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., Coach Myron Seims and Wesley Morris, a June graduate.

The snake dance will be down Badger avenue to College avenue and into the downtown business district. Festivities were started this afternoon with a pep session in the auditorium. Armin Scheurle, homecoming general chairman, presided. A feature of the session was a swing band which gave the jitterbugs plenty of opportunity to clap to the rhythms. Cheers were rehearsed for the game.

Homecoming Parade
Highlight of the preparations for the game, however, is the homecoming parade. This year's parade will assemble Saturday morning at 10:30 at the Morgan school. The final destination of the parade will be Park street and College avenue. There Charles Pond, William Petersen and Otto Fischer, judges, will announce the winning entries. The parade will consist of a police escort, the high school band dressed in full regalia, floats, Sons of the Legion Drum and Bugle corps, and students and cheerleaders in a snake dance. Homeroom 219 turned in the winning slogan, "East or West, Appleton's Best."

Pep rally, bonfire, snake dance, parade... all are in preliminaries for the homecoming game Saturday afternoon when alumni and students will gather to cheer for the football squad. The band and cheerleaders will be out to accompany and direct the singing and cheering. The last event in this 2-day celebration will be the homecoming hop sponsored by the student council. Students and alumni will dance in the high school gymnasium from 8 o'clock to 11:30. General chairman for the first dance of the school year is Robert Sager, president of the student council.

SCOUTS WILL MAKE RELIEF, WELFARE SOLICITATION

The above scene will be duplicated on many an Appleton porch tomorrow as boy scouts of the Appleton district, representing the city relief and welfare council, set out on their annual solicitation for furniture, shoes, and clothing to be distributed among needy families.

Two scouts are seen calling on Mrs. John Goodland, Jr., wife of the mayor, at her home, 705 N. Oneida street. The scouts, from left to right, are William Younger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Younger, 328 E. Harris street, and John Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Davis, route 2, Appleton.

The solicitation will be made tomorrow and the pickup the following Saturday, Nov. 4, scouts working in cooperation with the city street department which will furnish trucks. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Retail Division Sets Budgets for Yule, Sales Events

Fund for Christmas Decorations Set at $500; Float Project $200

Budgets for Christmas projects and for the November cooperative sales event were approved at a meeting of the retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning at the Chamber office.

The fund for Christmas decorations on College avenue was set at $500. Decorations this year will be similar to those on the avenue last year and are expected to cost less because much of the equipment and material used will be used over again. The decorations will be arches of evergreen and lights crossing the street in the business section. Louis Luebke, city electrician, and his crew, again will erect and maintain the decorations. Clark Teel is chairman of the Chamber committee in charge.

The committee set up a budget of $200 for the Christmas week project. A float will be built and carol singers will circulate through city streets singing Christmas carols. Plans for a Santa Claus headquarters also are being mapped. Herman Hecker is chairman of the Chamber committee and will work in cooperation with Mrs. Hazel F. Bannister, director of WPA recreation in the county.

The budget for the November cooperative sales event was set at $100. No date for the event was set. Wayne Jones is chairman of the committee.

The merchants agreed to cooperate in the observance of National Education week, Nov. 5 to 11, in Appleton.

Carl Holstrom, chairman of the retail budget committee, was authorized to collect money for the various projects and events this year. He will seek the same support from merchants as was received in other years.

BUSINESS MAN DIES

Conrad Verbrick, 69, an officer of the W. S. Patterson company for nearly 40 years, died about 7 o'clock this morning following a stroke Wednesday. He was active in the affairs of the Sacred Heart Catholic parish and was treasurer of the Appleton Apostolate until his retirement this year.

Skies to Clear, Freezing Weather Forecast Tonight

Cold Spell Follows Rains. Good Football Temperatures in Prospect

"Excellent" football weather for both players and spectators at tomorrow's middle western games is forecast by the weather bureau at Chicago. Fair skies and crisp temperatures will be general, the bureau said, after the heavy rains of last night that drove the mercury down from unseasonable heights.

A forecast of clear skies cheered those who hope to witness an eclipse of the moon, which is scheduled to become visible at 10:45 tonight and reach its maximum of 99.2 per cent shortly after midnight.

Lowering temperatures are due to a cold air mass moving in from the northwest and motorists were cautioned to protect their car radiators with anti-freeze solutions or drain them tonight.

A south wind yesterday boosted Milwaukee's temperature from 59 degrees at noon to 78 at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 2 degrees under the all-time Oct. 26 maximum set in 1927. A heavy rain, accompanied by a 38-mile-an-hour wind, caused minor damage there last night.

Dull, damp weather continued in Appleton and vicinity today after another night of heavy fogs which proved a hazard to motorists. Precipitation amounted to .14 of an inch.

Maximum and minimum temperatures during the 24-hour period preceding 9 o'clock this morning were 61 degrees at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and 46 degrees at 9 o'clock this morning, according to records at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Highest and lowest temperatures in the nation yesterday as reported at official weather bureau stations were 92 degrees at Shreveport, La., and 12 degrees at Havre, Mont., according to the Associated Press.

18 Men Recruited In Appleton Area For Regular Army

Detail From Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Leaves for Oshkosh Today

Lieutenant William L. Thorkelson of the 61st coast artillery at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., reported this morning that 18 young men from the Appleton area were enlisted by the army recruiting party stationed in Armory G Wednesday and Thursday.

The lieutenant and the 16 enlisted men who make up the recruiting detail assigned to six Wisconsin cities left this morning for Oshkosh to continue their work. One of the three army trucks in which they are traveling was scheduled to return to the armory at 1 o'clock this afternoon to pick up any additional applicants from this territory and take them to Oshkosh for physical examinations and other procedure.

Company D of the 127th infantry entertained Lieutenant Thorkelson and his men at a gathering last night at the armory. About a dozen members of the 120th field artillery band also were invited in as guests of the national guard unit. More than 100 men were present.

Young men from this area who are interested in enlisting in the army and who were unable to go to Oshkosh this afternoon should apply at the office of Major Thomas G. Poland, federal building, Green Bay, the major has requested.

About 3,000 men are being recruited from the 6th army corps area which includes Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois. There are openings in the infantry, field artillery, signal corps, medical detachments, and musical units.

Pontiff Assails Governments Assuming 'Absolute Autonomy' As He Issues First Encyclical

bids every appeal to the principles of natural reason and Christian conscience."

"Fortunately, false principles do not always exercise their full influence, especially when the age-old Christian traditions on which peoples have been nurtured remain still deeply, even if unconsciously, rooted in their hearts," the pope declared.

This was interpreted as a reference to such devoutly Catholic peoples as the Poles.
Poland, the pontiff said, "has the right to generous brotherly sympathy of the whole world while it awaits... the hour of resurrection in harmony with principles of justice and true peace."

Must Respect Principles
Pope Pius described his "expectation" will respect its plight word in "intention and conviction" that each party treaties as an indispensable condition of peace.

He said peace could not be achieved until "both sides are ready to enter into discussion and avoid recourse to force or threats of force in case of delays, hindrances, changes or disputes."

The pope acknowledged that treaties might become outdated with the passing of time. In such cases, he said, "recourse should be had to frank discussion with a view to modifying the treaty or making another in its stead."

"But to consider treaties on principle as ephemeral," he declared, "and to assume the authority of rescinding them unilaterally when they no longer are to one's advantage would be to abolish all mutual trust among states."

Turning from causes of the present war to prospects of a more enduring settlement at its conclusion, the pontiff asked whether there "could be a new international order 'animated by justice and by equity towards all' or 'repetition of ancient and recent errors.'"

"Hour of Temptation"
The hour of victory, he warned is "the hour of temptation" and the danger exists that "settlements and decisions born in such condition may be nothing else than injustice under the cloak of justice."

His message was not divulged in advance of the time set for publication—noon (5 a. m. C. S. T.)—but it was understood to have been revised at different times in recent weeks in the face of rapidly changing situations in war-ridden Europe.

The pope, writing in longhand, recast it three times before giving it to Monsignor Antonio Bacci, the papal secretary of briefs, for translation into Latin.

The encyclical has been translated into half a dozen or more languages by a corps of priests.

The pope, although hindered by rapid fire changes in war-torn Europe, prepared his first encyclical sooner than his predecessor, Pius XI.

Pope For 8 Months
The late Pope Pius published his first encyclical, "Ubi Arcano," likewise a plea for peace, only slightly less than ten months after he ascended the throne of St. Peter. The present pontiff has been in office less than eight months.

Although encyclicals were instituted by Innocent XII at the end of the sixteenth century, it was only during the last six pontificates, beginning with the reign of Pope Pius IX at the end of the last century, that the most important utterances of the Holy See have been issued in that form.

As the name indicates, encyclicals are circular letters in which the pope communicates some idea to bishops, addressing them always as "venerable brothers." Thus they differ from pastoral letters which are addressed by the bishop to his flock.

Nature of Encyclicals
Encyclicals generally concern matters affecting the welfare of the church at large, condemning some prevalent form of error, pointing out dangers which threaten faith or morals, exhorting the faithful to constancy or prescribing remedies for evils.

The present pope is the fourth consecutive pontiff to open his reign with a peace encyclical.

Pope Pius X came to the papal throne in 1903 when there was no war but great peace activity, including diplomatic discussions resulting in the peace conference proposed by Czar Nicholas of Russia and institution of the international court of arbitration at The Hague. The pope admonished that all this talk would be in vain if it were not founded on the thought of God and justice.

Advertising Club To Hear Lectures

Speaking Program Announced; Merchants Guests at Meeting

Announcement of a series of noon lectures by various speakers on advertising subjects was made at a meeting of the Appleton Advertising club last night at which merchants of the city were guests. About 35 attended the dinner meeting at Copper Kettle.

J. Edward Murphy, chairman for the series of lectures, announced that they will start next Thursday at the Conway hotel. Speakers will appear before the club every other Thursday until December, when a month's "vacation" will be called. The lectures will be resumed on the first Thursday in January.

Wayne Jones and Ray Eichelberg were other speakers at last night's meeting, welcoming new members into the organization and explaining its objectives. R. L. Swanson provided the entertainment for the gathering of men and women with his new colored motion picture, "That Boy of Mine," the story of a fishing trip in the Canadian wilderness.

the papacy with the World war already raging. His first encyclical was a plea for peace.

Pope Pius XI, immediate predecessor of the present pontiff, dedicated his first encyclical to a program of "the peace of Christ in the reign of Christ," a famous motto to which he announced in a consistency.

Third Term Talk May Jeopardize Embargo Repeal

Lawrence Weighs Political Portent of Secretary Wallace's Remarks

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — What Secretary Wallace intended as a compliment to his chief may turn out to be a distinct disservice to the president.

For, if there ever is a time when cabinet officers should refrain from discussing politics — and third term politics at that — it is during the perilous moments of the neutrality debate.

The secretary of agriculture certainly has not been reading the newspapers lately, or he would have learned that the principal objection to the repeal of the embargo is derived from a deep-seated distrust on the part of the Republicans which accuses Mr. Roosevelt of being so eager to have a third term as to be willing to drag America into the war to fulfill his ambitions. Only a few weeks ago, former Governor Landon voiced publicly the hope that Mr. Roosevelt would renounce now all third term aspirations as one way to bring national unity in the face of the European crisis.

It is true that Mr. Wallace's utterances do not necessarily reflect the president's views, but at a time when the administration would wish to allay suspicion, the interview given by the secretary of agriculture will be taken by partisan Republicans as confirmation of their fears of political capitalization of the present war by Mr. Roosevelt, despite his request that politics be adjourned.

Has Remained Silent
For reasons of his own, Mr. Roosevelt has chosen to remain silent on the third term question. Whether he intends to run or to decline to run is something he alone will decide and there has been no sign that he will consent to be "smoked out" ahead of the spring of 1940, when presumably he has intended all along to make his position clear.

Unfortunately for Mr. Roosevelt — whether or not he intends to run — he cannot in advance take anybody into his confidence, not even his cabinet officers. So far as is known, he has never revealed his desires to anybody — possibly not even to the members of his own household. It is, therefore, apparent now more than ever that office-holders who talk third term do so on their own responsibility and initiative. For, if there was any collusion between the White House and the third term boomers, it certainly would have functioned better than to permit the secretary of agriculture to be issuing interviews about the third term to the press just as the neutrality debate reaches its critical stages.

Serves Useful Purpose
But the Wallace episode will serve a useful purpose in that it will enable the country to dismiss

Dental Examinations Have Been Completed At 30 Rural Schools

Miss Maybelle Counihan, dental hygienist assisting Miss Marie Klein, Outagamie county nurse, with the dental program in the schools, has conducted 1,040 mouth examinations in 30 schools, according to a report released today. Fifty class room lectures were given and 30 toothbrush instructions given.

A total of 506 defect notices were sent to parents. Evidence of professional dental care was found in 29 per cent of 373 cases, and 12 per cent without such care. Oral cleanliness was reported good for 180 pupils, fair for 320 and poor for 556.

A total of 453 students was found with the first permanent molar decayed and 147 with it missing. Forty-seven per cent of the students examined were reported in the habit of brushing their teeth daily, while 26 malocclusion cases were reported and 196 reported free from dental cares.

Chub Fishing Doomed, Lake Fishermen Claim

Two Rivers — Frank Le Clair, president of the Wisconsin Commercial Fishermen's association, in a statement yesterday declared that chub fishing was doomed in the state because of narrower nets of smaller mesh which are specified under new orders of the Wisconsin Conservation commission.

Le Clair said chub fishing was the backbone of the $250,000 commercial fishing industry in Two Rivers. He asserted that Governor Heil by signing the new orders Tuesday had taken action "contrary to his promise to make test lifts with both sizes of mesh before a final decision was reached." The tests were not made, Le Clair contended.

All talk of the third term, emanating hereafter from cabinet officers and political henchmen, as mere wishful thinking on the part of a political machine. The incident also will bring out into the open the question of whether any man is truly essential to the presidency. Woodrow Wilson, in his speech accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912, said there was no "indispensable" man in America and he was by that remark singling out for criticism Theodore Roosevelt, who was seeking a third term even though four years had elapsed since the ending of his second term.

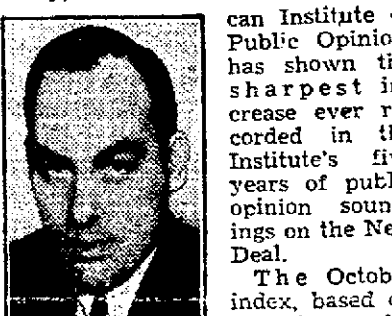

Many Democrats will no doubt agree with Secretary Wallace that President Roosevelt has a background of information and training valuable to leadership of America in war-time. But the real issue will be whether only one man in the Democratic party is so fitted, or whether the nation will be setting by contrast an example to the one man governments of the world of a country which has an abundance of men of poise, of judgment of capacity and of patriotism through the shoals of war-time crises.

This correspondent has believed that Mr. Roosevelt does not wish to run and will so announce in due time, but that the Democratic party convention may decide in 1940 to draft him anyway — a circumstance which Chairman Hamilton of the Republican National committee says publicly he would welcome because he thinks the nation would defeat a third term candidate in 1940.

War Has Made Roosevelt More Popular Today Than When Reelected in 1936

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J. — In the two months since war broke out in Europe, President Roosevelt's popularity, as measured by the American Institute of Public Opinion, has shown the sharpest increase ever recorded in the Institute's five years of public opinion soundings on the New Deal.

Dr. Gallup

The October issue, based on interviews with a cross-section of American voters in every state, shows an 8-point rise since August and finds President Roosevelt more popular today than he was when re-elected in 1936. Of all voters in the poll, 64.9 per cent said they approve of Roosevelt as president today, as compared to 61.0 in a survey a month ago, and 56.8 per cent two months ago. The president was re-elected in 1936 with 62.5 per cent of the major party vote.

The president's largest gains in popularity have come in those groups of voters who were least favorable to him before the war broke out in Europe. Thus, the survey finds an 11-point increase in his popularity since August among the upper income group, and a nearly comparable rise among voters 50 years of age and over, who were previously Republican in their leanings.

The chief reason for the increase appears to be the popularity of the president's foreign policy. Institute polls on various phases of the president's program, including revision of the neutrality act, show majorities in favor of his course and indicate substantial agreement over foreign policy among Democrats and Republicans.

In other recent surveys the Institute has found a rise in sentiment for a Roosevelt third term, with 43 per cent favoring a third term as compared to 40 per cent before the war. Many voters say, however, that if the war is still going on next year they would reconsider their present objections to a third term. The actual vote is 52 per cent for a third term if war continues, 43 per cent opposed.

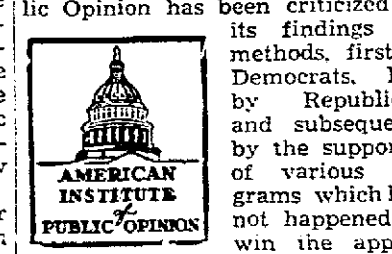

The president's popularity gains have been large in those geographical sections where opinion on the New Deal was most divided prior to the war. In New England and in the East Central states, where institute interviews in August found only 51 per cent in favor of Roosevelt, today's survey shows a clear majority in favor of the president. The smallest gains since August have come in the two areas which were already overwhelmingly pro-New Deal — the South and the Far West.

12,000 Persons Interviewed in Roosevelt Popularity Survey

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Princeton, N. J. — From its inception, the American Institute of Public Opinion has been criticized for its findings and methods, first by Democrats, later by Republicans and subsequently by the supporters of various programs which have not happened to win the approval of a majority of voters.

In most cases the criticisms have come from persons who disagreed with majority viewpoints expressed in the surveys.

The latest criticism comes from General Hugh S. Johnson, who takes exception to the Institute's methods in its current surveys on the neutrality act.

He infers that there is some closely guarded secret in the way public opinion surveys are conducted, some air of mystery which should be dispelled by public investigation. The American Institute of Public Opinion has no secrets; it welcomes any kind of study of its methods. As a matter of fact, the Institute has published a booklet describing in detail its survey methods.

Each year a copy of this booklet is mailed to every member of Congress. A copy will be sent free to anyone in the United States who writes to the American Institute of Public Opinion, Princeton, N. J.

The distinguishing feature of the new science of public opinion measurement is the fact that it relies for its accuracy on a scientifically-selected sample of voters in each state and not upon broadcasting millions of ballots. Depending upon statistical requirements the institute includes from 3,000 to 60,000 interviews in each survey.

Actually in the survey reported today on President Roosevelt's popularity 12,000 interviews were included. Such a sample insures that any error due solely to the number of people interviewed will not, under any practical circumstances, exceed 2 per cent. According to the laws of probability, the statistical odds are 997 in 1,000 that the error due to size of sample will not exceed 1.3 per cent. From a scientific point of view the Institute might have included only a fourth as many ballots, or 3,000, and achieved virtually the same degree of accuracy.

Young People of Neenah Church to Go to Conference

State Lutheran Youth Parley to be Held at Fond du Lac Nov. 3

Neenah — Between 30 and 40 young people as well as members of the young people's choir, together with the Rev. Samuel H. Roth, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, are making plans to attend the third annual state Lutheran youth conference at Our Saviour's Church in Fond du Lac Friday, Nov. 3.

The choir members will participate in the mass choir concert under the direction of the Rev. C. B. Lund, Eklund, during the evening service.

The Rev. B. J. Stecker, Fond du Lac, will conduct opening devotions at 10:45 Friday morning, Nov. 3. The mayor of the city of Fond du Lac, together with Dr. R. H. Gerberding, president of the Northwest Synod and the Rev. J. I. Meek, president of the Wisconsin conference, will attend the opening.

The Rev. W. W. Roth, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Springfield, Ill., will give the morning address, "Through the Ages." The Rev. Clemens Zeidler, Appleton, will conduct a Luther league clinic prior to the luncheon hour.

General Theme

"The March of Faith" is the general theme of the convention and during the afternoon, Malcolm Mitchell, Indian interpreter at Rocky Boy Indian mission, will speak on "The March of Faith Among Our First Americans."

"The March of Faith in the Present" will be the afternoon address by the Rev. Armin Weng, president of the Illinois Synod. Discussion groups on "The March of Faith Manifested in Our Symbols, Our Music and Our Common Service" will be conducted by the Rev. J. I. Meek, the Rev. C. B. Lund and the Rev. A. E. Birch.

"The March of Faith as an Answer to our present day problems, our personal religious beliefs and our prospect for the future" will be discussed by the Rev. Ellis Jensen, the Rev. George Overdier and the Rev. J. M. Jacobsen, Milwaukee.

The Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker, executive secretary of the Young People's League, Norwegian Lutheran church of America, Minneapolis, Minn., will be guest pastor at the evening service.

Olympics Will be Organized Monday

Donald Colburn Heads Committee to Map Sports Activities

Neenah — The Neenah Junior Chamber of Commerce, Olympics will be organized at a meeting at 7:30 Monday evening in the community room of the National Manufacturers bank building.

Donald Colburn, who is in charge of organizing the sports activity, said he expected nearly 20 organizations from Neenah and Menasha to take part in the Olympics. Colburn is being assisted by Paul Stacker.

Besides organizing the group, the games which will be played will be selected, rules and regulations will be adopted, locations for tournaments will be named, and the date when the Olympics will get underway will be determined. An executive committee will be named. The Olympics will be open to all men's clubs and organizations in the Twin Cities and Monday night's meeting will be the second held this fall. At the first meeting, the Olympics plan was discussed, and Ray Peterson, Oshkosh, the originator of the plan, explained the set up as it exists at Oshkosh.

Murphy Will Address Merchants and Jaces

Neenah — A. D. Murphy, Green Bay, secretary of the Green Bay Association of Commerce, will be the guest speaker at the merchants' dinner sponsored by the Neenah Junior Chamber of Commerce at 6:30 Monday evening at the Neenah club.

Leo Koffman, chairman of the Christmas activities committee, will present a proposed Christmas street decoration program to the merchants during the meeting, and Milton Boehm, chairman of the retail committee, will present a proposed seasonal sales plan.

Merchants Meet With Jace Retail Committee

Neenah — Ten Neenah merchants met with members of the retail committee of the Neenah Junior Association of Commerce Thursday night to discuss plans for dollar days and other merchandising events. Recommendations of the committee will be discussed further at a dinner meeting of the Jaces next Monday night.

The Twin Cities Office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and display advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street, and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for display advertising and orders for subscription should be placed by telephoning 543 in Appleton, and the cost of the telephone call will be rebated. The Twin Cities office closes at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Illinois Couple Will Perform at Meeting Of NEW Kennel Club

Neenah — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lowenbach, Glenview, Ill., noted breeders of Welsh and wire haired fox terriers, will present a program at a meeting of the Northwestern Wisconsin Kennel club at 7:30 Monday evening at the Valley Inn.

Plans for the club's third annual all breed show, which will be held next fall, will be mapped out, a date selected and application for a license to the American Kennel club made. The club also will make plans for the puppy match which will be held this winter for members.

Mr. Lowenbach, who is a licensed judge and show superintendent, breeds wire terriers, while Mrs. Lowenbach raises Welsh terriers at their Harlow kennels. He is considered the outstanding terrier breeder in the midwest, and he is especially noted for raising Champion Harlow's Brentwood Surprise, top female in the country. Both breeders have raised several other champions.

Ticket Sale for Junior Show Will Be Launched Nov. 1

Sue Hastings' Marionettes Will be Presented at Menasha School

Menasha — Tickets will go on sale among the school children Wednesday, Nov. 1, for the second of the Junior Programs, Inc., which will be Sue Hastings' marionettes to be presented at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, Nov. 20, in the Menasha high school auditorium. The tickets to be sold are 1.00 each, as many seats as there are in the auditorium.

During the performance of the first program, Pinocchio in ballet form, 1,100 tickets were sold through a misunderstanding about the number of seats at the school. About $50 remains in the treasury of the Menasha and Neenah unit following the financing of the first program. Junior Programs, Inc., is a non-profit organization and the money turned over to the corporation is expended for the corporation. The performance itself, the $50 which remained after all expenses were paid, belongs to the four Parent-Teacher groups of Neenah and Menasha who are interested in bringing the cultural programs to the Twin Cities. It will remain on deposit for use should another program prove not as successful financially.

Grid Efficiency Will be Tested

Menasha Youngsters to Compete Saturday At Two Parks

Menasha — The list of the WPA football efficiency tests will be held Saturday at Jefferson park and at Seventh street playground. The efficiency tests will be at both of the fields from 9 o'clock in the morning to noon and from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The first tests were held last Saturday and a large number of boys responded. All who did not compete on that day will have a chance to compete tomorrow. Competition will be in punt for distance, place kick for distance and pass for distance. Each youth will have three tries in each event.

Any boy who is not a member of a varsity football squad may compete in the tests. The competitors will be divided into age groups and a point system will be used which will permit a boy of 10 to score as many points as a boy of 18. The age limits for the tests are 10 to 18 inclusive.

The tests will be handled by William Beitz and August Ryder of Oshkosh, assisted by a staff of recreational leaders. Clarence Zielinski of Menasha was the state winner in the 16-year age group last year.

Herman Reddin Given Permit to Build Home

Neenah — A building permit authorizing construction of a home on Fairview avenue was issued today by John Benker, assistant city building inspector, to Herman Reddin. Estimated cost of the home, which will be of frame construction without a basement, is $2,000. The building will be 28 by 28 feet, one story in height with a gable roof.

Imperialism Is Real War Issue, Lecturer Claims

Haas Proposes Economic United States of Europe as Solution

Neenah — Proposing a solution to the European problem, Grant C. Haas, Madison, said in the first of a series of six lectures on world problems last night at Kimberly school, that the claims of both sides in the present European war are superficial and that neither side is facing the issue because both want to retain their imperialism.

Contending that neither the allies nor Germany are fighting for peace, Haas said that when the war really starts it will destroy Europe and drive civilization back to the middle ages if it is fought to the finish.

He also contended that if one side crushes the other, it will mean another Versailles treaty and more wars.

Older Members of Church are Guests at Annual Dinner Party

Neenah — Thirty-five older members of First Evangelical church were guests of honor at the Deacons' Workers Bible class annual dinner party for older members at the Twin City Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening. Lois Ann Mielke presented a piano solo during the program following the dinner, the class presented a song and Joan Mielke played a clarinet solo. The ladies quartet of the church also sang. The Rev. Roy W. Berg, minister of the church, gave a short talk after which a play was presented by Mrs. Fred Gallau, Mrs. William Zinke, Mrs. Roy Berg, Mrs. Jack Meyer and Mrs. William Peterson. Corsettes for the feminine guests and boutonnieres for the men were presented by the class.

Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Paulin, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wauda, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Zeinert, Mr. and Mrs. William Schumann, Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schmit, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer, Mrs. Charles Sherman, Mrs. Jacob Scheller, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kellner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Breaker, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Branska, Mrs. W. F. Berg and the Rev. and Mrs. Roy W. Berg.

Eighteen tables were in play at the Lady Eagles public card party Thursday evening in Eagle hall. Mrs. George Thiel won the guest prize. Schafkopf awards went to Elmer Boreson, Mrs. Max Radtke, Mrs. Ben Rogers and Charles J. Nielsen. The whist honors were won by Mrs. Marie Klinkke and Mrs. Joseph Voss and bridge awards by Mrs. Emma Henebery. At the short business session preceding the card party, it was announced that the Helping Hand society will meet at 7:30 Monday evening with Mrs. Walter Abendshien, S. Commercial street, Mrs. Harry Kampe and Mrs. Miles Levick will be assisting hostesses.

200 Persons Hear Eagles President Outline Program

Order Believes Serious Depressions Can be Checked, Abel Says

Menasha — Over 200 persons, including visitors from Neenah, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Manitowish aerics, attended the meeting of the Menasha aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles Thursday night at which John A. Abel of Marion, Ohio, grand worthy president of the order, was the speaker.

The right of the workman to a steady job at a saving wage was presented by the president in his talk. "Under the Constitution each of us has the right to the pursuit of happiness," Mr. Abel declared.

Yet this right is now denied millions of American workmen. The man who goes to bed at night wondering whether the morning will find him at his job or pounding the streets in search of work is not happy.

Eagles believe that our economic system can be effectively safeguarded against the drastic ups and downs of depressions," he said. A plan to stabilize employment as advocated by the Eagles is included in the Eagles' program. The measure provides for surveys, studies and investigations of all economic problems so the government can legislate intelligently and effectively.

Cites Examples

The Eagles' plan for stabilizing business and eliminating unemployment assumes the maintenance of the "private-profit" motive in industry, the speaker explained. At the same time it champions the cause of the workman in his right to continuous work at a saving wage. The speaker cited such firms as Nunn-Bush, Hormel, and Sears and Roebuck, which guarantee their workers 52 pay checks a year and yet operate at a profit, as proof that the plan is sound.

Mr. Abel pointed out the effect of Eagles leadership in securing workman's compensation, mothers' pensions, and the model old age pension bill which was first enacted in Montana and on which all pension legislation has been based.

The fraternity has been disappointed in the turn old age pensions have taken recently, declared Mr. Abel. "Dishonest administration of the law has given rise to deplorable conditions in certain states. Absurd pension proposals are cropping up in almost every corner of the land. Eagles did not intend that old age pensions should be a convenient substitute for family responsibility or that pensions should destroy the incentive to save. We have always insisted that pensions be paid only to the aged who are in need."

A class of candidates was initiated into the Menasha aerie at the meeting Thursday night in honor of the visit of the national president. The degree team of the Neenah aerie conducted the work. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Neenah Personals

Neenah — Harold Terrier, 424 Seventh street, Neenah, underwent a major operation Thursday at Theda Clark hospital.

CHIEFS RETURN

Neenah — Police Chief Alex Slomski of Menasha and C. H. Watts, chief of the Neenah police force, have returned from the annual state convention of police chiefs of Wisconsin, Wednesday and Thursday at Milwaukee.

Council Will Act on Revised Cost of Pool

Neenah — A special meeting of the Neenah council has been called for 6:45 tonight by Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs to act on WPA matters in connection with the construction of the new swimming pool.

The council will be asked to pass a new estimate of cost of the project. The revised figure will be $101,361.25, while the previous figure was $158,000. The revision makes no change in the cost to the local taxpayer as the city's share will not be over $35,000.

The council also will be asked to pass a change order in the contract of Fluor Brothers to include several items in the equipment of the pool. Several equipment contracts will be reawarded by the council.

Committees for Citizenship Day Named at Neenah

Preparations Begin for Training, Induction Of New Voters

Neenah — Committees which will be in charge of the citizenship training and induction for new voters program in Neenah were named today by C. F. Hedges, superintendent of schools.

They are: Executive committee, Carl Christensen, S. F. Shattuck, Elmer Radtke, J. H. Holzman, Ivan Williams, Harvey Leaman, Robert Ozanne, Gordon Drews and Mr. Hedges and wavs and means committee, Mrs. E. P. Arpin, Edward Jandrey, Mrs. R. E. Sanders, Ambrose Owen, Mrs. Arthur Ritzer, James Webb, Mrs. M. L. Leffingwell, Alvin Laflin, Mrs. Richard Roudabush and Leo Schubart.

Additional committees to be appointed include program, directory, publicity, decorations, traffic and safety, records and music. The local committees are a part of the county committees, and the general plan is to enlist the cooperation of all local organizations and many citizens in order to make the citizenship program a community project.

New State Law

Mr. Hedges pointed out that due to the success of a similar citizenship project in Manitowish last year, the state legislature passed a law making it compulsory for each county to give training in citizenship to all young persons who become 21 years of age from May 23, 1939, to May 22, 1940.

The program is based on and emphasizes county and local government, fostered and carried out under the leadership of public school authorities and developed and staged through community organization and cooperation. The program planned includes reaching and instructing the native born voters and giving all citizens an opportunity to think together and get a livelier interest in governmental affairs.

Citizenship day will climax the program. Prof. R. J. Colbert of the University of Wisconsin, founder of the adult citizenship training program, will meet with members of the councils of Neenah and Menasha next Tuesday night to outline plans for the program. C. F. Hedges, Neenah superintendent of schools, announced today.

Twin City members of the county board of supervisors and new voters also will be invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the Neenah city hall auditorium at 7 o'clock next Tuesday night. Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs of Neenah will introduce Professor Colbert.

That Neenah city employees will observe Thanksgiving on the traditional day, Nov. 30, according to Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs. "There is no call for the mayor to issue a proclamation but it might help clarify the issue at least for this year," Kalfahs said.

Brigade Leaders Discuss Program For Coming Year

Captain Lyall Stip Outlines Activity, Assigns Duties

Neenah — Thirty-five Brigade leaders, meeting for a 6:15 dinner session at the Valley Inn, Thursday evening, heard a discussion of the 1939-40 Brigade program and activities by Captain Lyall Stip and were assigned activity work for the year.

C. Brein and Ira Clough were introduced as new leaders for the sixth grade group. Both men are past Brigadiers. Wayne Fetters, a new leader, will assist Paul Stacker in the athletic program. Leo Schubart and Howard Angermeyer, both having had past Brigade experience, will be in charge of the twelfth and sixth grade groups respectively during the coming season. Due to the large enrollment in the sixth grade section this year, it will be necessary to have two additional leaders for the extra groups.

The 1939-40 leadership roster includes Lyall Stip as captain, the Rev. W. R. Courtenay as chaplain, Karl Oberreich, program, Howard Whitman, G. Sawyer, Gilbert Sawyer and L. C. Stip, Paul Stacker, and Wayne Fetters, drill. Fred Solomon, special assignments and Lester Mals, music.

Sixth Grade Leaders

Sixth grade group leaders will be Howard Angermeyer, chairman, Ira Clough, C. Brein and Robert Kuehl. Tenth grade, William Kurtz, chairman, D. Jones, Kenneth Harwood and J. Meyer; eighth grade, James Keating, chairman, E. Rickard, D. Schalk and T. Shreve; ninth grade, J. Thomson, chairman, Nathan Waudra, Dr. J. Jern and Ed Meyer; tenth grade, Irwin Pearson, chairman, Jack Hewitt, R. Neubauer and A. Dix; eleventh grade, Earl Cravens, chairman, G. Waudra and C. Neubauer; and twelfth grade, Earl Williams, chairman and Leo Schubart. The general committee of the Brigade is made up of the supervisors and all chairman.

The sports committee includes Paul Stacker and Wayne Fetters. The social committee for all Brigade parties includes Kenneth Harwood, chairman, D. Schalk, A. Dix, N. Waudra, R. Erdmann and Paul Stacker. The social committee for leadership parties is chairmaned by Karl Oberreich and includes Dr. Jern, L. C. Stip, R. Kuehl, J. Meyer, C. Krause and C. Ovelly. J. Meyer, Reich is also publicity chairman.

The group meeting and drill hours were announced for various grades. Monday evening, the sixth grade groups will hold group meetings from 7:30 to 8:30 and drill from 8:30 to 9:30. The seventh and eighth grade groups will hold group meetings from 7:30 to 8:30 and drill from 8:30 to 9:30. Recreational with Monday evening, the Brigade will hold sessions one half hour earlier than in previous years in order to allow the boys to get home earlier.

Larger Enrollment. The ninth and tenth grades will hold group meetings from 8 to 9 o'clock and drill from 9 to 10 o'clock. The eleventh and twelfth grades will hold group meetings from 7 to 8 o'clock and drill from 8 to 9 o'clock.

Captain Lyall Stip stated that the 59 sixth graders and six new recruits from other grades added to an anticipated 180 older boys enrollment, would make a total Brigade enrollment for the year around 230. Because of this large enrollment, it is necessary to have Brigade on two nights this year in order to accommodate the increase.

It was announced that records would be kept this year as in the past and that sweaters will be sold to the boys again. Plans were formulated for an informal parent-leadership dancing party, tentatively set for Nov. 23.

Paul Stacker briefly outlined the athletic program for the year, stating a variety of sports are planned in relation to the age level of the boys participating. Thursday evenings will be set aside for individual group sports with a general sports program for Saturday afternoons. It was the consensus of opinion that there is a definite need for an organized Saturday afternoon activity program.

Oberreich Talks. Karl Oberreich presented a brief discussion of group meeting programs for the year. He mentioned also in order to discuss the program during the course of the year and acquaint the leaders with topics that are to follow.

Since Brigade parties met with such success last year, present plans include three parties during the coming season. Three leadership parties will be held also during the year.

Monday, Oct. 30, will be re-enlistment night for older boys of the Brigade and group meetings will get underway for all grades Nov. 6.

Neenah Rotary Club To Sponsor Banquet For Football Teams

Neenah — The Neenah Rotary club will sponsor the annual football dinner for the Neenah, Menasha and St. Mary crest teams at the Valley Inn Thursday evening, Nov. 9, and Dean Clark Graham, Ripon college, will be the speaker. It was announced at a noon meeting of the club at the Valley Inn.

After C. Jung, Menasha, of the Winnebago Camera club, was the guest speaker yesterday noon, and he discussed photography as a hobby.

Guests of the Rotary club were six Neenah High school honor students. They were Vincent Lampert and Constance Jorgensen, freshmen; Mary Jan Uvas and Norris Sanders, sophomores; Fred Haselov and Norma Jackson, juniors; and Harland Hesselman and Norma Patterson, seniors.

Falcon Bowling Loop Opens Season Sunday

Afternoon at Hendy's

Menasha — The Polish Falcons Bowling league will open its season at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the Hendy alleys. The teams of past years have been replaced by sponsored teams and will be named after the sponsors instead of the familiar "Knock-Knocks," "Hefty Dollies" and others of past seasons.

Teams in the league and their captains include Kesslers captained by Ray Pakalski, St. John C. Y. O. led by Carl Akstulewicz, Hendy Recreation headed by Peter Ostrowski, Falcon Club led by Badger Nadelny, Ciske Brothers captained by Ben Pakalski and Mustafa Grocers headed by Sylvester Romnick.

The teams will be outfitted with bowling shirts. Joe Omer is the president of the league and Ray Pakalski is the secretary-treasurer.

Germans Assert Britain Is Target Of New Offensive

Control of Communications Seen as Prelude To Attack in West

Berlin —(P)—An impression persisted here that the German command contemplated an offensive in the west, that it would be launched soon and that it would be aimed chiefly against Britain.

This seemed to be borne out by a ban yesterday on private use of telephones and telegraph services to foreign countries.

Observers noted similar controls of communications were imposed the day before the invasion of Poland and a second time immediately after the British and French declarations of war.

Political circles speculated whether an offensive might be loosed on land, at sea or in the air.

These sources indicated Germany had precise knowledge of the stations of British troops in France and that German air forces would try to strike terror in the British expeditionary force.

Preparations apparently were underway also for combined air and naval attacks on British seaports and coastal air bases. Gasoline storage plants were said to be on Germany's list as targets.

Trade Group Arrives

German front pages, however, were devoted primarily to the arrival here of a Russian trade delegation and the conclusion of a deal at Moscow by which Russia agreed to deliver 1,000,000 tons of fodder and grain to Germany within the next two months.

Adolf Hitler's Volkischer Beobachter, after praising what it called quick, systematic Russian-German cooperation, said the agreement would silence those who "doubted the seriousness and the willingness of the German and Soviet government for productive cooperation."

The newspaper added that "Russian grain, together with imports from Rumania, permits us to fatten an additional 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 hogs," and would mean more liberal fat and pork rations.

This is a matter of prime importance to Germany which, in 1935, was compelled to slaughter many heads of hogs for lack of fodder, a blow which she did not recover throughout the World war.

See Soviet Move

It was believed in some German quarters that Russia soon might make another Poland of Turkey, placing herself in control of the Dardanelles and striking a blow at one of Britain's most vital points.

German sources expressed belief there was a possible source of friction between Berlin and Moscow over the German contraband list.

Germany had offered to let soviet ships pass unimpeded to England in fulfillment of the British-Russian trade agreement provided such trade was in non-contraband goods only.

Relations were now so close between Germany and the Soviet union, German sources said, that Russia would not attempt to deliver to Germany's enemy articles that the reich considered contraband.

Continue Hearing in Condemnation Suit to Widen Pulaski Street

Menasha—The hearing in the condemnation proceedings of the city of Menasha to secure land necessary for the opening of Pulaski street will be held at 10 o'clock next Monday morning at the Menasha city hall. The hearing was postponed from Wednesday morning when it was scheduled originally.

The city started the proceedings against Mrs. George Halloran, Neenah, after the council committee, and Mrs. Halloran were unable to agree on a fair price for the land necessary for the widening of the street.

The appraisers appointed by County Judge D. E. McDonald to conduct the hearing are Louis Devons and Herman Tide of the town of Neenah and C. E. Gerhardt of Neenah. Testimony will be taken on the first Monday to determine the value of the land.

Wisconsin Factories Work on Navy Orders

Milwaukee — Wisconsin factories are turning out navy material at the rate of several hundred thousand dollars each month, Commander S. C. Norton, navy instructor for the naval reserve, declared last night.

Addressing the annual Navy day dinner at the Alonzo Cudworth American Legion post Commander Norton said the state supplies iron, zinc, white pine, wood pulp and paper products, and manufactured machinery for navy uses.

"For the past number of months," he said, "200 manufacturing plants in the state have been turning out navy material to the value of several hundred thousand dollars a month. In addition, these firms have on their books orders for several million dollars more in material."

"All of this has meant steady employment for thousands of Wisconsin residents, and in the next few months will mean employment for even more men."

Three Die When Car Plunges Into Lake After Crash on Hill

Durand —(P)—An automobile, out of control after a collision, plunged into Thompson lake yesterday afternoon, carrying a middle-aged woman and two of her granddaughters to their deaths.

The victims were Mrs. Egbert Kewin of Durand, and Beverly and Susan Schofield, aged 5 and 3, the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schofield of Eau Claire. The bodies were recovered.

Egbert Kewin, driver of the car, escaped by breaking through a window but said "I don't know how I did it." He is night policeman at Durand.

The Schofields were in Durand for the funeral of Henry's brother, George Schofield.

The Kewin car and a truck reportedly collided as both came down a hill leading to a bridge over the spring-fed lake. The Kewin car left the highway just before the bridge, and plunged into the steep-banked lake where the water was 20 feet deep.

Navy Offers Chief Peace Assurance, Roosevelt States

President's Letter Virtually Only Official Recognition of Navy Day

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington —(P)—The largest and most powerful American navy in 17 years was told by President Roosevelt today that it was the nation's chief reliance to keep out of the European war.

"The most promising way to preserve our peace lies in the ability to defend our sea frontiers," Mr. Roosevelt said in a Navy day letter to acting Secretary Charles Edison.

"That peace we shall strive to maintain by all honorable and advanced means. With the world in arms, this country is compelled as never before to maintain an adequate and positive defense."

The president's letter constituted almost the only official recognition of the day. Officers and men themselves were too busy with the neutrality patrol, with training recruits and building new ships to celebrate.

Secrecy Rules

Navy day found the fleet operating under virtual wartime conditions. Visitors were barred from ships and shore stations. Movements of all fighting ships on the Atlantic coast patrol and with the main fleet in the Pacific were secret.

It is no secret, however, that the largest number of ships is at sea since the 1922 limitation treaty junked or retired half the World war navy. There were 321 ships of all types in commission then. There are 388 manned now, including 40 World war destroyers put back in service to reinforce the neutrality patrol. The navy has 385 vessels of all types.

Workers in crowded government and commercial shipyards are driving rivets on 103 craft.

By 1944 the navy hopes to reach the goal set up in the 1938 expansion act: 18 battleships, approximately 45 cruisers, 150 destroyers, 56 submarines, 8 air-craft carriers and 3,000 warplanes.

Additional Sentence Added to Man's Term

Kenosha —(P)—Ernest Berg, 45-year-old former Milwaukee police patrol, returned to Waupun state prison today with an additional sentence added to the six-to-eight he is serving for a series of Milwaukee burglaries and holdups.

He was sentenced here yesterday to one to two years for attempted burglary and one to four years for possession of burglary tools, the terms to run concurrently after expiration of his original sentence.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Meier, 410 W. Foster street, went to Madison yesterday, where Mr. Meier will undergo a serious operation.

After A Man's Heart

attitude of casual friendship, was enjoying her winter. She found the high altitude stimulating, she liked the brisk give and take of opinion among the young people. The University attracted eminent lecturers; Buff enrolled for a part-time course. Mrs. Webb guarded her vigilantly. George was a perfect confidant. Her typewriter had clicked out two successful playlets already.

And then, when the mildest January Boulder had known in years descended on the town, the younger set was thrown into a state of wild excitement by the return of Iris DeMuth.

Angry Denunciation. The day before her arrival Buff and Tim had quarreled bitterly. He came charging into her living room at the unwonted hour of three in the afternoon, a fact suddenly surprising in itself. He plunged into angry denunciation of her without any enlightening preliminary.

"Whatever else I thought of you, Buff, I believed you'd play fair! I thought you'd be open and above-board with me. In fact, I'd come to consider that you leaned a little too far toward the side of frankness and lack of concealment. And then this!" He glared at her accusingly.

She had been writing, and little tendrils of her bright hair escaped from their demure knot. There was a smudge of typewriter ink on one cheek. She had slipped a blue velvet smock over her street dress and its color was reflected in her eyes. She leaned back in her chair and stared at him.

"What have I done that's not open and above-board, Tim? How have I not played fair?" She added, "You might as well sit down while you tell me, too. You're a bit over-powdering, standing there and glaring at me. I've worked hard—I don't feel like being glared at—I don't feel like my tea is anyhow!"

"I'll do you no good to pretend you don't know," He said automatically into his usual comfortable chair. "In fact the only thing that would have helped at all would have been for you to come clean the minute I mentioned it. I said to myself on the way here, 'If Buff comes right out and admits she did it, I'll have to forgive her, since she's only a child after all.' But evidently you're going to stall as long as you can. Well, that won't be more than a few seconds, my dear! I got the report from Denver on the early afternoon mail."

"Did you, indeed?" she inquired politely. "I hope it was a nice report; though probably not, seeing the mood you're in."

"Buff, will you quit this pretending?" "Tim, will you tell me, what you're talking about?"

"About the land George and I bought—from Latshaw! It's been sold. You're the only person in Boulder who knew we'd listed it with a real estate agent in Denver, I suppose. It went on butter, 'You felt very much as philosopher'—"

She shook her head rebukingly. "I'm sure there's no such word, Tim! You mustn't take liberties with the English language like that."

"You to talk of taking liberties! Buying up a lot of land that's worth about fifteen dollars?"

"Did I pay fifteen dollars for it? That doesn't strike me as philanthropy on a grand scale, Tim darling!"

"Don't call me darling! I won't be cajoled. You know as well as I paid for it last summer; that, aside from the agent's commission, I stand just where I did before that deal went through. I can't believe it of you, Buff!"

"That's nice." She curled a foot beneath her and beamed. "Because you don't have to, Tim! I mean I'm not a philanthropist. I'm not feeling a bit smug, I didn't even know that your land was listed for sale. Summing it all up," she finished cheerfully, "it must have been at least two other people who thought I should think I'm as innocent as a babe in a manger."

"Enough's Enough!" He stared at her, his fixed conviction that she and only she could be capable of so foolish an investment doing battle with what he instinctively realized as the ring of truth in her voice.

"But—who else? The land's worth practically nothing. Unless someone's kidding himself that there's really silver there... but I've taken specimens from almost every square foot of it. It's a dud. I tell you! Whoever bought it threw away just that much money."

"Maybe," she ventured, "the purchaser was induced by the same motive that you were?"

"You mean—"

She shook her head. "I wouldn't know the technicalities of it, but I seem to see this Iris girl's hand in the transaction. Anyhow, I didn't buy it. I didn't know it was for sale. Let alone how much you'd paid for it last summer."

"Word of honor, Buff?"

She scorned to answer save for the direct gaze of her blue eyes.

He ran a worried hand through his hair. "This is definitely out," he said. "She's the one person in the world who wouldn't buy what she spent weeks and—and the employment of all her arts and graces in inducing me to take on. But here's what Buff. This fellow Nesbit—he's the head of the agency in Denver—said that the purchaser offered a certain sum for the land. Nesbit didn't know it was the exact amount George and I paid for it last summer. And the name signed to the deed is James Smith. So obviously an assumed name that Nesbit would have refused anything but cash. The whole business doesn't make sense, or credit."

"He shot her a stern glance. 'I see it all now.' Your father bought it. You told him about last summer's affair and persuaded him to—Hey, wait a minute, where are you going?"

"Into my bedroom," she said, over her shoulder. "To stay until you're gone. Enough's enough. I wanted to help you financially. I'd do it as you remarked before, fairly and squarely. In fact, I think I've been about as fair and square in my proposals to you—proposals and propositions both, for that matter—as anyone could be. I wouldn't go pleading with my father to reimburse you for half a mountain, or whatever it is."

"But you've just come back from visiting him! And it's certainly queer that the exact amount of the slammung of her bedroom door out an end to this speech. He took his hat and stalked out for once indifferent to Webby's friendly greeting."

At ten minutes to ten the next morning the telephone rang. Buff was outlining on her coat to go to the University.

"It's Tim," said a meek voice. "Look here! Could you see me for a few minutes if I came right out?"

"I could not! I'm due at a lecture. Anyway, I'm not especially anxious to see you—ever again."

$284,117,399 in U. S. Funds Spent For State Relief

Wisconsin Expenditures Were Made Under Emergency Acts

Washington —(P)—A summary of the expenditures of all agencies under the emergency relief appropriation acts of the last five years showed today that Michigan and Wisconsin combined had received checks totaling $701,906,324.

Under the program Michigan received $417,788,525 from April 8, 1935, to Sept. 30, 1939, including $21,537,009 for the current fiscal year to Sept. 30.

Wisconsin's checks added up to $284,117,399 for the period of which $10,566,107 was paid during this fiscal year.

These items included expenditures through the department of agriculture, farm security administration, the war department, federal emergency relief administration, federal security agency, federal works agency and veterans' administration.

Michigan received its largest appropriation a treasury department showed in the 1939 fiscal year when $131,014,257 was paid. It received during the 1935 and 1936 fiscal years $109,221,655; 1937, $81,381,924; 1938, $74,634,6

Philippines are Termed Ideal for 1940 'Pioneering'

Babson Says Islands Far Better Than Alaska For Homesteading

BY ROGER BABSON
Babson Park, Mass.—Ever since I visited the Philippine Islands last month, I have been wondering why the United States government sent several hundred "unemployed" farming families to Alaska instead of the Philippines. I confess that I am not an authority on the islands, having stayed there only four days. Certain visionaries, however, have not spent even four minutes in this locality. Hence, for those interested in 1940 "pioneering," let me say something now about the Philippines. It is a subject to which 99 per cent of Americans have given too little thought—of this I am firmly convinced.

From purely a trade point-of-view, the Philippines are not too important to the United States. Their foreign trade is less than 3 per cent of the United States total. I am told that Java could land sugar in the United States after payment of duty for about what it now costs the Philippines to produce it. Sugar, however, is not the only important product of the islands although it is the one that people in the United States hear most about.

Copra, Hemp Needed Here
Copra and other products of the coconut are very important. From copra comes the oil which is used in fine soaps, margarine, and cooking oils. The dairy and cotton-seed interests of the States object, however, to importing this copra duty free. Rice is another important Philippine product, although not enough is raised to satisfy the needs of the islands. Hemp is the outstanding raw material which the people of the United States gladly welcome free of duty. The Philippine Islands produce the finest hemp in the world.

The production of tobacco and the manufacture of cigars is on the increase. So are other industries. Most of these are complete to some extent with business in the States. Even Hollywood is jealous because the Philippines are now coming up among countries making moving pictures. On the other hand, the islands are the big purchasers of many of America's products. At a public discussion regarding the complete independence of the Philippines, I stated that the islands must not expect "to have their cake and eat it, too." That is, they must choose either a territorial status and free trade with the United States—or "independence" and the payment of the same duties which other foreign nations pay.

Vital To Shipping
The same statement applies to the people of the United States. We cannot expect the Philippines to buy our machinery, automobiles, radios, textiles, and a thousand other of our manufactured products unless we are willing to buy their sugar, copra, tobacco, hemp and other raw materials. Since the war, the Philippines have become an even better customer of the United States. This is a very important fact to remember. If we wish to prevent Japan from taking our shipping business away from us, American ships must have goods to haul. I go further and say that without a growing trade between the Philippines and America, we cannot keep our merchant marine on the Pacific! Hence, we cannot expect "both to have our cake and eat it, too!"

As the situation now stands, we have promised the Philippines complete independence in 1946. Up until the time of Japan's ruthless attack upon China, the islands were very happy over the idea. Since then, however, many thoughtful Filipinos have been worrying. They are now asking themselves two questions: (1) Will the Japanese try to take the islands after 1946; and (2) Could the Filipinos protect themselves if Japan should try to take them? Frankly, there seems little point in discussing these questions today. Great world events will take place between now and 1946.

No Fear Of Japanese
Yet, I do not now see how, without considerable help from us through tariff concessions and otherwise, our "little brown brothers" can raise the money necessary for military protection against Japanese invasion. Today, however, the Filipinos have no fear on this score. They are both brave and proud. They have heard so much of their lives about the advantages of full independence, that they are determined to try it. However, conditions in the Orient during the next 10 years may work to the disadvantage of the Philippines.

Meanwhile, the Philippines will continue as the frontier of America. The chief argument of our 8,000,000 unemployed is that virgin fertile land no longer exists in the United States for them; that the good lands of the west have been fully settled; and hence "relief" must be considered a fixed and permanent expense. Because of these arguments some "pioneer" families were trundled off to Alaska several years ago. But the Philippines are a far better bet for such homesteading. They have fertile soil, sufficient rains, and every agricultural advantage. No one starves.

Homestead The Islands
Moreover, believe the cost of living there is lower than in any other part of the civilized world certainly would like to see the United States buy land in the islands and open it up to American farmers on a homesteading basis. The Philippines have millions of acres of wonderfully fer-

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—That the basis for a new state industry has been established as the result of experiments in the uses of Wisconsin red clay by the University of Wisconsin art education department was claimed today by the university.

For the first time Wisconsin red clay was found to be good in the manufacture of pottery, according to Della F. Wilson of the art education department, and as a result the Waupaca Tile and Brick Company of Waupaca has begun buying pottery-making equipment and will use Wisconsin red clay.

I see no reason why Wisconsin can't support three or four pottery factories," says Miss Wilson. She pointed out that although Wisconsin has only one such establishment at present, it does not use Wisconsin materials. Its clay is imported from other states.

Samples Tested
Samples were tested from all sections of the state. Localities which were found to yield good pottery making red clay included some in southern Wisconsin, some in northwestern Wisconsin, including Mountain and Antigo, and many sections in central Wisconsin, including Waupaca and Scandinavia.

An exhibit of Wisconsin red clay pottery was recently sent to a New York department store, and although the products were not offered for sale, the store expressed a desire to buy Wisconsin-made pottery according to University authorities.

Experiments with a Wisconsin clay began a year ago when the university board of regents authorized a project designed to furnish 1,000 red clay cheese containers.

State Geologist E. F. Bean assisted the university in searching for clay samples throughout the state.

Waupaca County Soil Conservation Body Has Annual Supper

Waupaca—The annual supper and get-together of Waupaca County's Soil Conservation association was held Thursday evening at Scandinavia.

The 7 o'clock supper was served by the Scandinavia Band Mothers in the basement of the Lutheran church. Following the dinner, the association enjoyed a program at the Scandinavia community hall.

The committee on arrangements for this meeting included Martin B. Thorson, Bjarne A. Erickson and Peter A. Quien.

Members of the Waupaca county committee are Almo J. Larson, Robert J. Neely and Arthur H. Roepke.

Church at Manawa In Rededicatory Services Sunday

Improvements in Edifice Cost Total of About $4,000

Manawa — Special rededicatory services arranged to commemorate the remodeling of the church edifice will be observed at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday in the afternoon and the Rev. W. L. Kohn of Merrill, president of the district, in the evening. The afternoon services will commence at 2:30 and the evening observances at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. R. A. Karpinsky, pastor of St. Paul's church, will be in charge of the clerical portion of each service and of the rededicatory ceremonies.

This year marks the forty-ninth anniversary of the church structure since it was erected in 1890, and in 1940 the congregation will observe the golden anniversary of the edifice. The Rev. Mr. Karpinsky has been pastor for the last 28 years.

Remodeling operations began July 31, 1939, with the excavation of the furnace room which was accomplished mainly through the efforts of members of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Karpinsky stated that church members have contributed a total of 146 days of labor since work began.

Many Changes
Included among the improvements, which cost approximately $4,000, are the new heating room constructed underneath the northeast entrance to the church and the installation of a furnace and ventilating and blower system. In the church proper another room, 8 by 12 feet, has been added for the convenience of mothers and children.

The balcony on the south end of the edifice where the organ is located has been enlarged while those along the sides of the building have been torn down. Another change is the lowering of the pulpit at the right of the sanctuary.

The walls and ceiling have a striking interior decorating pattern and the floor is covered with linoleum. Red carpeting has been placed on the sanctuary floor and new light fixtures and wiring installed throughout the church. Pews and seats have been re-varnished and the organ pipes re-painted.

Financing the renovations has been entirely taken care of by the congregation. The Ladies Aid society has donated $1,000 while the ladies of the church contributed the carpeting. The active building committee consists of Arthur Sturm, Otto Mengert and Otto Steinbach. Fred Mundinger supervised the construction of the project.

Symco and Big Falls congregations, both formerly affiliated with the local church, have been invited to attend. A chicken dinner will be served at noon.

County Superintendent Will Talk at PTA Meet
Henry J. Van Straten, Outagamie county superintendent of schools, will speak at a Parent-Teachers association meeting at the Combined Locks State Graded school Monday, Nov. 6. He will discuss the aims and benefits of the PTA in a community.

FRIDAY'S GAMES

THERE was one Appleton football coach who kept an eye on the dripping skies this morning and scanned the weather reports for tomorrow as he went about his day's teaching. He was Coach Myron Seims of the high school squad who would like to play Green Bay East tomorrow on a wet, muddy field. The game will feature the annual Terror homecoming program and will be played at Whiting field.

Seims indicated his hopes last evening as he sent his first squad through a scrimmage with the reserves augmented by Pete Brice and John Mack, the assistant coaches. Seims was firm in the statement there'll be no postponement to give East a dry field and indicated that he was certain the rain and mud would slow East down to a walk.

And maybe he's right. East's best runner is Al Mancheski who likes it dry and firm under foot. On wet grass and in slippery soil he probably won't be able to move with rapidity or scamper hither and yon with abandon.

Also, a slippery, wet ball won't help Allard's passing. His best bet is to leave the ball a half mile with Mancheski out-running the field and gathering it in for an easy score. If the ball is wet and heavy Allard won't pitch so hard.

Terrors Work Hard
The Terrors have worked hard for this week's contest despite the fact they are slated underdogs. And their work hasn't been entirely on defense, either. Because of Ray Brasch's work last week against Fond du Lac, he has been moved to the tailback position and probably will carry the ball often. In scrimmage last night he pushed his way through the reserve squad with ease and if Brice and Mack hadn't been backing up the line he'd be going 3-4.

Bill Mullen probably will be in the quarterback slot in another change and should give the squad some much needed speed. Gene Pegel will play the wing back and Koss the blocker.

The line will be the same group of boys who started last week against Fond du Lac. Reider and Burton, the latter recovered from a bump last week, will be at the ends. Both are good defensive players and can catch passes if someone gets the ball out to them. The tackles will be Hemrick and Junge, two rugged lads, and the guards will be Koletz and Shumner who aren't averse to getting down in the dirt to stop runners. And Crabb will be at center as usual.

East Has Balance
But despite Seims' feeling that the Terrors will give East a battle on a wet field, he still has his work cut out for him. East has ends Calore and good ones. Its tackles are among the best and while its guards and the center of the line have even up yardage to almost every team, they aren't the worst.
In the backfield, Liebman, full-back, can plunge with any back in the league. Allard passes well and can run if necessary. However, the rabbit is Mancheski who is the fastest back in the circuit and who goes off the tackles and then reverses his field like a Grange.

The conference schedule opens

TO LEAD TERRORS

Ray Brasch, above, will captain Appleton High school gridders in their game against Green Bay East tomorrow at Whiting field. The contest is the homecoming game. Brasch, a senior, has been working in almost every backfield post the season and tomorrow will be in the tailback position and do a lot of ball carrying. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Packer-Redskin Game Will Show Leading Pro Passers

MILWAUKEE — A razzle-dazzle football battle between the Redskins of Washington and the Green Bay Packers, two of the most highly-gearred offensive outfits of the National Professional league, is being predicted for fans who go to see the clash of the two teams Sunday afternoon at State Park.

Making their initial appearance in the west since the former Boston franchise was taken to the nation's capital three years ago, the Skins will present the famous Sammy Baugh, passer extraordinary as their headliner of a club that contains many stars.

Against the threat of Baugh the Packers will dish up the famed Horner and Hutson combination, a passing duo that has given foes the jitters for several seasons and which last Sunday walked away with the game against a powerful Detroit Lion team that had been previously unbeaten in four starts.

As a consequence, the meeting of Passers Baugh and Arnie Herber of the Packers is expected to afford professional followers with an exciting and spectacular aerial contest. Both aerialists are experts at hitting the "bull's eye" although some believe that the Packer pass offensive is more effective with the lightning fast Don Hutson, who plays one of the end posts for the Bays, on the receiving end as he is just about the fleetest man in the league.

Work in Milwaukee
The Redskins have been acclimating themselves to Milwaukee weather since Tuesday. The Washington club has worked out daily at Rorchert field the Milwaukee Brewers' baseball lot. Baugh has been one of the spark-this evening with West at Sheboygan Central and Oshkosh at Fond du Lac. West will be a top-heavy favorite over the Sheboygan team because the Wildcats seem to have improved by adding a passing attack to their runs. The Oshkosh-Fond du Lac encounter will bring together natural rivals and anything may happen.

The other game tomorrow besides the East-Appleton tilt, will show Sheboygan North against Manitowish with the Shipbuilders reserves hoping they'll get a chance to strut.

Holloway Lost to Badger Gridders

Don Kolbusz Will Replace Veteran Guard Against Iowa

Madison — University of Wisconsin's hopes for its first Big Ten football victory over Iowa here Saturday were partially diminished today because the Badgers will go into the game without the services of its first string guard, Bob Holloway.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher announced yesterday that Holloway, who is confined to the university infirmary, would not be ready because of an infection in his leg. Stuhldreher plans to replace him with Don Kolbusz, second line reserve.

The Badgers yesterday went through a light passing drill which drew praise from the coach. Tomant, Peterson, and Schmitz did most of the passing.

With the exception of Holloway, the lineup which started against Northwestern last week is expected to face the Iowans.

MacPhail's Idea Battered Down by Figures of Past Series Between Leagues Failed to Draw When Tried Years Ago

NEW YORK — That beautiful bubble blown by Larry MacPhail in the shape of a super-colossal world series between all the teams in both major leagues is due to explode from its own laughing gas when baseball men dig into figures of past experiments.

It sounded like a revolutionary proposal for the second place clubs, the third place clubs and on to the eighth place clubs, to meet to settle the real supremacy of baseball and MacPhail assured one and all that the tremendous venture would make money—in large bunches.

But some of the elders in the business shook their heads, suppressed giggles at the readhead's "radical" suggestion and remembered the efforts of August (Gerry) Herrmann to stage some similar series three decades back.

In 1909 Herrmann was president of the Cincinnati Reds and chairman of the National Baseball Commission.

Under the commission's sponsorship that year the Boston Red Sox and New York Giants each finished third in their respective leagues, played a five-game post-season series which grossed $12,883 and provided a player pool of $6,677.89 to be divided among the members of both clubs.

The following year the New York Yankees and Giants engaged in a city series of six games for receipts of $81,462.50 of which the players received $38,871.88 for division.

In the same season an "Ohio series" between Cincinnati and Cleveland brought $18,512.75 with $8,563.62 for the players in seven games. They finished off with a doubleheader to get the affair over quickly.

In 1911 this series brought $9,423.75 with $5,088.91 for the players, even though it included two doubleheaders. According to the national commission's own records the series produced a deficit of $413.89 which the commission coughed up to square accounts.

But the final, most ludicrous undertaking of all came in 1917 when the Browns and Cardinals tangled in a fall St. Louis series. The first game's receipts were $85.35, the second game brought $84.37. The third game jumped to $191.50 and on the fourth day for a doubleheader the proceeds were $367.70, collapsing to $28 for the final day and total receipts of $756.94.

Big Dipper took two games from Knoke Lumber company as G. Stark totaled 472. H. Heiss pinned 197 and 550 for the losers.

Beefers forged their way into a first place tie with a 2-game win over Razzers. H. L. Davis, Jr., paced the Beefers with a 497 series. A. Kopulas getting a 193 game. Tops for the losers was P. Schultz with a 183 single and 516 total.

Chiselers downed Squakers in two games to tighten the race. W. Gruett had 476 for the victors while C. Miller paced the losers.

Reds Intend to Spend Profits for Players
Cincinnati, O. — If money will talk, the National league champion Reds likely will not remain silent long toward betterment of next year's team.

Fans whose faith suffered a jolt at the club's collapse in the last world series game, found cause today for renewed hope in President Powell Crosley's statement that profits estimated at $400,000, a "substantial reserve" had been laid by "for the acquisition of players' contracts to strengthen the club for the future."

Crosley said his club had topped home attendance records of any team in either league by playing to 113,926 paying fans.

Minnesota still worked on pass defense, while Chicago and Indiana scrimmaged.

Meantime, Northwestern and Iowa each will be out for its second triumph in three conference starts and a second place tie in the standings with Indiana. Northwestern takes on an Illinois team gaining confidence but still without victory. Iowa invades the lair of a Badger eleven already wounded by two conference rivals.

The other three conference members—Minnesota, Indiana and Chicago—have an open date. Notre Dame, the Big Ten's neighbor, goes after its fifth straight victory, against Carnegie Tech.

Rain yesterday forced Northwestern to limit its practice to a blackboard session. Illinois tapered off with a passing drill. Wisconsin worked on passing and Iowa on signals.

Fritz Crisler Michigan coach, got a scare when Tom Harmon, his ace back, twisted his ankle, but breathed easier when the injury was disclosed as very slight. Ohio State was happy at the prospect of fair weather for its big game and Purdue's squad, after its long train ride to San Francisco polished up for Santa Clara.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES
Friday—Menasha at New London.
Saturday—Neenah at W. DePere (a.m.)
Saturday—Clintonville at Shawano

NEW LONDON — With the homecoming game against Menasha starting at 8 o'clock tonight, New London's 1939 football team, with the exception of three juniors, will be playing its last home game.

Practically the whole first squad is composed of seniors. They represent five regular linemen, three backs and five active reserves. The only players remaining for next year are Harold Pies, triple-threat back, Charles Clark, lately at end, and Lester Schumke, guard.

The starting lineup tonight still is in question with several regular players nursing injuries suffered in last week's battle. Charles Clark has been kept from scrimmage with a bad arm, Bob Houk, hard-fighting back, is hampered with a lame shoulder, and Weldon Harris, who has been working at a guard position this week, developed a lame leg in practice.

Several hundred students gathered at the high school grounds for the victory homecoming parade through the city afterwards. The Boys Intramural Athletic association put on a skit at the pep assembly in the high school auditorium in the afternoon. Jack Seering, Duane Schoening and Glenn Smith acted out the skit which was written and directed by Lyle Hobbs and William Krause. Maurice Levine acted as announcer.

CALDER NAMES 33
Menasha — A squad of 33 Menasha High school football players, the complete varsity squad, will be taken to New London for the Northeastern Wisconsin conference game, this tonight, according to Coach N. A. Calder. The squad will leave at 6:15 by bus and automobile for the game which will start at 8 o'clock.

Probable starters for the Bluejays tonight are Norman Michie and Ray Wipplach at ends, Harold Funk and Co-captain Gene Grode at guards, Elmer Martell and William Woodhead at tackles and Co-captain Kenneth Wolf at center.

The linemen include Glenn Dempsey, Norman Drexler, and Eugene Reese, tackles; James DeLong, Verl Franz, Kenneth Finch, William Hafemeister, and Glenn Ohlrogge at guards; Edmund Humski, Donald Jensen, Bruce Page, Gordon Wasinger and John Sheldahl, ends, and Ray Michalkiewicz and Richard Hoffman, centers.

Dempsey Jr., junior tackle, who has been developing rapidly during the season, and Robert Nantke, blocking halfback, probably will not get into the game. Dempsey has been ill this week and Nantke is nursing a bruised right shoulder.

The Bulldogs will enter the game as favorites as they have won three games and lost one while the Jays have gained an even break in four games. In addition New London has a heavy line, probably the heaviest in the conference with two huge tackles and two guards just as big.

The Bluejays, however, have been improving in each game played this season and have a definite chance to defeat the New London team. New London always has had an edge on the Bluejays in games played at New London.

Barn Tavern Keglers

Beat Puritan Bakery
Barn Tavern keglers defeated Puritan Bakery by a count of 2-673 to 2,590 in a match at Barn Tavern alleys last night. High for the winners was L. Malouf with a 553 series and M. Coenen with a 221 game. Malouf and Hub Schulze each had games of 201. Tops for the losers was C. Otto with games of 225 and 215 for a 617 series, H. Liethen adding a 222 and C. Brockmeyer thumping 203.

The match scores:
Puritan (1) 827 849 904—2590

MARANTVILLE RELEASED
Albany, N. Y. — The Albany baseball club of the Eastern league announced yesterday the release of Manager Walter J. (Rabbit) Marantville, former big league star.

READY FOR NEW LONDON HIGH

When Menasha High school gridders take the field tonight against New London at New London the above two boys will be expected to turn in a lot of football for the Bluejays. They are, Richard Sheleski, left half, holding the ball, and Roland O'Brien, quarterback. In last week's win over West DePere, O'Brien turned in several sensational runs to pace his team. A win for the Jays will put them in the upper division of the Northeastern conference. (Post-Crescent Photo)

NOW is the time for all sports editors to guess on football games. Now is the time for all sports editors to guess on football games. Now is the time for all sports editors to guess on football games. Now is the time for all sports editors to guess on football games. But why stall around long?

Appleton-Green Bay East: It's Appleton's homecoming but we're afraid that East will do the celebrating. If we had Mancheski and Allard in Appleton's backfield we'd win. But they are in East's backfield.

Lawrence-Carroll: Both teams were beaten last week and Carroll was tied by Ripon. The Pioneers will be celebrating homecoming, however, and therefore will be tough. But we've got a hunch we've got a hunch—Just pull for the Vikes and hope.

Green Bay West-Central: Another victory for the West siders. Oshkosh-Fond du Lac: Anything can happen in this game between natural rivals. Two big lines, two backfields with a single star each. Maybe it'll be a tie.

Manitowoc-North: Manitowoc will use reserves but it should win if it isn't too low about last week's defeat at the hands of East.

Clintonville-Shawano: That's no guess. Shawano.

Menasha - New London: Whoops, who threw that? New London's enthusiasm may be a little lower after last week and Menasha is fighting to make a showing. We're afraid of an upset here, very afraid, but in the meantime, New London.

Neenah-West DePere: Another tough one for a poor guesser. Neither has accomplished much this season. For no reason at all we'll take West DePere.

Menasha St. Mary's-St. John: Looks like the Menashans will be champions again this season which means St. John probably will lose. It's a good game to do what old man Mose did.

Monmouth-Ripon: Someone called us about the outcome Wednesday night. We told him that Monmouth looked like the stuff but that Ripon usually has one top game—homecoming. And it's homecoming at Ripon this weekend.

Knox-Beloit: If Beloit could win the Midwest race would be in a fine muddle. But we don't think it can.

Custies-St. Norbert: The Green Knights haven't been doing so well. We'll take the Gusties.

Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame: Always close and occasionally surprising. Tech masses Ray Carnely, graduated quarterback on offense, making this a firm (if misguided) ballot for Notre Dame.

Michigan-Yale: Ducky Pond and his Eits have accomplished miracles this year with slender material. A Yale victory here looks like a miracle that can't happen, Michigan.

Ohio State-Cornell: Almost never has this corner taken an Ivy league school against major Big Ten competition. Usually it's a David and Goliath proposition with Goliath picking up the marbles. This time we'll take David whose other name is Cornell.

Navy-Clemson: Navy will get a look at one of the great backs of the year in this one. Banks McFadden of Clemson. This game looks like an absolute toss-up so the coin says Clemson.

Cubs Announce List of Rookies

Claim to Have Outstanding Young Talent Signed for Next Spring

Chicago — (4) — The Chicago Cubs, admittedly tired of hearing about all those bad deals they allegedly have made, claimed today they'll have the best rookie crop in the team's history at spring training camp on Catalina Island next March.

The three rookies of whom the Cubs are particularly proud are Dominic Dalesandro, purchased from San Diego for $17,500; Julio Bonetti, who won 20 games and lost only five for Los Angeles in 1939, and Bob Collins, a 30-year-old catcher who was an outstanding backstop for Los Angeles, where he hit .306 last season.

"We have those players already signed," said Charles Drake, assistant to President P. K. Wrigley, "and we will have first call on two others—Lou Stringer, a second baseman, and Lou Novikoff, an outfielder. Stringer fielded spectacularly for Los Angeles while Novikoff hit .455 for the same club in 36 games. These five players were among the outstanding minor league stars in 1939."

Among others to be taken to spring camp will be Vern Olsen, a left handed pitcher obtained from Tulsa; Ray Campbell, also a left hander, from Moline of the Three Eye league; Jake Mooty, a right hander drafted from Syracuse; and Eddie Waitkus, a 20 year old first sacker who hit .329 for Moline.

There isn't much very active during the winter meetings at Cincinnati. Rumor has it, however, that they will use a good many of their older players as trading material—if they can find an obliging party of the second part—rather than toss out heavy sugar such as the $135,000 paid for Dizzy Dean. The status of "Old Diz" is a riddle which probably will remain unanswered for some time.

Cardinals won the odd game from the Redskins. Flora Schuler blasted her high triple on games of 218 and 213 to lead the losers. M. Hall cracked a 226 game and a 556 total for the winners.

Bill Van Offeren keeled second half series of the evening with a 597 on games of 210 and 203 to lead the Bears in a 3-game win over the Lions. P. Van Heeswek followed with a 573 total and a 207 game. Lions were led by Bill Erickson with a 534 series and Marvin Schuler keeled 195.

Packers whitewashed Giants with Joe Masoros shooting 550 and 195 for the winners while M. Killian followed with 549 and E. Frieders a 546. Archie Crevier topped the losers with a 543 and 191 game.

John Gerrits showed a 557 series and Basil Mulry copped high game honors of 208 to lead Eagles in a 2-game over Rams. Snare Lucassan topped the Rams with a 552 total and Nic Vander Pas showed a game of 197.

Fordham-Pitt: Out of the well-worn hat, Pitt.

Harvard-Dartmouth: Very little to choose. Dartmouth.

Holy Cross-Colgate: Possible surprise but must take Holy Cross.

Northwestern-Illinois: A timorous vote for Northwestern.

Vanderbilt-Louisiana State: Looks safe for L. S. U.

Alabama-Mississippi State: Probably close but taking Alabama.

Duke-Wake Forest: Duke, after a battle.

Texas A. and M.-Baylor: Off the records can't pick anybody but Texas A. and M.

Texas-Rice: Disappointing. Rice is long overdue but we'll string along with Jack Crain and Texas.

Oklahoma-Oklahoma A. and M.: Might be a ball game but taking Oklahoma.

California-Southern California: The Trojans seem to have too much power for California. Southern California.

Washington-Stanford: Washington can't get going. Stanford.

U. C. L. A.-Oregon: Possibly the best game on the west coast. A puzzled vote for U. C. L. A.

Duquesne-Texas Tech: Even-Stephen, Duquesne.

Princeton-Brown: Princeton.

Iowa State-Missouri: Missouri.

New Coaches Doing Well for First Half of Current Season

BY FRED BROWNING

NEW YORK — (4) — "New job jitters" haven't wrought any fearsome damage within the ranks of the dozen or so major football coaches occupying strange perches this hectic gridiron season.

Only one big-time team operating under new guidance came through its first four games unbeaten and tied but taken by and large the strange boys in the neighborhood are catching on very well.

Buff Donelli, who really wasn't much of a stranger at Duquesne after his job as assistant there, proved his familiarity with the set-up by smashing Pitt's "undefeated" hopes in a 21-13 fiasco. Upsetting the Panther when he's the noisiest is a favorite Duquesne pastime, and even if Buff's team hadn't won the first three games, beating Pitt would have made it a successful season.

That upset, though, ended Charley Bowser's ride on the rainbow up at Pittsburgh, where he succeeded Jock Sutherland. Bowser's team was the talk of the nation with three successive triumphs — and then unneighborly Duquesne spoiled it. But a coach whose team beats mighty Duke isn't doing so badly.

Horrell Does Well

The West Coast has a first-year man who registering well. He's Babe Horrell, who moved up from an assistantship at U.C.L.A. when Bill Sparling vacated the head coach position to become athletic director. The Uclans romped along merrily in their first four games, spilling Texas Christian, Washington, and Montana, but getting no better than a 14-14 tie with Stanford.

Joe Sheeketski, another assistant become head coach, apparently had things humming happily at Holy Cross until Louisiana State roared in by plane and then roared under and over the Cross for a rudely decisive victory. But Sheeketski has well-earned victories over Georgia, Brown and Manhattan for comfort.

Dr. Edna Anderson, who left the Holy Cross job to Sheeketski, hasn't fared badly in his new post at Iowa — except that his team ran into Michigan, a pretty bad blunder in any league. Iowa turned aside South Dakota and Indiana before Michigan and Harvard snowed Anderson's boys under.

Boston College where Frank Leahy succeeded Gloomy Gil Dobie won two early games and lost a 7-0 decision to Florida. But then Leahy brought the boys back to life and Temple was murdered, 19 to 0.

Fred Swan who succeeded Pop Warner at Temple, hasn't had a very happy time with the Owls — but losing to Georgetown and Carnegie by one and six points respectively wasn't bad. The Owls beat Texas Christian, 13-11.

Marine Okay at Navy

A marine seems to have the situation pretty well in hand at Navy, even if Swede Larser's boys did lose to Notre Dame. Victories over William and Mary and Virginia and a tie with Dartmouth preceded the loss to the Irish.

Allyn McKee who succeeded Spike Nelson at Mississippi State, guided his boys through three successful games trouncing Howard, Arkansas, and Florida. Then Auburn ended the fun, 7-0 State came back the next week with a 37-0 victory over Northwestern.

Tulsa, with Capt Benefield at the helm as successor to Vic Hurt, beat Wichita, Creighton and Centenary, but the Oklahoma Aggies took Tulsa 9-7. Carl Voyles, who used to help Wallace Wade at Duke, has a good team at William and Mary.

In the first four games, only Navy defeated W. and M. but V.P.I. tied the newcomers' crew.

RAM END INJURED

Cleveland — (4) — Mike Rodak, rugged end of the Cleveland Rams of the National Pro league, received a fractured arm in scrimmage yesterday. He will be out a month and possibly for the remainder of the season, said Dr. Ivan Lust, team physician.

Anent Mr. Francis Wallace's taking apart of the Pitt football situation in this week's Statepost, the Detroit News slyly observes, "Pittsburgh smoke is caused by Pitt football fires."

ALL-WINTER RADIATOR

PROTECTION FOR ONLY $12.97

HERE'S the way many car owners do it every year! They put in a couple of quarts of DuPont "ZERONE" early in the season for protection against rusting and sudden cold snaps.

When it gets really cold, they add enough "ZERONE" for lower temperatures. A total of six quarts, put in as needed, can protect a car with an average size cooling system (15 quarts) for the entire winter. And six quarts of "ZERONE" cost only $12.97.

Your car may need a little more or less, depending on radiator capacity and the severity of winter. But "ZERONE" will save you real money. "ZERONE" prevents rust and corrosion, gives better dissipation of engine heat, avoids power losses. Put some in today! Remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon, 25¢ a quart.

MAE TARNOW annexed individual honors with a 211 game and 564 series during Women's City League matches at arcade alleys last night. Top team totals were registered by Bohl and Maeser with an 855 game and Belling's Drugs with a 2439 series.

International Trucks grand slammed Maritime Tavern as G. Stiefenhagen counted 482. High for the losers was L. Jensen with a 457 triple.

Miller High Life made it three straight over Riverside Paper corporation as G. Ashman grooved a 487 series and M. Cune hit 181 D. Grunsted rolled 463 for the losers.

Win Old Game. Becker Grocers won the odd game from Power Company as V. Becker counted 485 and L. Vogel hit 182. Tops for the losers was L. Hollenbeck with a 191 game and 506 series.

Two games were credited to Belling's Drugs in a match with Bohl and Maeser. Bert Kolitsch paced the victors with two games of 188 for a 537 series. D. Murasko thumped 189. Agnes Kolosso pumped 438 and M. Lamann a 484 for the losers.

Oaks Candy downed Johnson Shoe Rebuilders in two games as D. Warning hit 493. Mary Jane Butler maintained the losers with a 205 game and 543 series.

Hecker's Shoes collected two games from Myse Butcher Shop as A. Van Caster tripled 473 with a 205 game. E. Loeper showed 445 for the losers.

Bicycle Stolen From Washington St. Rack. Leroy Heimermann, 1422 N. Appleton street, has reported the theft of his bicycle to Appleton police. The black bike was taken from the parking rack on W. Washington street Wednesday night. The license number is 1918.

Movie Land Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood—At a Twentieth Century-Fox preview the other night, I saw an interesting bit of by-play.

Fidler

The usual auto-graph hunters—mostly kids in their teens—were milling in the theater's fore-court when Linda Darnell arrived. Not many recognized her (she's appeared in only one picture) and she quickly made her way inside. But not quickly enough to escape the eye of one of the auto-graph hunters. Failing to stop Linda outside the theater, he slipped past the doorman and hailed her, just as she started down the aisle.

She had taken his book and started to write her name, when an usher spied the culprit and gave him "the bum's rush." Linda stood for a moment, puzzled, then turned and walked all the way back to the entrance, where the boy was bewailing the loss of his autograph book. "Here it is," she smiled—and spent a full minute writing, not merely her autograph, but a good-luck message. I've never seen a broader smile on a young boy's face.

If Linda Darnell can maintain that attitude, she'll be a popular favorite no screen storm can topple from her throne. John and Jane Public expect consideration and loyalty from the stars their preferences create. And they appreciate gratitude and courtesy even more, since they experience it so seldom.

IDOL CHATTER: Janet Gaynor is one wife who needn't worry about her husband disapproving of her clothes. In a word description of Hedy Lamarr: Sensational. At that, it might be cheaper for Freddie Bartholomew's Aunt Cissy to marry a lawyer. Wonder if Jack Benny properly appreciates the value of Mary Livingstone's infectious laugh on his radio show? Hollywood chivalry: Maxie Rosenbloom confiding to reporters, "I married because I was tired of bumming around." How England can win the war: Send Madeleine Carroll to the front—and while German troops ogle, walk in and take the country unopposed. Too many stars seem to think holding their liquor is more important than holding their friends.

Bob Benchley, screen comic and radio star, had a birthday this week, and to avoid all fuss and furor, went to Santa Barbara for the occasion. Meanwhile, a number of his friends had planned a surprise party for him. Early on the evening of his birthday, they arrived at the Benchley home, loaded down with gag presents, trick foods and good liquor. Benchley didn't return for three days, but his pals had plenty of stamina. They were still there—presents and all. They'd planned a surprise party and a surprise party they intended to stage if it took all winter.

CUFF NOTES: Arthur Murray, New York's famous dancing teacher, will open studios in Hollywood and San Francisco this winter.

No greater satisfaction is to be found in a woman's wardrobe than her suits and Norma Shearer chooses this classic two-piece in grey wool. The jacket has wide lapels, double-button fastening and tiny pockets with crescent flaps. The crossed vest is of white silk jersey. The skirt has circular fullness. Miss Shearer wears a variegated jeweled flower in her lapel.

Penny Singleton has taken time out from domestic battles to pen a group of European war poems for a national magazine. . . As a first anniversary present, Director William Wyler gifted Margaret Tallchett with a Beverly Hills mansion. . . First official British propaganda picture, glorifying the Royal Air Force, stars Merle Oberon—she made it just before returning to America. . .

One of the girl football teams now in the Los Angeles spotlight appealed to Cesar Romero to be their "sponsor." Cesar thanked them for the preferred honor—but said he's much rather play against them. (Copyright, 1939.)

Annual Business Staff To Map Sales Campaign

A meeting of the business staff of the Appleton Post-Crescent was held last night at the high school. Bob Otto, chairman of the staff, presided. Plans for the sale of the book will be outlined.

YELLOW-BELLIED SAPSUCKER

(This is one of a series of articles prepared by the Wisconsin Wildlife Federation describing common Wisconsin birds.)

The Yellow-bellied Sapsucker is one of Wisconsin's most interesting birds although it has won a bad reputation for the damage it does to trees. This bird lives largely on the sap of trees and inner bark that it obtains by tapping many encircling holes around the trunk. The bird visits the holes it has made at frequent intervals, drinking the sap that accumulates. It also eats insects that come to feast on the flowing sap.

Marion Thespians Initiate Ten New Members at School

Men's Club of St. John's Lutheran Church Holds Annual Auction

Marion — The Thespians, high school dramatic club, initiated ten new members at school Monday. Students with red "T's" on their foreheads were seen in the classrooms and corridors. Each candidate had to carry an egg in a large paper bag and it had to be handed in with all the teachers' signatures on it.

A party was given for the new members in the evening. New Thespians are Ruth Buhr, Mary Byers, Jim Brackeb, Ray Brockhaus, Mary Meyer, Orin Adams, Ned Nehring, Bill Olsen, Helen Wiskow and Leonard Petta.

Ladies of the Salem Evangelical church will give their annual chicken dinner Saturday evening, Oct. 28, at their church parlors.

Walter Ferry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ferry of this city, went to St. Paul Monday, where he enlisted in the United States army.

Attends Meeting. Dr. F. M. Mulvaney was at Waukegan Thursday where he attended a meeting of the soldiers' and sailors' relief committee, of which he is a member.

Charles L. Bowers has announced the formal opening Nov. 2 of his Clover Farm store. Mr. Bowers has conducted a general store in this city for the last 27 years.

Men's club of St. John's Lutheran church held their annual auction of the church parlors Monday evening. A large crowd was present and the men netted over $100.

Mrs. Pauline Kraef returned Wednesday to her home in Milwaukee after spending several days at the Clara Gruenstrom home.

Will Zielow was host Tuesday evening to his sapsucker club. High scores were made by Herman Peters, Wm. Dorward and Jay Halp. The club will meet next Monday evening at the Henry Kussman home.

Visit in Milwaukee. Leonard Brandenburg, Mrs. Paul Keller and Mrs. Emma Goodstorf drove to Milwaukee Wednesday where they will spend the week with relatives.

Mrs. J. C. Keller entertained the First Hundred, up at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Richard Below received the head prize. Mrs. Henry Brandenburg, second, and Mrs. Leonard Brandenburg received the consolation gift.

The members of the O.O.O. Bridge club met Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Emory Rogers presiding. Mrs. Edna Rogers, Mrs. Henry Brandenburg, second, and Mrs. Leonard Brandenburg received the consolation gift.

The Skat club met with Henry Bowers Jr. Wednesday evening. Prizes for high scores were awarded to H. G. Meyer, E. H. Uffmarch, Claude Ferry and Dave Tribby.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frost and son Charles returned to their home at Hortonville Tuesday after spending the week at the Charles Frost, Sr., home.

Homes Will Receive Leaflets on Red Cross

Leaflets describing the needs of the American Red Cross will be distributed to homes in Appleton in connection with the annual roll call which will begin Nov. 11, according to Mrs. Mabel O. Shannon, executive secretary of the Outagamie County chapter. The leaflets will be distributed by members of the Junior Red Cross.

REPLACE CABLE

About 350 feet of cable connecting the ornamental street lighting system on College avenue near Walnut street was replaced this week by Louis Luebke, city electrician. The new cable replaced an old one which had worn out.

Reno Depends on Quantity For Divorce Mill Profits

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

Reno—There has been a decline in the divorce industry in Reno since the banner year of 1931, when Nevada met a challenge from Arkansas by reducing from three months to six weeks the period required for the establishment of a legal residence. Nevada pioneered the field under an old law requiring a residence of six months, and was doing a fine business, both in economic butter-fat, when the best minds of the state decided that a reduction to three months would increase the volume without reducing to an injurious degree the quality of the clientele.

Arkansas then designed a stock-model decree and, under a three-months law adopted for the purpose, attempted to divert from Nevada the business from the Mississippi valley and the east with the benefit of a freight differential, as you might say.

This divorce trade is almost entirely interstate commerce, and if Arkansas had been a private corporation the federal government might have found a law somewhere to protect Nevada's rights. However, no such relief could be hoped for, so Nevada largely abandoned the quality trade, as such, and adopted a six-weeks law embodying the business principle of the five-and-ten, which is small profits but many of them.

Rich people as well as the poor shop at the five-and-ten, so Nevada would still get their business, though in smaller units, because they naturally would spend much less in six weeks than they had spent in six months or three.

Moreover, Nevada decrees were quality decrees with a worldwide reputation. They had been tested in many courts, and many repeaters in Reno provided evidence that Nevada divorces were not only stylish but serviceable.

The prestige of these writs is so high that Reno scoffs at any current attempt by her neighbor Idaho to intrude in the field with a six-weeks law and a campaign to divert business to Sun Valley.

The Longer The Stay. The Richer The Clientele. When the minimum requirement was six months of residence, and even after it had been reduced to three, the divorce clientele bought expensive automobiles in Reno, and the retail merchants carried stocks of the most expensive goods, particularly women's wear.

This demand for new cars has almost vanished under the present law, and of course, the customers find it no problem to carry a program of stylish gear to see them through six weeks without local replacements.

The hotels, however, are doing better than ever, because Nevada, and particularly Reno, have recently discovered another profitable specialty in quick-and-easy marriage for Californians unwilling to wait three days, as required by the law against big weddings, or to comply with new blood-test regulations.

There are no statistics to indicate which law the Californians are particularly determined to avoid in coming to Reno for marriage. Unless they drink extremely high-octane gin in California they would cool out or pass out on the long trip to Reno, but, nevertheless, the day after this law took effect there was a queue of Californians in the streets of the divine delirium extending from the courthouse door a half block to the corner and another half block down that street.

The blood-test law caused another rise in the marriage traffic, and together they have raised the score of marriage far above that of divorce.

Divorce 1931 Boom Level. The Riverside hotel, the confluence of both streams, is crowded with guests drawn here on conflicting mission: Divorcing ladies, bidding their time until judgment day in the courthouse across the street, crunch rice underfoot as they enter.

South Bend, Ind. (P)—The first defense witness in the General Motors Corporation anti-trust trial here testified the General Motors Acceptance Corporation got from 74.4 to 77 per cent of installment sales paper on new GM-produced automobiles in each of the last ten years.

Nelson C. Desendorf of Long Island, N. Y., GMAC vice-president, told the federal jury yesterday his corporation obtained the highest percentage of retail contracts in 1938 and the lowest in 1932.

Desendorf is one of 17 officials on trial with the General Motors Corporation, GMAC and two other subsidiaries on charges they conspired to coerce dealers into financing their installment sales with General Motors credit firms.

The witness testified he never had heard of instructions being issued to GMAC branch offices "requiring dealers to use GMAC financing for retail paper if GMAC was used for wholesale financing."

Desendorf said GMAC got from 46 per cent in 1932 to 57 per cent in 1937 of conditional sales contracts on used cars sold by General Motors dealers.

Defense lawyer Ernest S. Ballard of Chicago spent most of the afternoon reading a circular telling of the good points of GMAC loans and insurance.

Pleads Not Guilty of Breaking Zoning Law

Pleas of not guilty to a charge of violating the county zoning ordinance were entered for four men yesterday in municipal court before Judge Thomas H. Ryan.

The four men, Sam Shuff, Morey Malofsky, Sam Malofsky and Joseph Malafsky, are charged with violating the ordinance in the town of Grand Chute. Bond was furnished and the trial set for Nov. 2.

A son was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Joan Vanden Heuvel, 739 W. Fifth street.

Edgar Thomas Named President of High School Archery Club

Edgar Thomas has been elected president of the Appleton High school archery club. John Leonard is vice president and Beulah Newton is secretary treasurer. The club has 10 charter members and 25 who were admitted to the ranks of target shooters this fall.

The charter members, Ione Mortell, Miss Newton, Donald Jones, Robert Spellman, Thomas, Leonard, Virginia Laeyendecker, William Koerner, Larz Johnson and Robert Hart shoot each Tuesday night. New members report to the shops where they are making their equipment under the direction of William Pickett and Miss Carol Anderson, physical education instructors sponsoring the club.

Dramatic Reader To Give Program

Sylvia Anne Johnson to Present Lyceum at Senior High School

Sylvia Anne Johnson, dramatic reader, will present her "Feminine Fancies," a repertoire of impersonations, on a lyceum program of Appleton High school Monday afternoon. Her program is one of unusual variety, containing sketches of modern life as well as those of historical interest.

Two of Miss Johnson's most famous readings are "The Patroness" and "Mission Gardens." The Patroness is a young society matron with much natural charm and ability. Miss Johnson dramatizes her four moods. The first takes place in her boudoir where she breakfasts, sends children off to school, quibbles with her husband over unpaid bills, dictates letters and dashes off to her club meeting. The succeeding three show her at typical activities throughout the day.

"Mission Gardens" is the story of Leandra, a young Mexican girl who has waited for her lover three years. At the time of the scene Leandra is sitting in the mission garden and has just finished her wedding shawl. As the bells toll the evening hour she speaks to the padre. While she kneels in prayer her lover returns only to die as she displays the shawl.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of the Chicago Music conservatory. Critics have praised her for her keen sense of the theatrical, calling her "not one woman, but 50."

Four Sets of Triplets Born in State in Year

Washington (P)—Four sets of triplets and 548 sets of twins were born in Wisconsin last year as births exceeded deaths by 24,300, the bureau of census said today.

Births numbering 55,004 resulted in a birth rate of 18.3 per 1,000 estimated population, the bureau declared in a special vital statistics report. The death rate was 10.5, based on 30,704 deaths.

The cancer death rate increased from 13.1 per 100,000 estimated population in 1937 to 14.03 last year, the report said. "The tuberculosis rate dropped from 35.4 in 1937 to 32.1 last year. There was a decrease in the motor vehicle accident rate from 30.5 in 1937 to 24.3 last year."

Governor Heil Grants Pardon to Milwaukeean

Madison (P)—Governor Heil today granted a full pardon to J. Ray Lambor, Milwaukee, who was sentenced to the Milwaukee House of Correction last July 10 on charges of obtaining public relief, under false pretenses. He was committed for six consecutive terms of 90 days each.

The executive office said the charge against Lambor was based on receipt of money by one of his four children who worked on a part time job without his knowledge and that he had offered to repay the relief department $544 in installments.

Toledo Man Accused of Impersonating Officer

Cleveland (P)—United States Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins today ordered Ernest D. West, 45, of Toledo, Ohio, removed to Ohio, where he is accused of impersonating a federal officer.

West was arrested here recently at the request of Ohio federal officers.

They charged that on Sept. 18 West sent a telegram to Akron, O., police directing them to arrest a relative, with whom he had quarreled, for automobile theft. The telegram was signed with the name of a purported F. B. I. agent.

LaFollette Raps 'Casual Manner' of Senate Arguments

Debate Over Repeal of Arms Embargo Is Disappointment as Spectacle

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington (P)—The senate, after 21 days and a mere 953,000 words of debate, is about to rush pell mell into a vote on repealing the arms embargo.

Even that hasty deliberation presents a strong contrast between the workings of a democracy and the way a dictatorship jumps in and does things.

Ninety-six senators have been free to say what they pleased about the measure. Two-thirds of them spoke. The others didn't care to say anything, or were prevented by illness from attending.

For the senate, the debate has struck fairly close to the subject. As a spectacle, however, it has been a disappointment. The right to yawn spread on the senate floor brought a dramatic protest from Senator LaFollette (P-Wis.).

"I stood over there when my father rose in place in the senate (in 1917) in an effort to secure recognition in the closing hours of the filibuster against the armed ship bill. I felt—I saw—the tenseness of that situation."

Scores "Casual Manner" "I knew the rumors which had been going through the cloak room all night long. I knew that certain senators on the floor were armed. I saw the rumormongers toward the rear when he rose in his place in the chamber."

"I shudder when I see the casual manner in which this matter has for the most part been debated."

Yet, though the senators still reserve the right to refuse to listen to a bore, the attendance has been good. The lowest showing by quorum calls has been 77 members. On one day, 93 showed up for three quorum calls.

The quorum call often serves as a signal to senators who are off the floor that the drive they ran out on is finished and that they can come back now; the next speaker, might have something to say. Few ever run out on a LaFollette.

WHBY Equipment Will Be Moved to Appleton

Permission to move the transmitter of radio station WHBY from Green Bay to Appleton has been granted by the federal communications commission, according to the James A. Wagner, manager. The move probably will be made before Jan. 1.

The station will be located in the Irving Zuehlke building on College avenue. The present studios at Green Bay will accommodate WTAQ only.

The communications commission also has been requested to modify the license of WHBY to increase its power from 250 watts daytime and 100 watts at night to 250 watts day and night. No action has been taken on this application.

Lowell Dent Hits Season's High in Refreshment Loop

Series of 592 Helps Eggers Squad Take Over First Place

Refreshment League	W.	L.
Eggers Taverns	12	6
Vendians	11	7
Miller High Lites	11	7
Orange Kists	2	16

New London — Lowell Dent whacked a new high series mark of 592 in the Refreshment league at Prah's alleys last night when he spilled the maples for counts of 168, 213 and 214. He paced Eggers Log Taverns in three wins over the Orange Kists to take over first place in the loop race. Jim Lasley led the losers with 214 and 537.

The Vendians nipped the leading High Lites for two games by scores of 858, 832 and 752 to 688, 773 and 832. C. H. Kellogg captained his squad with a 544 and 200 combination while Earl Frapp's 207 and 516 were high for the High Lites.

Borden League

Joe Marasch rolling for Ostrand set a new high series for the Borden farmer league with a count of 557 in lines of 195, 211 and 151.

The Lebanon quint remained undefeated as they managed three games from the second-place Royalton squad for nine straight wins. Ostrand blanked Bear Creek three games to take second place and force the losers into the cellar with eight games lost. Maple Creek won two from Black Creek.

Epworth Leagues Will Rally Sunday

Waupaca Pastor Will be Speaker at Meeting in New London

New London — The Rev. Edward H. Langdon, Waupaca, will be the principal speaker at the Waupaca county rally of Epworth leagues at the Methodist church here Sunday. About 125 young people are expected from leagues throughout the county.

The Rev. Mr. Langdon will speak at the afternoon rally program after which there will be entertainment and a supper served by the North Side circle of the Dorcas society.

A general initiation will be held in the evening with the Rev. R. R. Holliday, New London pastor, in charge of the candlelight ceremony.

Map Coordination of School Work, Scouting

New London — Men teachers of New London public schools were guests at a troop committee meeting of adult scouts of Troop 2 at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. Methods were discussed for the coordination of school work and scouting activities and teachers agreed to assist scouts in their merit badge program wherever possible.

Clarence H. Engberg, Appleton, Valley Council scout executive, spoke to the group on scout organization and activities. The discussion followed a 6:30 lunch served by wives of the committee members.

Trucker Is Fined for Violating State Rule

New London — Marvin Hill, route 2, Clintonville, paid a fine of $3 and costs in police court of Justice Fred J. Rogers Thursday morning for operating a truck in a taxable operation without first paying the tax. He was arrested Wednesday by James Morrissey, state traffic inspector, and pleaded guilty to the charge.

Raymond Quant Named Head of Frosh Class

New London — Raymond Quant was elected president of the freshman class of Washington High school at election of officers Thursday afternoon. Mae Dawn Hammerberg was voted vice president; Audrey Leppla, secretary; Gerald Sanders was named class delegate to the student council.

Blaze in Automobile Destroys Seat Cushion

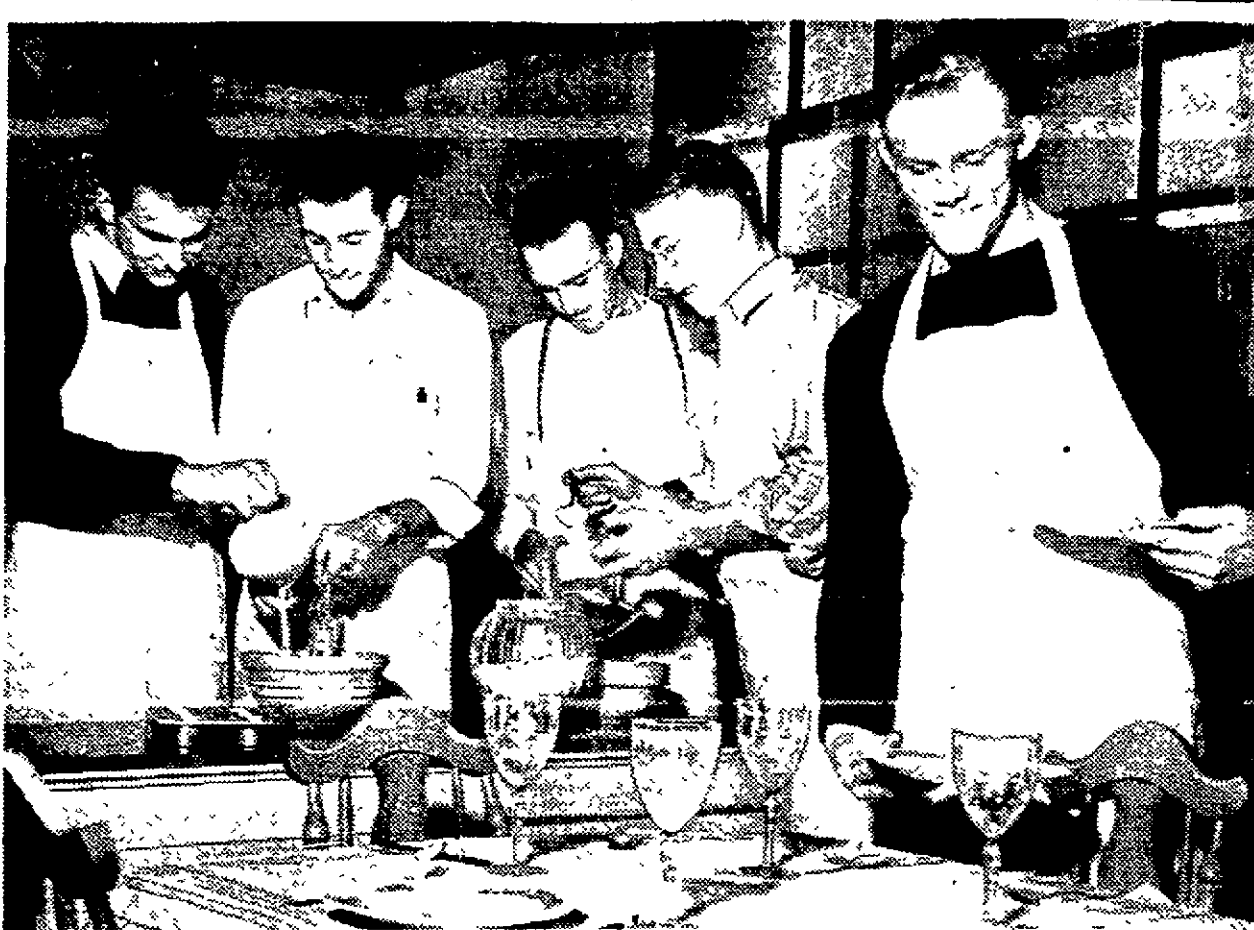

New London — Fire of unknown origin consumed the rear cushion of an automobile owned by Donald Goodwin about 6:55 Thursday morning. The car was parked beside his home at 808 Waupaca street, when the flames were discovered. The fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

Production of Milk And Butter Showed Drop in September

Chicago — (P) — Abnormally high temperatures and lack of moisture, with the resulting deterioration of pastures, brought sharp decreases in milk and butter production during September in the Seventh Federal Reserve district, the reserve bank's research and statistics department reported Friday.

"The record decline in pasture condition was accompanied by the sharpest September decrease in milk production in the 15 years for which such statistics are available," the report said.

"This was reflected in a greater than seasonal reduction of 21 per cent in creamery butter production by district firms to a level 11 per cent below the September, 1938, make. Estimates for the country as a whole indicate closely similar trends. September sales of butter by district firms were 12 per cent lower than in August and 13 per cent lighter than a year ago."

Adding that cold-storage holdings declined in September, the report said butter prices continued firm through the first three weeks of October, "in contrast to trends in some other farm products."

The bank noted a September decline of about 10 per cent in production of American cheese in Wisconsin, with an increase of the same proportion in distribution of cheese from primary points in the state. "With seasonal decreases in production and unusual reductions in cold-storage holdings, the statistical position of cheese remained favorable and prices continued firm," the report concluded.

Change Made at Business Places

Weyauwega — A number of changes are planned for the business district in Weyauwega. Two new business men established themselves here during the last month and two more will locate here in the near future.

A deal was closed this week whereby Mrs. Dorothy Irlbeck disposed of her interest in the People's Bakery on Main street to Kenneth Pautz of Appleton, who will take possession and begin operating the plant on Nov. 1. Mr. Pautz has purchased the equipment and Mrs. Irlbeck retains ownership of the building.

Mr. Pautz and family will occupy the rooms over the Bakery shop. The Irlbecks came here from Marshfield and conducted the bakery business for the last 18 years. Mrs. Irlbeck died last June. Mrs. Irlbeck and family will occupy their cottage at White Lake while their new home is under completion on E. Main street.

After having conducted a general merchandise business in this city for the last 37 years, Ben Wiener, owner of the Boston Store, is going out of business because of ill health. Mr. Wiener came to this community as a young man, starting in with a pack on his back. He went from house to house and stopped where he might overlook him.

After a few years of peddling in partnership with his late brother, Isaac, he bought the general merchandise store at the corner of Main and Mill streets, which, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire in 1933. A year later they opened a store in their present location. Isaac died two years ago. Mr. Wiener has ren'd his store to J. C. Chalmerson of Cranford, who will be ready for business by the first of the year.

A new law firm Johnson and Anderson, is now located over the Farmers and Merchants bank. Attorneys John Kyle Anderson and Richard E. Johnson are both Waupaca county boys and were graduated from Wisconsin university.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bammel have returned from their wedding trip and now occupy the upper flat in the R. A. Hutchinson residence on S. Mill street. The former is manager of the new funeral home on N. Mill street.

Mrs. I. J. Rieck entertained a group of friends at cards at her home Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Harold Clark's birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Charles Lossie and Mrs. Ron Murray returned from Chicago Wednesday where the former was called because of the critical illness of her sister.

5,000 Persons Attend Festival At Clintonville

Association of Commerce Sponsors Second Fall Event

Clintonville — A crowd estimated at 5,000 persons was served at the armory Wednesday noon when the Association of Commerce gave a luncheon in connection with the second annual Fall Festival. Carl Schroeder, manager of the Lauerman store, was general chairman of the event, which was attended by a larger crowd than last year's. A program of entertainment opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued throughout the afternoon and evening. Guessing contests were conducted during the day at each store and business place along Main street. Prizes were awarded for farm produce. The tug-of-war between the townships of Larrabee and Matteson was won by the latter. The grand prize was won by Ben Peterson, route 2.

Attorney Otto Olen of this city is confined to the hospital at Black River Falls, where he was taken following a heart attack which he suffered while enroute to Rochester, Minn., where he expected to enter the Mayo brothers hospital for treatment. Mrs. Olen has gone to Black River Falls to be with her husband who will remain in the hospital for two weeks.

A daughter was born Wednesday, Oct. 25, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Juedes of Oshkosh at the Mercy hospital. Mrs. Juedes is the former Sylvia Bodoh of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Strutz, Eighth street, are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, Oct. 24.

Debating Begun At Manawa High

Eight Students Thus Far Entered in Competition at School

Manawa — Debating was organized at Manawa High school this week with eight students signifying their interest in the activity, which is entirely extra curricular. The group consists of three juniors, Gordon Barrington, Bruce Brown and Floyd Esche; four sophomores, Robert Barrington, Lowell Feathers, Bernice Redmann and John Seffern, Jr., and one freshman, Marion Manuskus. More participants are expected before active work begins.

The question this year is, "Resolved: That the federal government should own and operate the railroads." The first debate will be held before the Manawa Woman's club Nov. 23. This debate will be a non-decision discussion by two Manawa teams. The first inter-scholastic event will be the annual freshman-sophomore tournament at Shawano early in December.

As part of their study of the question, the debaters will hear a radio debate over a coast to coast broadcast Nov. 15. Two-man teams will be used again this season.

Much the same as every year, the seniors are already considering things that pertain to graduation. Recently a salesman of announcement cards was at the school. A senior class meeting was called and the students selected the style of cards they prefer. The graduating class also voted to have caps and gowns following an example set by the two previous classes.

The soccer football tournament now underway in the physical education classes show the following standings: Navy and Northwestern tied for first with two wins and one tie; Army second, one win and two losses, and Notre Dame third, three losses.

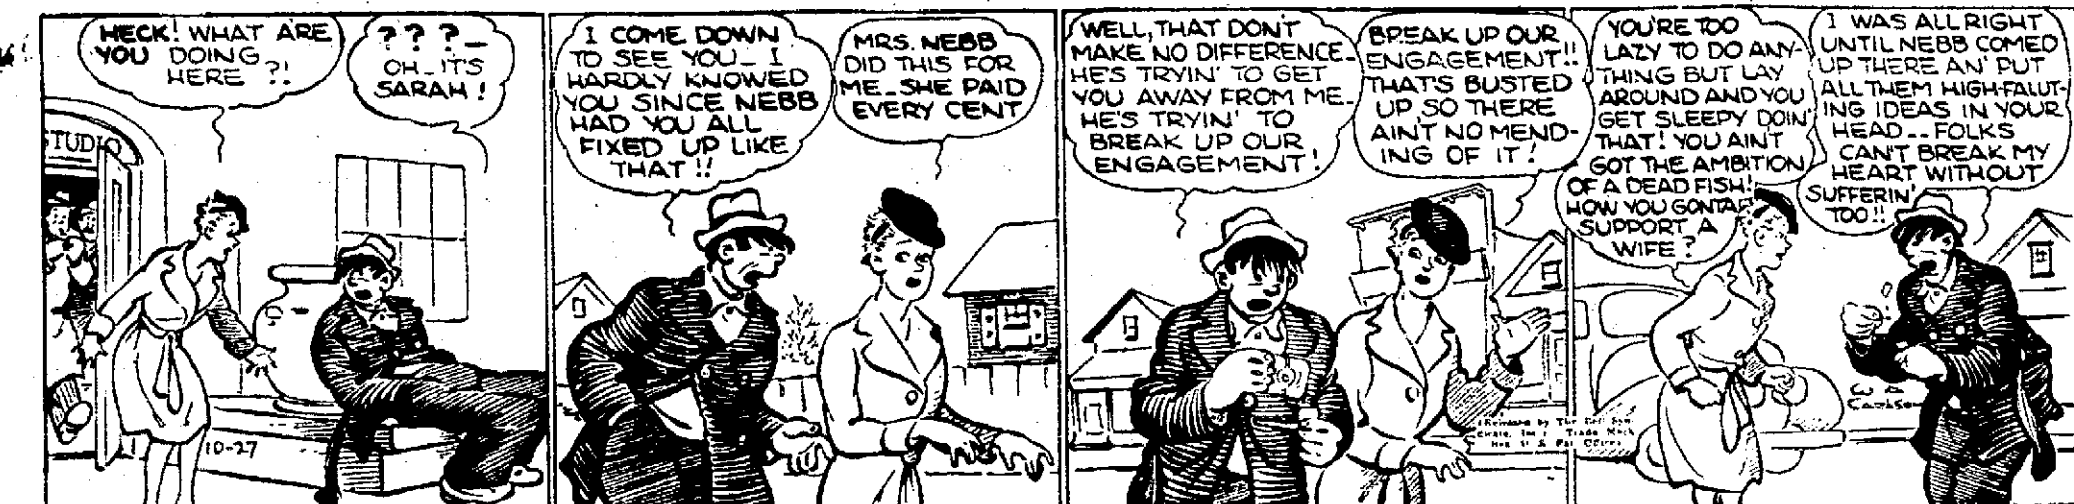

Schools will be closed Thursday and Friday next week to permit the faculty members to attend the state teachers convention at Milwaukee.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

SWISS REPUBLIC
Switzerland! It is a nation where travelers like to go. It is a place of friendly ways and good cheer. It is a land of lovely mountains and charming valleys.
In area, Switzerland ranks above either Holland or Belgium, but does not have so many people as either of those countries. The population is about 4,100,000.
The Swiss supply a living proof that people of different nations can join together and get along well. Switzerland's people are of German, French and Italian descent. They have not always agreed about all points, but they have kept their nation's freedom through the centuries.

Switzerland has freedom of religion. People can go to church, or stay away, as they please. Protestants, Catholics and Jews follow their own faiths.
The chief officer of the Swiss government is the president. He is chosen for a term of one year. Swiss voters choose their law-makers by popular vote. The law-makers meet in Bern, the capital city.
Since two-thirds of the people of Switzerland speak German as their "mother tongue," there has been fear that Adolf Hitler might see Switzerland as a prize to add to his growing empire.
It is possible that such a thing is planned, but we may feel sure that the Swiss will not agree to it. They want to stay together in the fine little nation which is theirs now. In the World War, they did not join Germany, and it does not seem at all likely that they would now want to take Hitler's side.
Switzerland is peace-loving, but the people have seemed ever-willing to defend their country from an invader. It is not certain that such a small country could keep out the armies of a large and powerful nation, but the Swiss have mountains to help them. To pass through a country of mountains means the use of passes or low valleys between the peaks. These are more easy to defend than flat country.
Many of the Swiss make their living by farming. They raise cattle, poultry, fruit, wheat, rye, oats and potatoes. The dairy industry is important, and Swiss cheese is justly famous.
The Swiss are experts in making watches. They also manufacture a great deal of jewelry.

College Avenue Lined With Flags on Navy Day

College avenue was lined with American flags today in observance of the 164th anniversary of the establishment of Navy day and the birth anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt.

The navy was established by the continental congress in 1775 and today is observed as a tribute to the past and present services of the navy during the last 164 years.

nightfall, an overwhelming majority turned aside today an amendment to ban armed merchant vessels and submarines of belligerent nations from United States ports. The measure, which they hope to get before Congress next week, was defeated by a 2-1 vote in the Senate version—a neutralization bill having been passed by the House last session. The House voted 2-1 to send to the Senate a bill to suspend the arms embargo effort will be made to send it to a Senate-house conference by a simple order from the rules committee, which is to meet Monday.

Limited Embargo

rather than agree to the senate's expected amendments.

If all goes well to that point less than a week will be required for all plans for the house, to debate embargo repeal and other controversial issues "not more than 10 days." With further senate-house conferences it is expected by leaders that the measure will be in final form by Friday night of next week.

In the senate galleries were crowded and what might be the last hand for what might be the last day of historic debate on the neutrality bill.

Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), an administration spokesman, opposed Clark's amendments as modifications of legislation whereas he argued, for the country's interests, would be better served by permitting the president to fix regulations under which armed merchantmen and submarines could enter the United States ports. This authority, already vested in the president, would be retained in the bill.
